SCHOOL NOTES

Easter Term opened on February 2nd with 372 Boarders and 7S Day Boys. Such names as Campbell, Collett, Coombs, Creighton, Dugmore, Kellner, Kneen, Knott, Letcher, Roderick, Newcombe, Smale, Stephenson, Tucker, Tarr, Weir, and Whitehead among our new entries maintain the old family associations with the School.

The Old Baptist Manse at the corner of Napier Street, recently purchased, was hastily adapted for the accommodation of boys, and together with the annexe in Burton Street was reconstituted as the Intermediate House under the control of Mr. and Mrs. Anton Murray, with Mrs. Meinesz as House Matron.

* * * * *

Mr. Anton Murray was selected for the fifth Cricket Test beginning on February Sth but by that time the new House had settled down to routine. The first and second Kingswood elevens and the Colts were allowed to visit the Test at Port Elizabeth on Saturday, February 6th, but unfortunately struck a very dull â\200\234safety firstâ\200\235 dayâ\200\231s cricket. South Africa warmed up on the following Tuesday and forced a victory.

k * ok ok *

We welcome this term Mr. K. N. Watson, who will be remembered as an outstanding Kingswood athlete, boxer, Rugby and Cricket player of some ten years ago. While at Stellenbosch University Mr. Watson frequently played for the Western Province Rugby side, and was selected for the Springbok trials. All Kingswoodians will wish him and Mrs. Watson cordial greetings.

Xk * * * *

We are fortunate also in securing the services of Mr. John Stonier, B.Sc., U.E.D., of Rhodes University, who impressed us all last year by his personality and ability whilst doing temporary teaching at Kingswood. He is at present acting as Assistant in Jacques House, and is helping with duties and sports.

Mr. John Fisher was married to Miss Mary Howell of the D.S.G. in December last, as previously announced, and decided to return to the Cape and teach at Rondebosch Boys' High School. We wish him and Mrs. Fisher every happiness and success. We have luckily found a very experienced and efficient senior Latin teacher in Mrs. L. H. Paterson, who has tackled the job with calm courage.

cd ok * * *

Colonel A. F. Murray, who will be well remembered in Grahams-town as an outstanding teacher before he gained fresh distinction in the Army, volunteered for part-time instruction in Afrikaans in the Matriculation Class, and there is no doubt that his pupils will profit greatly by his thorough knowledge.

* * * * *

The Overseas touring party, under the guidance of Messrs. C. B. Dacam and G. J. Salvesen returned safely on February 13th after a happy two months absence from the Union. The winter sports in Europe were of course an attractive novelty; whilst in England they entertained Mr. and Mrs. Redfern in London, visited Christ's Hospital, Horsham, and Kingswood School, Bath, but were unable to play any Rugby matches owing to the frost-bound grounds.

a a * ok *

Mr. Ken H. Douglas has been on leave for the first term, but has frequently visited the School to assist the organisation of Agricultural Science as a Matriculation subject. Next term it is Mr. Denis Butler's turn to go on leave, and during his absence Mr. Douglas will take charge of School House.

* 2 * * *

Foundation Day celebrations brightened up one mid-term week-end, and it was very pleasant to see so many old friends on the school premises, not to mention wives and lady friends. The threatening weather prophesied by Mr. du Toit, the climate expert, just managed to hold off till Sunday, but many O.K.s motoring home were caught by flooded roads and drifts.

* * * * *

The Kingswood Brass Band was again honoured by an invitation to play in Port Elizabeth at the annual Agricultural Show, and we have to thank Mr. Arthur Edmunds, O.K., for arranging splendid hospitality.

There were some fears that the uniforms or the music might infuriate the livestock, particularly the bulls; apparently the animals appreciated the Band as much as the spectators. The Band also officiated at the Cadet-Officers passing-out Parade at the Grahamstown Acrodrome, when Colonel A. F. Murray took the salute.

The Swimming Bath has never before been in such demand as during this last term, and although the filtration-plant keeps the water supply fresh, we need a full-sized bath. Would not some wealthy Old Boy like to have his name remembered with the grateful thanks of all future Kingswoodians?

* * 2 *k *

The Swimming Gala was a great success, and a representative team entered for the inter-School contests at Port Elizabeth. This year the Grahamstown girls and boys won most of the events, and two of our boys, Davey and Krog, were selected for the inter-Province Swimming Tournament.

2 * * * *

By kind invitation of the Grahamstown Rotary Club, members of our overseas touring party were entertained to luncheon on Monday, March 29th. Francois van Wyk and R. J. Davis gave short talks on their impressions of life in Europe.

