BRIEFING ON THE PEACE PROCESS

NOVEMBER 1991

INTRODUCTI '

This briefing document is intended to update the ANC membership on progress made since the National Peace Convention which was held on the 14th September 1991.

Some of the structures which are envisaged by the Peace Accord have since been established. It is important for us to put the necessary structures in place so that together with other signatories, we can be in a position to promote the aims and spirit of the accord.

* THE NATIONAL PEACE COMMITTEE {NPC}:

In terms of the National Peace Accord, the NPC has the final responsibility for the development and maintenance of the peace process, and to promote the aims and Spirit of the Accord.

The Full NPC was constituted and includes delegates from the following parties, governments and organisations:
