THE African National Congress is conducting an inquiry into a controversial internal document which recommend: that president Nelson Mandela be sidelined.

The AN C has dismissed the document as "mischievous" and "divisive". It indicates a "clear intention of trying to undermine the organisation, sow divisions among the leadership, exacerbate existing tensions within broader society

0

and ultimately delay the process of tunn-formation".

The document, in The Weekly Mail's possession, is entitled "State of the Nation: The road to victory, the path to power". Probably written before the whites-only March referendum. the document has only surfaced in ANC circles in recent weeks, causing ripples through the organisation. ANC spokesmen Gill Marcus has continued that attempts are underway to trace its origins.