* % * a i

Athletics have been booming again; there is great keenness, but we seem rather short of senior sprinters. Our team at Port Elizabeth did very well, especially in the middle-distance races, putting the shot and high jumps, and gained many certificates. Two of them, N. F. van Schalkwyk and Errol Whitehead, were selected to represent Eastern Province at the National Junior Championships at Kimberley on April 9th and 10th. Van Schalkwyk won the Junior Championship for Putting the Shot with a throw of 44 ft. 63 ins.

* * * * fod

Our own informal Sports Meeting took place on April Othe alin spite of a cold, windy day, and a soft, carpeted track, the general standard of achievement was excellent. Mrs. D. Adams, who for years has been in charge of the First Aid instruction for the Cadet Corps kindly consented to present the cakes to the successful teams.

Mr. G. R. Dowthwaite has continued to produce his excellent film programmes in both the Senior and Junior Schools on various Saturday nights. In addition the boys have been allowed to attend a few outside entertainments, including the Everest film and the famous Puppet Show.

The Headmaster and Mrs. Rich arrived back from overseas leave in the middle of January, after spending a most pleasant autumn in England and on the Continent. They travelled back on the Edinburgh Castle, leaving Southampton on New Yearâ\200\231s Eve, but owing to engine trouble the ship had to return to Plymouth Sound for four days, subsequently making a record trip to Cape Town. Whilst in England they were fortunately able to see Capt. Richards father, who was born in 1861. England's cold February was too much for the old man this year, and he passed peacefully away on February 20th.

ANNUAL PRIZE-GIVING 24 NOVEMBER 1953

The Prize-Giving, which took place in the Memorial Hall, was attended by many friends of the School, parents and students. The Chair was taken by Mr. L. M. L. Dold, Chairman of the Kingswood College Council, who welcomed the guest of honour Mr. Basil Kenyon, the 1951 Springbok Rugby Captain.

After distributing the prizes Mr. Kenyon delighted the large audience by his interesting and humorous accounts of some of his experiences on tour with the Springboks.

The Acting-Headmaster, Mr. J. T. Slater, made the following report:

In the absence of our Headmaster on furlough in Europe it falls to me to submit the annual chronicle of activities and events at Kingswood. Such a report is not the simplest document to compile at any time, nor does it become any easier for an acting-Headmaster who in due course must step down from his temporary pedestal and put his gown and square back into mothball when he may be called by his colleagues to answer for his sins of omission or transmission. But in spite of this risk I welcome the opportunity, after listening to 35 annual reports at Kingswood, to deliver one myself for I remember in those years I have had very strong convictions about the beauty of brevity and the awfulness of academic inanities. Moreover there are one or two general observations which I should very much like to make for, as you know, it is not always that an acting-headmaster however good an actor he may be is given a second chance. In the circumstances, therefore, I trust you will condone a departure here and there from the customary form and content of an annual report.

However, before embarking upon this somewhat hazardous yet none the less fascinating maiden-voyage, may I, sir, associate the Kingswood staff and boys as well as myself with the warm welcome you, Mr. Chairman, have extended to our guest speaker, and may I add our regret that Mrs. Kenyon is not able to be with us as well.

I have been told that Mr. Kenyon at school did not shine particularly at his books; this I know will endear him the more to many of you up there in the gallery; but I have heard too, that he is the finest leader of men ever to captain a Springbok Rugby Team high praise when we recall men like Paul Roos, Theo Pienaar, Danie Craven and our own renowned Bennie Osler!

Unfortunately I have never played against or in the same team with Mr. Kenyon but I have seen our friendly rivals from the Buffalo, the Border XV, three times in fairly recent years defeat strong Eastern Province sides and each time they were led and inspired to a fighting finish by this gentleman who is regarded on the Border and far beyond as a prince of sportsmen. Perhaps he may be of a mind to tell us of some such exploits and we may catch in the telling some clue to the real meaning of that most abstract of abstract qualities â\200\234Leadershipâ\200\235.

But let me get back into position on the field and leave Mr. Kenyon to take his own passes and spot his own openingsâ\200\224lest, through over-keenness, I crowd the star-player in this game on to the touch-line. Stepping Stones.

The kick-off is simple enough, as I recall. One either approves of examinations or deplores them as a horrible evil that tends to undermine the physical and mental health and morale of otherwise happy youth. But to my mind, admittedly rather pedagogically warped, a school without tests would be like a hurdle race without the hurdles and who would suggest removing some or all of these simply because here and there a competitor misses his stride and knocks one over or lacks the nerve and training to take the flight. Is there not perhaps too great a tendency to-dayâ\200\224especially in educationâ\200\224to remove the stepping stones on which we rise to higher things, and to seek to instal an escalator? Examinations are as much a test of character as of knowledge and therefore as indispensable in the making of a balanced bit of humanity, as a race, a rugby match or a radio quiz. It would be just as unfair to place upon the market, say, motor vehicles that have not been tested for performance and durability as it would be to send out into the world as it is to-day boys who had not been tried and testedâ\200\224and please do not imagine that answers om foolscap are the only examinations our products have to negotiate.

