ALFRED FRIENDLY

September 7, 1962

Mrs. Adelaide Tambo
9a, Cholmeley Park
London, N.6, England

Dear Mrs. Tambo:

I was surprised and very pleased indeed to have your letter of August 27. Nadine had already told me of your thanks for what little I was able to do for you a couple of years ago, but it was pleasant to have word directly from you.

Having seen just a little of South Africa, enough to know that its physical climate is as delightful as its political climate is the opposite, I can appreciate how dreary and unappetizing London must be. We can all hope with you that the time will come when South Africa will welcome both your and your husband's return.

In the meantime, I hope you can persuade Mr. Tambo to bring you to the United States, which I am sure you would love as much as he. Then we could get to know each other personally.
