UNIVERSITY OF NATAL

GRADUATION/DIPLOMA CEREMONY

1998

FRIDAY 8 MAY

18h00

PIETERMARITZBURG

THE ARMORIAL BEARINGS

(see front cover)

The armorial bearings of the University of Natal were awarded by the College of Arms in London.

The two black wildebeeste come from the arms of the Province of Kwazulu-Natal. They are shown in full course to symbolise movement and progress.

The two open books represent the universal heritage of knowledge and the two centres of the University, Durban and Pietermaritzburg.

The five-pointed star refers to the naming of Natal by Portuguese navigators when they landed for the first time at Durban on Christmas Day in 1497. Stella Aurorae, star of the dawn, symbolises the role of the University in bringing to light new knowledge and spreading the enlightening influence of education.

CONVOCATION

After being capped by the Chancellor, each graduate moves across the stage and hands to the President of Convocation or his/her representative a hood incorporating colours that indicate the degree being awarded and the Faculty in which it is being awarded. The President of Convocation places the hood upon the graduate's shoulders, and, at the end of the ceremony, after the Chancellor's procession has left the stage, leads a procession of the new graduates out of the hall, row by row, to symbolise their acceptance into, and future membership of, the Convocation of the University of Natal, the statutory body through which graduates have the opportunity to play a continuing part in the affairs of their University.

CONFERMENT OF THE DEGREE OF DOCTOR OF LAWS honoris causa UPON
HELEN SUZMAN

Helen Suzman was born in Germiston in 1917. She enrolled at the University of the Witwatersrand, then got married at the age of nineteen, and a few years later returned to complete her degree. In 1941 she started working for the War Supplies Board as a statistician, and in 1944 was appointed lecturer in Economic History at the University of the Witwatersrand.

She became interested in human rights issues and in the laws which applied to Africans living in urban areas. In 1953 she was elected as the United Party MP for Houghton.

Six years later she and a number of the more liberal UP MPs broke away to form the Progressive Party. In the 1961 election she was the only "Prog" to retain her seat. Then began a remarkable period of thirteen years in which she was the only member of the South African parliament to oppose strongly the Nationalist government as it introduced legislation to implement apartheid and to enforce more and more stringent "security" measures. She worked very hard, gathering information and speaking often in parliament, but also seeing things for herself - people in townships and "resettlement" camps, for example, and political prisoners in jails.

She was disliked and disapproved of by those she opposed, but she was admired by liberal supporters, by certain sections of the press, and by the oppressed themselves. She was also widely acclaimed internationally.

In 1974 several other Progressives gained seats in parliament, and at about the same time oppressed South Africans began to find successful ways of asserting themselves. Mrs Suzman's task became a little easier, but she continued to play a crucial role in South African politics.

Among the honours that she has received are honorary degrees from many universities, including Oxford, Harvard and Columbia; the freedom of the City of Washington D.C.; and human rights awards from the United Nations, from New York, and from the International League for Human Rights. She has twice been nominated for the Nobel Peace Prize. There exist now a Helen Suzman professorship at the University of the Witwatersrand and a Helen Suzman Foundation.

The University of Natal honours Helen Suzman for the heroic courage, dedication and eloquence that she displayed at the darkest moment in South African history.

THE CHANCELLOR

"Chancellor" is an office that goes back to antiquity; the original cancellarius regulated access to the Roman Tribune. In medieval times, the office became associated with the heads of the writing departments of early kings. Because so few people were literate, a chancellor was automatically learned. This explains why heads and spokesmen of the early universities were also accorded the title. More recently, the office has become largely symbolic. The executive head of a university is its vice-chancellor.

Archbishop Hurley is the current Chancellor of the University of Natal. His predecessors are: The Honourable D G Shepstone (1949-1966), Dr G G Campbell (1967-1973), Dr B A Armitage (1973-1983), and the Honourable R N Leon QC (1983-1992)

THE MACE

The Chancellor's Mace, generally referred to as "The Mace", is used on ceremonial occasions presided over by the Chancellor and is regarded as the Chancellor's staff of "office". It symbolises the University's protection of its Chancellor.

The use of the mace as a symbol of authority has a long history. The head of a copper mace, which apparently dates back to the 12th century before Christ, has been excavated at Beyce Sultan in Asia. In the early centuries, churchmen who went to war often carried a mace in preference to a sword. One side of the mace-head was beautifully decorated with the owner's emblem and on the other side was a large knob which served as a weapon, and was always round so that the church law never to shed blood was always carefully observed! In the early centuries the mace was a symbol of the king's authority. During the power struggle between the king and the Commons in the 13th century, the king gave the speaker the mace as a symbol of his indemnity against arrest.

The Mace was designed by Mr G H Atkins, senior lecturer in sculpture in the University's Department of Fine Arts, was made in England and was first used at the 1970 graduation ceremonies.