However, in the 1952 Matriculation and Senior Certificate examinations 24 pupils passed of whom six gained distinction. It is only honest to say that these results were disappointingâ\200\224owing to a chain of circumstances, some beyond our control. The other have had careful attention and we confidently anticipate a better general standard this year. In the Junior Certificate 47 passed with 16 distinctions.

D. G. L. Cragg, a past pupil who scored six distinctions in Matric in 1949, has been awarded an Open Rhodes Scholarship to Oxford, while David Lowes, who left last year, has gained a Major Bursary at Witwatersrand University. Many other smaller scholarships and awards could be recorded but time is on the wing.

Record Roll.

Inquiries for vacancies continue to pour in and in spite of higher fees, made necessary since September 1952, we have a record roll of 414 all told. This is somewhat above what is considered a sound maximum but will probably have to be increased slightly next year as bookings have been found to exceed vacancies by about a score, and but for the timeous acquisition of the old Baptist Manse this term I cannot imagine what we should have done.

It, with the present Annexe A, will be turned into a temporary Intermediate House for the older juniors and Mr. Anton Murray has been appointed Housemaster.

During the year the improved financial position has enabled the Councilâ\200\224ever eager to ensure that our staff should in no way be at a disadvantageâ\200\224to introduce the full provincial rates of salary and cost-of-living allowances. Salaries of domestic staff and wages of Native employees have also been substantially raised.

At the Kingswood Old Boysâ\200\231 meeting on Foundation Day a special tribute was paid to the Chairman of the Council, Mr. L. M. L. Dold, for his efficient, conscientious and successful direction of College affairs. This I most heartily endorse. Thirty-four years of loyal service on the Council given without thought of personal advantage or reward is a proud record. We are sometimes prone to forget what we owe to the Members of our Controlling Body, particularly those whose proximity means their bearing the main burden and responsibility at many Council and Committee meetings.

Staff Changes.

There have been several staff changes. During Mr. Anton Murrayâ\200\231s absence in Australia with the Springbok Cricket Team Mr. Ivan Gregory, B.A., from Kearsney substituted for him and since, whilst completing his training at Rhodes University, he has helped with the supervision in Jacques House. Mr. Christopher Rooke, M.C., B.A., has been appointed to the permanent staff vice Mr. D. H. Thomson, whilst Mr. T. C. Hartzenberg, B.A., replaced Mr. Badenhorst. Miss Moody returned to duty with a smile to take over from Mr. A. R. Bowes, B.Sc., who was released to take a more senior permanent appointment at Graeme College. Mr. Ken Douglas goes on long leave for the first term next year and on his return takes over as Housemaster in Main House during the second term, when Mr. D. R. Butlerâ\200\231s turn for furlough comes. Mr. J. Stonier, B.A., U.E.D., of Rhodes will substitute for them on the teaching staff. Mr. S. J. Thompson must surely be one of the unluckiest of sportsmen. Twice now he has been selected to represent South Africa at Hockey and both times the trip has been cancelled and he has missed his green and gold blazer! We extend a warm welcome to Miss Ann Slater who, after completing her training-period at Wynberg Junior School, returned to our Preparatory Department to replace Mrs. Sybil Dowthwaite, M.A. for more senior work. Unfortunately the latter will not be able to continue next year. We are most grateful to her for her willingness to fit in and help wherever necessary. Mr. John G. Fisher has accepted a post nearer home at Rondebosch Boysâ\200\231 High and we shall miss him greatly. May we take this opportunity of congratulating him on his impending marriage to Miss Mary Howell of Meadows, O.F.S., and wishing him happiness and success. A successor to take senior Latin has not yet been found. Mr. Kenneth Watson, B.A. (Physical Education) and Teachersâ\200\231 Certificate has been appointed to the junior staff. He is an Old Kingswoodian and ex-Stellenbosch and Western Province wing three-quarter.

