Dear Ms. Chinery-Hesse,

We would be very grateful if you would give us, in consultation with the UNIDO Senior Industrial Development Field Adviser covering the area, your frank views of the personal and professional qualities of the former expert who is named above. This reference information will be of great value in considering this former expert for further service, should a suitable opening arise in our Technical Co-operation Programme.

Any observation you consider pertinent will, of course, be appreciated, but we especially need information on the following points:

1. Did the expert's professional and technical qualifications and experience prove sufficient for the task set?
2. Did the expert have the personal qualities to deal easily and effectively with government officials and other nationals of the country and to understand the problems of the area and its people? How do you evaluate the expert's personal relations and interactions with counterpart personnel and how in your opinion did these affect the quality of his or her performance?
3. Was the expert able to formulate ideas clearly and present them in understandable terms in a way to command interest and respect?
4. Were the expert's relations with colleagues and with your own office satisfactory?

5. Did the expert demonstrate, in the performance of his or her duties, administrative, training or other managerial skills of a high level? How important in your view were such skills to the attainment of the assignment objectives, and how did the possession of these capabilities influence the outcome of the expert's mission?

6. If your opinion were asked regarding the re-employment of the expert would you recommend the expert with or without reservation?

7. How do you rate the expert's overall performance?

OUTSTANDING_____ VERY GOOD_____ GOOD_____ PASSABLE_____ DOUBTFUL_____

In case the information provided contains parts that fall within the definition of UN Administrative Instruction ST/AI/292 of 15 July 1982 concerning the filing of adverse material in personnel records, these parts may have to be brought by UNIDO to the attention of the former expert. The former expert in turn would have the right to submit comments, if he or she so wishes, which will be placed with the information provided by you or the SIDFA in the Official Status File.

Thank you for your assistance and co-operation.

Yours sincerely,

S.E.S. Giwa
