INVITATION

Political Club - Tolerance Is Shown Through Action

Wherever people live together, their peaceful coexistence is subject to considerable pressures. Opposing groups and their fronts are forming. Germans and foreign nationals, Gentiles and Jews, East and West, black and white, North and South, Christians and Moslems, China and Tibet - the list can be extended at will. Unfortunately. But fortunately there are always people who manage to disempower the vicious circle of hostile images and intolerance - people who through the force of their personalities, their place in life, and their behavior between two senseless fronts, embody and live this peaceful coexistence. They are political because their convictions have a political effect. They are models because they have another internal image of coexistence, and they convey this image to others.

We cordially invite you to our event