One of my resolves anent this report was that it should be shorter than any other I had listened to. I still have this in mind but it is not proving as easy as I imagined it would. So let me turn at once to the most important matterâ\200\224the main focus of our yearâ\200\231s efforts. Our 1953 models are due to come off the assembly lines shortly and very, very proud we are of them! They are not all of the same type—some are built for speed, other for endurance, some are large—others small, none are pretentious. We have been sparing of chromium-plating—but all are roadworthy and able to stand up to normal and even abnormal demands. They have all been checked and tested as to chassis, engine and ignition and are as reliable as we can make them. They each bear the Wyvern badge—easily recognisable anywhere in the land—and we send them out with the utmost confidence. They, mainly, have given us the soundest set of prefects we have had for many years, they have maintained a standard well above the average in conduct and good comradeship and have been the mainstay in our excellent Cadet Corps; and in Rugby, Cricket, Athletics and all the other sports they have been the pattern for the hero-worshipping and imitative juniors. They, chiefly, have kept the College societies going, and made the concerts, plays, debates, and lectures the successes most of them have been; they have played a big part in all the multifarious activities that go to make up a training year at any big boarding school.

What It Takes.

And into the building-up and the adjusting and the inspiring of them in body, mind and spirit have gone the labours of all who make up Kingswood—Council, parents, staff, matrons, servants from the highest to the humblest. And if these our new models prove themselves in 1954 and the years thereafter we shall be more than happy and amply recompensed. Manifestly I cannot mention all that has been done, nor can I very well divide it into that which builds body, that which develops mind and that which enhances the spirit—for these are so intricately intertwined—a rugby game can make you think, beating the big drum in the Band can make you tough, and both can bequeath to you something of —what it takes—but I hope it will not be taken amiss if I make special mention of just a few outstanding contributions:—

1. Mr. C. B. Dacame's six distinctions in Physical Science in Matriculation.

2. Mr. D. R. Butler's quite remarkable 9 A's in Junior Certificate History. Actually there were 21 of his pupils above 70 per cent. In spite of this brilliant achievement, however, I find only two of them have elected to take History for Matriculation. Is this because of the —escalator— mentality or is too high a critical faculty expected by the examiners in the subject at that stage? In spite of the fact that these results were both achieved in factual subjects with clearly defined syllabuses, they have set us all a high target.

3. Mrs. D. Adams's 48 successful Cadet entrants for Red Cross First Aid certificates.

4. Our Ist XV holding this year's powerful St. Andrew's team to 49 pts. in spite of playing most of the second half with 14 men—and our congratulations to St. Andrew's on what must surely be the best rugby season in the great history. We have to search way back to 1924–25 to find anything in our records to equal it.

5. Rev. H. Kirkby's 27 standard times or records in Athletics and that in a year when senior talent is rather sparse.

6. Mr. Water Knight's energetic enthusiasm as President of the Old Kingswoodian Club in which he is able to count upon the wholehearted support of his wife another old W.H.S. girl.

7. Mr. Bennett Brown's outstanding work with the Cadet Brass Band. When a neighbouring friendly City that disputes our claim to leadership in the Eastern Province merely because of its quite astonishing commercial and industrial expansion sees fit to borrow the band for noteworthy occasions, it must be counted a high compliment indeed.

8. The producers of all who took part in or helped with three excellent one-act plays in July Object All Sublime, Midnight to Dawn and Plain Jane an operetta.

9. The organisers of the vacation tour to Europe which will enable a party of about 25 of our boys in charge of two Masters to spend a week in and around London, a week in Switzerland and a week seeing as much of the English Public Schools as possible in so short a time. They will be the guests mainly of Kingswood (Bath) and Christ's Hospital. The party embarks on the Stirling Castle at Cape Town on December 24th and returns by Pretoria Castle in the second week in February.

10. Then I would commend Rodney Raynor, Nimmo Reed and William Todd, College Senior Prefects for the very fine lead they have given throughout the year.

11. And last but not least, our Bursar, Mr. J. H. Keer who, because he is often obliged to be the buffer has to be tougher than anyone else, but whose apparent omniscience and meticulous care in matters of finance, economy and equipment make him as nearly indispensable as anyone can possibly become at Kingswood.

These and many other efforts on the part of all connected with this institution spring from a tremendously strong spirit of loyalty that is innate in her and seems to emanate from a longstanding partnership. Men and women, near and far, speak of the Kingswood spirit as a distinctive mark, and when we humbly rejoice that this is so we remember with gratitude not only our great builders, Gane, Crouch, Williamson, Redfern and Rich with their many able and zealous assistants, but all who have served her through the years particularly the men of the Church that gave us our foundation. Names like Chubb, Jacques, Robb and Wilkinson come to mind from the many there have been, and I do not forget our present ministers and those of the other Churches who follow just as devotedly in the great tradition. Let us hope that neither principality nor power, nor prosperity nor any other thing shall disturb this grand partnership.

Stupendous Problems.

