Dumela Ntate,

A brief note once again written hurriedly in a rush to clear my desk before taking a short break for the much needed rest. I haven't had a holiday for four years.

This letter is meant to accompany a copy of the first issue of our publications; "Beyond Apartheid" which will come out shortly after I have left.

Depending on the ever-elusive funds coming our way at last; the SAERT working papers are to be developed into a regular journal on policy oriented socio-economic research.

You may not find the time to go through the papers however, the editorial note should give you an idea of the issues addressed.

Well Dad, there is a whole pile of pending letters to clear up; so this should be your lot for now.

Greetings and best wishes
