JOHANNESBURG July 12 Sep-

The contention that the causes of violence in South Africa would not be found in New York, Dakar or Europe. Foreign Affairs Minister

P. W. Botha.

P. W. Botha said on Sunday night.

He was speaking to journalists at Johannesburg Airport shortly before his departure for New York where he is to attend a United Nations Security Council emergency debate on the violence in South Africa on Wednesday.

Although he welcomed the international community's interest in South Africa "no outsiders but South Africans themselves cut the road to the future: facing this country".

"We in South Africa are now an open society with open borders and we welcome the international mission: from all over the world. We will welcome foreign advice on how to curb the violence." Mr Botha said.

Referring to the African National Congress delegation -- headed by ANC president Nelson Mandela: -- also on their way to New York.

Mr Botha said he expected the organisation would mount an assault on the South African Government at the security council meeting.

"I welcome this opportunity to go and state the facts objectively and also to own up to our faults."

Asked what decisions he expected from the meeting. Mr Botha:

said he had no doubt the security council would tell South Africa to get back to the negotiating table.

In a light vein. Mr Botha quipped that he would not be taking

TPA, OFSPA Threatened With "Overthrow"

JOHANNESBURG July 11 Sept

The provincial administration of the Transvaal and Orange Free State will be overthrown by "the people" if the more than 700 dismissed hospital workers are not reinstated by Friday July 17, according to the National Education. Health and Allied Workers Union.

The Union's general secretary, Mr Phillip Dexter, told a news conference workers would dismiss the administration's attempt by "chasing them out".

Nehru would, in the meantime, call on all Congress of South African Trade Unions and other unions to merge the two provincial administrations into reinstating the sacked workers.

Referring to the Civic Association of the Southern Transvaal threat to close hospitals. Mr Dexter said while patients and professional workers would be allowed to enter, only "black labourer!" and manager: would be prevented.

He emphasised' the occupation of TPA and OFSPA hospitals would only affect the administration buildings. not the patients. Neluwa did not want to hinder patients' care. he said.

"Health care should obviously be in the hands of the people."

Mr Dexter wanted the workers would defend themselves if the police and defence force intervened. He said the police will win!!! would be put off the message called for by the African. National Congress.

He said if the administration reheated the workers before Friday. the union would not take the action.

Another Deadlock in Toyota Strike Talks

DURBAN July 10 Sqa

Talks between Toyota and the National Union of Metalworkers of SA to end a strike at the company's Port Elizabeth plant broke down again on Friday afternoon and the company will now start employing replacement workers.

Toyota dismissed 6000 workers on Monday when they failed to meet an ultimatum to return to work after an illegal unofficial strike.

In a statement on Friday night IFTU spokesman said the company was led to believe the 99th issue of the dispute was resolution of workers during the 17-day strike. but the union insists on new demands.

"Negotiations broke down when it became apparent that NUM and its members rejected the company offer to settle the grievance of two employees on suspension."

The two employees in dispute were on strike steward dismissed for inciting others. The union said it would not accept a settlement by NUM members.

NUM sought to unconditionally reinstate an agreement which states that any strike by an illegal union is prohibited and that NUM and Toyota found it unacceptable. The statement added.

"The company has no alternative but to begin re-starting its production operations," the statement concluded.

Mr Nyeti nit! the ANC would resume nuts without their demands having been met.

Mt Nytl uid Mr de Kieth thight meet only 30 per cent of the ANC's demands. which included the establishment of an interim government end action to stem township violence.

The liberation movements should have mobilised an indefinite steyewey by worker: until M: de Kieth blinked, he Slid, adding that the ANC' locked the neeeuuy structures to do so. he added "The tragedy of the Convention for a Democlttic South Africa (Codan) is that the ANC and the Pan Atricanist Congress have no leverage on the South African government beoeuu they miujttddged the situation."

Mt Halt urged Zimbabwe net to wait for an acceptable poutieel settlement before finalising I fnvouteble trade Agreement with its neighbour.

"Competitors would get that! of Zimbabwe and uke over its potential mutton." he nid.

ANC ON FINANCIAL SACNTIONS

It has come to the Ittention of the ANC thlt some South African puutatnle ue uein ptepuing to raise bond issues on the European money markets. It is appropriate that we remind both these pemtetm end the bmkm involved thn this it e mgmtt violation of fmmciel emetions which temlin in force until an Interim Government requests that they be lifted. in term: of decision of both the Commonwealth and the UN General Assembly.

The Government's intransigence in negotiations has pushed the implementation of an Interim Government further into the background.
The ANC restates its commitment to the establishment of an Interim Government and consequently securing democratic elections soonest.

In view of these circumstances and the imminent meeting of the UN Security Council to discuss South Africa. we wish to appeal to European banks not to become involved in any bond issue to South Africa, whether for Government or private. until an Interim Government is firmly in place.

Frees Statement on Muimhu Handover

HANDOVER CEREMONY OF THE ANC: SETTLEMENTS

MAZIMBU AND DAKAWA TO THE PEOPLE AND

GOVERNMENT OF TANZANIA.

Oliver Tembo, on behalf of the ANC, yesterday handed to Ail' Hum Mwalituli, the President of Tanzania, the ANC motto of MEIER; 3'13 DIEM.

The ceremony with 300 guests took place in Mazimbu, iteef, which is situated 200m South West of Datvee-Seium.

The people of Tanzania are inheriting from the ANC the two great educational establishments built by the ANC. They include primary and secondary schools. A vocational mining centre, in addition to a fully comprehensive small hospital. 2 (arms and a number of other industries, which supported the communities, allowing for greater self-reliance. By 1990 the two communities had grown to more than 4 600.

For those involved in the struggle Mazimbu and Dekwe have symbolised the beginnings of a new democratic South Africa, where communities lived and worked in harmony, with equal opportunity and education free from prejudice and oppression. Mazimbu, the first and largest settlement was begun in 1977, expressly for that purpose of providing a just and timely education for the young: who fled the country after the uprising of 1976. All had suffered from the inequities of Buttu education and interrupted schooling. The school, SOMAPCO, named after the 5m executive MK Comblott Solomon Mehlutgu, was begun under the trees but by 1990 it boasted a well equipped creche, primary and secondary school, the latter with 9 modern science, technical, training and other blocks, full dormitory units, multi-purpose hall and library. The school catered for over a thousand students.

Datum, begun in 1982 focused upon adult and vocational education, offering skills in plumbing, electricity, welding and construction besides literacy, language and business studies, in order to further develop ANC members skills and to support the two communities. There were Hublilhod, reputed to be the most modern in Tanzania. And many industries such as: Carpentry and Glassmaking, leather, welding and print and textile wetland and a unit.

The AchHuii-td Solidarity Hospital comprises out-patient facilities (averaging 3 500 per month), X-ray department, 2 operating theatres, pharmacy and fully equipped laboratory. The ANC built this impressive settlement: from scratch. The land, unimproved bush, was generously donated by the Tanzanian Government. At the basic infrastructure of water, electricity, sewerage had to be laid. When one sees the beautifully laid out and well maintained settlements one must but marvel at the success of this initiative (eat).

Besides the construction, many of the fact that all these programmes and institutions were run by ANC members, offering a great learning experience for all who lived there in preparation for playing a valuable role in a future South Africa.

SOMAPCO school initiated a new and relevant curriculum, which should be at the heart of a new South African.

Besides the ANC and Terturim delegations invited guests include: diplomatic representatives from Sweden, Norway, Finland, Denmark, India, Australia, Italy and Nigeria and representatives of many and varied development, aid and solidarity