This spirit is fostered in many schools. Would that it could be disseminated far and wide more quickly for it is what is so urgently needed in this land of ours. We are all aware of the stupendous problems that confront us. I shall not enumerate them. I have no ready made solution for even a single one, but I can see the great need for more and more men trained and conditioned physically, mentally and morally, and big enough and unselfish enough to have at least a chance of solving some of themâ\200\224in time. And we must look to Kingswood and the other schools to provide such menâ\200\224men who are fully bilingual and most of them trilingual, for a native language must soon be added if we are to cope with the most urgent matter of all in an understanding, liberal and yet realistic manner. I am no pessimist and I know all birth is pain, more so when it is a new era that is coming into being. And I believe that not round the next corner but somewhere further along our road lies a Federated Southern Africa and maybe ahead, a United States of Africaâ\200\224but the prospect at times is daunting.

And on this long and torturous road there is no one I would rather have for a partner in this greatest of Great Treks than the Afrikaner. His rugged individuality, courage, pertinacity and realism will be just the right counterpart to our often rather easy-going liberalism and sometimes precipitate idealismâ\200\224if we are both imbued with the same spirit and the same sense of destiny, if not as yet of destination! And this is where I am sure Kingswood and similar schools have a part to play far more important in the shape of things to-day than was ever dreamed by those men of vision who founded them. They have a two-fold task, if we English-speaking South Africans are going to pull our full weight in this other great partnership.

English Heritage.

Firstly, we shall want these schools to continue to foster a real love of South Africa and all things good in South Africa, but we shall expect them now more than ever before to be the bastions of our English heritage â\200\224our language and those things in our culture and traditions without which South Africaâ\200\224Republic or notâ\200\224will be immeasurably the poorer. Whether the threat from outside ever proves real or not, there is no doubt whatsoever that our English language faces the greatest danger from withinâ\200\224from dry rot and lingual atrophy. The general standard through contamination and carelessness is steadily dropping. Commercialisms and other -isms do not creep in, but are allowed to troop in, and not infrequently in high places. Comics might be more comic if it were not all so tragic for it has ceased to be a matter of real concern in far too many homes.

Secondly, we shall have to look to these schools for more teachers. Not enough are coming forward and many of those have to be bought as it were, in the open market where expanding industry and commerce are competitive buyers with an unfair advantage. More teachers, too, with a keener sense of vocation are needed and a greater desire to give than to get. One can hardly imagine the old-time missionary asking first what his remuneration or furlough was to be. Such matters always deserve consideration, but surely they should not be of prime importance.

These and other more ominous signs and portends are of the gravest concern to all who have the welfare of our land at heart. They may be symptoms merely of superficial carelessness and sophisticated complacency. Let us hope that it is no worse than this. If not then they can only point to an awful apathy and selfishnessâ\200\224a â\200\234creeping paralysis of the spiritâ\200\235 that will, if not checked and replaced by new faith and hope, render us progressively incapable of bringing a worthy contribution to our South African partnership.

I have failed to be brief and am afraid I have crowded my wing on the touch-line after allâ\200\224I am sorry. It remains for me merely to thank the boys for standing so steadily this term behind the Housemasters and Mr. Dacam and myself and to tell you that Captain and Mrs. Rich are enjoying their well deserved rest in England at present and send you their best wishes for the end of the year and a happy holiday.

KNGSWOOD COLLEGE FOUNDATION DAY

The sixtieth anniversary of the foundation of Kingswood in 1894 was celebrated during last week-end.

The weather which had been threatening on Friday cleared up for a beautiful Saturday, but rain fell heavily on Sunday.

The Annual General Meeting took place at Jacques House with the O.K. President, Mr. W. J. Knight, M.C. in the chair.

The Headmaster welcomed the large assembly of visiting O.K.s who had arrived from every centre between Northern Rhodesia, Durban and Cape Town, and gave a brief review of the progress of the school during the past year. He referred to his approaching retirement at the end of the year, and paid a warm tribute to the loyal support and generosity of the O.K. members. He stated that Kingswood could face the future with confidence, and that there was a very healthy spirit in the school. The increase in numbers of 100 boarders since 1948 had placed the school in a very strong financial position, and £3,000 per year was being spent on the maintenance and upkeep of the grounds and buildings. During the recent vacation a party of boys had been taken on a most enjoyable and instructive Overseas tour and they had created a very good impression wherever they had gone. No fête had been held in 1953, but nevertheless the Memorial Chapel Fund had risen, through interest accrued, to nearly £15,000. It was most important that some decision regarding the Chapel should be made at the 1955 Re-Union.