Gaudeamus Igitur

Gaudeamus igitur, juvenes dum sumus;
Gaudeamus igitur, juvenes dum sumus;
Post jucundam juventutem, post molestam
senectutem,
Nos habebit humus, nos habebit humus.

Ubi sunt qui ante nos in mundo fuere?
Ubi sunt qui ante nos in mundo fuere?
Vadite ad superos transite ad inferos,
Ubi jam fuere, ubi jam fuere.

Vita nostra brevis est, brevi finietur:
Vita nostra brevis est, brevi finietur:
Venit mors velociter, rapit nos atrociter,
Nemini parceretur, nemini parceretur.

Vivat Academia, Vivant Professores,
Vivat Academia, Vivant Professores,
Vivat membrum quodlibet, vivant membra
quaelibet,
semper sint in flore, semper sint in flore.

ACADEMIC DRESS

The wearing of gowns by judges, ministers, teachers and scholars is an ancient and impressive custom. When the graduating students at universities receive their diplomas or degrees, they, too (and perhaps, for some, only this once in their lives), wear the caps and gowns of this long tradition. By wearing the ancient regalia, they hold hands with students past and students present.

In modern times the standard cap and gown are almost universally worn. Of all the components of the costume, the hood conveys the greatest amount of information: it makes clear the level of the degree, the faculty in which it was given, and the institution which awarded it.

A BRIEF HISTORY OF THE UNIVERSITY OF NATAL

In 1910, partly on the initiative of the Natal Colonial Government, the Natal University College (NUC) opened its doors in a corrugated iron annexe behind Maritzburg College. Eight professors taught 57 students Classics; English and Philosophy; Law; Modern Languages; Botany and Geology; Chemistry and Physics; Mathematics; and Zoology. In 1912 the Old Main Building at Scottsville opened.

In 1922 the NUC extended its activities to Durban with university level courses in commerce and engineering taught at the Technical College. In 1932 Howard College was opened on the Durban Berea, firmly establishing the dual-based character of the NUC.

As a result of the initiatives of the Fabian Socialist, Dr Mabel Palmer, 19 "Non-European" students were enrolled at NUC in Durban in 1936. This grew to nearly 900 by 1960, thus firmly establishing the principle that the NUC would serve the needs of the whole community. However, like the Medical School, founded in 1951 for African, Indian and "Coloured" students, classes still reflected the segregated nature of the surrounding society. The National Party's Extension of University Act of 1959 limited new enrolments other than those at medical school to Whites and brought a temporary halt to the University's aim of serving the educational needs of the whole community and severely restricted the autonomy achieved when the NUC became the University of Natal in 1949. Only when racial restrictions were partially lifted in 1983 could the University resume its task of serving the whole community. Since then it has welcomed increasing numbers of Black students who now make up the majority of the student body.

In 1952, Dr E G Malherbe, who had steered the NUC towards being a fully independent University in 1949, moved the administrative function from Pietermaritzburg to Durban. In 1973, in response to mounting travelling costs, the two Centres were academically separated. Each Centre came to have parallel faculties of Law, Humanities, Commerce, Science and Social Science. The teaching of Architecture, Engineering, Medicine and Music was, however, limited to Durban, and Agriculture, Theology and Fine Art to Pietermaritzburg.

The University of Natal has had some outstanding persons as Vice-Chancellors and Principals. The first principal, John Bews, was a world-renowned botanist and E G Malherbe was known throughout the world as an outstanding educationalist. In 1993 the University of Natal was the first university in South Africa to appoint a woman, Professor Brenda Gourley, as its Principal. The largely ceremonial Chancellors too, have been distinguished, not least of all the present incumbent, Archbishop Denis Hurley. Alumni include people as diverse as Alan Paton, Steve Biko and Alec Erwin. Honorary Graduates include Roy Campbell, Abdullah Ebrahim and Nelson Mandela.

In its 1989 mission statement the University of Natal affirmed its determination to "serve all sections of its community through excellence in scholarship, teaching, learning, research and development". 1997 and 1998 sees the University creatively responding to the challenge of a fast-changing environment. As a result of the possibilities provided by interdisciplinary studies as well as financial constraints it has become possible and necessary to rationalise academic, executive and support functions across the two Centres. This will enable the University to become more efficient and fulfil its mission well into the 21st century.

National Anthem of South Africa

Nkosi sikelel' iAfrika
Maluphakanyisw' uphondo lwayo
Yizwa imithandazo yethu
Nkosi sikelela
Thina lusapholwayo.

Morena boloka
Setjhaba saheso
Ofedise dintwa lematshwenyeho.

O se boloke, O se boloke
Setjhaba saheso
Sethjaba sa, South Afrika,
South Afrika.

Uit die blou van onse hemel
Uit die diepte van ons see
Oor ons ewige gebergtes
Waar die kranse antwoord gee
Sounds the call to come together
And united we shall stand
Let us live and strive for freedom
In South Africa our land.