The meeting stood while the names of O.K.s who had died during the previous year were read:â\200\224Harold Norden Fuller (1897-1900); Walter E. Ball (1899-1900); Percy Lessington Hope (1899-1903); Charles Richard
H. Whiley (1901-1904); Owen Wynne Vice (1907-1909); Maurice J.
Ansley; Marshall Williams Harvey (1912-1915); Geoffrey Francis
Barnes (1913-1917); Leslie Corbett Kernick (1920-1922); Dudley Phillips
(1924); John Alfred Smith (1925-1929); Deneys Reitz Dyter (1931-1934);

Victor Eustace Monson (1946-1947). To these names was added that of Teddy Calvert, who for 50 years had been the School boot-repairer, football critic, and friend to many generations of O.K.s.

Excellent secretarial and financial reports were submitted by Mr. R. Q. Tarr and Mr. Cedric Hiscock, and were adopted with acclamation. Mr. J. T. Slater was unanimously elected President of the O.K. Club for 1954-1955, and received many cordial expressions of good wishes, to which he suitably replied. The other officers and committee members were all re-elected. Mr. W. J. Knight, M.C., and Mr. W. A. Edmunds of Port Elizabeth were elected to fill the two O.K. vacancies on the Kingswood Council.

Arising from this report, Mr. H. Purdon, seconded by Mr. Mur, Mr. I. Roderick, moved a Notice of Motion to amend the Constitution by providing.....

That in future Foundation Day be held on the Saturday nearest to March 14th.

Notices of Motion.

(i) The motion amending para. 4 (b) of the Constitution by providing for the election of Honorary Vice-Presidents of the O.K. Club, was proposed by Capt. C. O. Rich and seconded by Mr. C. Hiscock. The proposer pointed out that the motion was designed to enable the Club to honour the many distinguished and influential O.K.s throughout the country. The Secretary, Mr. R. Q. Tarr, informed the meeting that several Branches had signified their approval in principle to the election of Honorary Vice-Presidents.

(ii) The motion amending para. 12 (c) of the Constitution by the insertion of the word "all" before the words "Active Members of the O.K. Club" was unanimously adopted.

Capt. Rich's Retirement.

A suggestion from the Adelaide Branch of the O.K. Club that a portrait of Capt. C. O. Rich should be painted in oils at the expense of the O.K. Club and donated to the College, received enthusiastic support from the meeting. The incoming Executive Committee was empowered to act in the matter.

The Endowment Fund.

Capt. Rich urged the meeting to approve the principle of reviving the Endowment Fund started when Mr. H. T. Crouch was Headmaster. The Fund had over £2,300 to its credit already. Mr. W. J. Knight pointed out that if a thousand O.K.s could be persuaded to take out small endowment policies in favour of the Club, a very large sum would soon be available for benefitting the College in many ways. The meeting agreed to the principle and empowered the Executive to work out the details.

General Business.

(a) War Memorial Tablet:â\200\224Capt. O. C. Rich, seconded by Mr. R. Q. Tarr, proposed: â\200\234That a tablet in memory of the O.K.s who died in the Second World War be purchased and erected in the gallery of Commemoration Churchâ\200\231â\200\231..... The motion was adopted and the Executive empowered to act.

(b) Notice of Motion:â\200\224Mr. Trevor Fletcher, seconded by Mr. A. V. Poole, gave notice of motion: â\200\234That the Constitution be amended to make provision for the annual election of one or more Vice-Presidents resident in or near Grahamstownâ\200\235.

(c) Votes of Thanks were passed to Mr. W. J. Knight for his outstanding services as President, and to the Honorary Secretaries and Honorary Treasurer. Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Slater were thanked for the use of Jacques House Dining Hall, andâ\200\224in anticipationâ\200\224for the morning tea.

After the meeting, morning tea was tastefully served by Mrs. Slater in the Jacques House Library, where the O.K.s were joined by their wives and friends. O.K.s who dated back to the last century met those who left only last year.

Cricket Matches.
First Teams

C. Jones-Phillipson won the toss for the ninth successive time and opened the Kingswood innings with Purdon to the bowling of John Gush and Don Pearson.

After a confident start Phillipson hit a full-toss from Pearson to cover and was shortly afterwards followed to the pavillion by Badings who touched a vicious Gush inswinger to the wicket-keeper.

When Purdon went lbw to Gush with the score at 13, Kingswood were in trouble, but Keast and A. G. Smith looked safe and added 32 runs in good time before a late call by Smith saw Keast run out. After this unfortunate occurrence nobody settled down and the whole side was out for 71, Gush having taken 4 for 24 with his late swingers. Watson, behind the stumps, had a hand in five dismissals.

The Old Boys went for the bowling from the beginning and Ken Watson and Roy Masterson with 51 and 38 respectively let the Old Boys past the School score with 7 wickets in hand. Watson was indeed lucky to survive Keastâ\200\231s first over to him, but once his eye was in, he hit the ball with tremendous power and profited from the five chances he gave, which were not accepted. His 51 included one six and nine fours.

A feature of the Old Boysâ\200\231 innings was the throwing in of the boys, among whom Keast was outstanding. His run-out of Masterson was accomplished by a 40-yard throw which hit the stumps at the bowlerâ\200\231s end. Scores:â\200\224

O.K. Luncheon

The Memorial Hall and Library had been beautifully decorated by a committee of ladies, with Mrs. R. Q. Tarr in charge of the floral arrangements, and wreaths had been laid at the base of the memorial tablets. About one hundred and sixty O.K.s, wives and friends were served with an excellent luncheon in the Memorial Hall. After the Queen's health had been drunk, Mr. Roy Border proposed the health of the College, and described his impressions of the spirit of the school after thirty years' absence. He touched on the many improvements which had taken place since 1920, but stressed what was more important still, the good name which Kingswood enjoyed in all parts of the country visited by him.

The Headmaster in reply thanked the O.K.s for attending the Reunion in such large numbers, some from very long distances; this was yet another instance of the solidarity of the Club, which had withstood the test of wars, depressions, and internal crises. He maintained that Kingswood was firmly established in prestige, reputation and financial support. This being his last Foundation Day in the chair, he referred to the long and enjoyable contacts he had made since 1920, mentioning his experience under Col. E. G. Gane, and the invaluable help he received in his first years from the late Mr. A. T. Williamson and Mrs. Williamson, and from the late Mr. Gordon Webster.

Mr. Pat McGahey, in an amusing speech, proposed the health of the O.K. Club, coupled with the name of the new President, Mr. J. T. Slater. He described humorously his years at Kingswood, and paid an eloquent tribute to the valuable services of Mr. and Mrs. Slater. He also mentioned the trouble taken by the Grahamstown executive to keep in touch with all O.K.s during the second world war, a kindness which he had never forgotten.

Mr. Slater responded by thanking the O.K.s for the compliment they had paid him by electing his President of the Club. He described in moving terms his long association with the retiring Head, Capt. Rich. For nearly thirty-four years they had worked together at Kingswood and although they often differed over questions of policy on minor details, they both had the welfare of the school as their prime consideration. 'I do not think there has ever been a Head more universally loved', he said. 'Throughout the year that I have known him, I have never come across a boy or a man who did not respect him and on whose loyalty he could not count. For me he has always epitomised the perfect English gentleman'. Mr. Slater thanked Mr. Walter Knight and his wife for their enthusiasm and hard work during Mr. Knight's presidential year. No one could have been keener or more conscientious.

Mr. Rowland Roderick cordially thanked Mrs. Rich, Mrs. Slater and Miss Anderson, and the lady helpers for all their efficient and successful arrangements.

This same group of ladies was also responsible for afternoon tea in the Memorial Library.

Foundation Day Dinners.

About three hundred congregated in the Memorial Hall at 7.30 p.m. for the traditional Kingswood dinner, with the Headmaster and a representative group of O.K.s and staff at the top table. Most of the O.K.s and staff were attending a dance at the City Hall. After a lavish meal, the Headmaster read out a long series of telegrams of good wishes, including one from the Redferns at Maidstone, England, and one from Whitfield, Pasadena, California; all the O.K. Branches also sent messages. The Headmaster gave the boys a talk on the past history of the College, mentioning some of the well-known names connected with it. An informal sing-song and film-shorts ended a very pleasant evening. In the dining hall of Jacques House Mr. and Mrs. Slater were at the same time entertaining about 160 junior boys and guests to a no less splendid repast, followed by speeches and a short musical programme.

Telegrams and Messages received.

Mr. and Mrs. Redfern, Maidstone, Kent; Desmond Whitfield, Pasadena, California; The Fishers, St. James; Charles and Clem Solomon, Cape Town; Bulawayo Old Boys; Transfeldt, Mahalapye, Bechuanaland; Hepburn, Port Natal; J. A. Tyson, Oranjemund; Worthington, Kimberley; Todd, Hermanus; Parsonson, Port Elizabeth; East London Old Boys; Rollo and Harold Guest, Gwelo; Scott Robinson, Post Retief; Thwaites, East London; Smit Minor, Broughton, Johannesburg; James and Charles Stephenson, Claremont; Graham Pote, Somerset East; Jack and John Fisher, Cape Town; Salisbury Old Boys; Stirk and Legg, Cedara, Natal; Clive Gardner, Port Elizabeth; Aston Williams, Durban; Bloemfontein Old Boys.

Old Kingswoodians' 200/231 Dance.

Upwards of 100 O.K.s, guests and partners attended the Foundation Day Dance at the City Hall, and danced till midnight to the music of the Blue Notes Orchestra.

The hall was decorated with the traditional heraldic designs first designed by Mr. R. Q. Tarr, but this year elaborated by Mr. Bennett Brown and his assistants. Mrs. R. Q. Tarr was responsible for the floral decorations, and Mr. Ken Watson was the business organiser, with Mrs. Quinn efficiently supervising the catering arrangements.

Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Knight welcomed the guests, among whom were the Principal of Graeme College, Mr. O. B. Taylor, and Mrs. Taylor, the Secretary of the O.A. Club, Mr. Ellenberger, and Mrs. Ellenberger, and Mr. and Mrs. Brian Whitnall. The O.K.s present came from every district of South Africa, and belonged to every age-group.

Church Parade.

Sunday morning, March 14th, was showery, but in order not to disappoint a large number of visitors, the Cadet Corps turned out in force, complete with red-coated Brass Band. The service conducted by the Rev. C. W. Moore was very impressive, and the church well filled. The Headmaster gave an address of the achievements of O.K.s with special reference to the Second World War, and read out the names of 72 O.K.s who lost their lives in that struggle. The Rev. C. W. Moore, in his usual pungent and effective style, appealed to all his hearers to be proud of their roots, their origins, their nation, family and school, and to endeavour to live up to, and even improve on, the principles and traditions there instilled.

After the service, the Cadets marched back to school in heavy rain, which did not dampen the enthusiasm of the band, nor upset the discipline of the marching. The Commanding Officer, Lieut-Col. C. B. Dacam, and his officers, resplendent with many campaign medals, are to be congratulated.

So ended another anniversary. Was it worth while coming all the way from Bloemfontein, Durban, Cape Town, Pretoria, Lusaka, Salisbury, or even East London and Port Elizabeth? The O.K.s appeared to think so.

HEADMASTERâ\200\231S ADDRESS ON FOUNDATION DAY

Several parents and Old Boys have asked that the Headmasterâ\200\231s address, given in Commemoration Church on Foundation Day, should be printed for the benefit of those who were not present.

The text is as follows:â\200\224

â\200\234T trust that the general congregation and the boys and girls from other schools will forgive me if on this occasion I address myself primarily to the Kingswood boys and Old Boys.

â\200\234This is the sixtieth anniversary of our Foundation in 1894, and this old Commemoration Church has for sixty years been the Kingswood Chapel. All Kingswood boys of whatever denomination have joined in the services here, if only on Sunday evenings. The War Memorial in the gallery is a tribute to our elder brethren who fell in the first World War; we think of them especially in July, on Delville Wood Sunday. The gallery unofficially preserves the names or initials of nearly all past students, many of whom figure on the Rolls of Honour.

â\200\234On this Foundation Day, the last which it will be my privilege to attend as a member of the Staff, it is fitting that we should devote a few moments to the memory of those Old Boys who sacrificed their lives in the second 1939-45 War. Four years ago, on Easter Sunday, I gave a short address at the Memorial Hall at Kingswood on the occasion of the unveiling of the Memorial Plaque in the porch. To-day, in retrospect, the achievements of our boys seem even more magnificent. Without any compulsion, in fact in spite of a certain amount of discouragement, nearly a thousand Kingswood boys volunteered for general service; practically every Old Boy of military age, who was free to join up, did so. They served in every theatre of armed operations, on sea, in the air and on land, literally from â\200\230Greenlandâ\200\231s icy mountains to Indiaâ\200\231s coral strandsâ\200\231, and even beyond, to Malaya and Korea.

â\200\234Besides the land campaigns on our own Continent, in Abyssinia, Madagascar, and the long fluctuating struggle over the deserts of North Africa, they were to be found in the critical Battle of Britain, in the perilous convoys on the cold wastes of the Atlantic, on patrol as far south as the ice-barrier round the South Pole. They fought with the battle-fleets in the Atlantic and Indian Oceans, and joined in the final victorious advances through the jungles of Burma, or up the long mountainous Italian peninsula, or through the orchards of Normandy across the Rhine into Germany. A large number served as pilots, navigators or members of crews in the great air-squadrons, which penetrated deep into enemy country, acting as pioneers or pathfinders to the advancing allied forces.

Of all those serving from Kingswood, seventy-two lost their lives either directly in combat, or as a direct consequence of service. Of these only a handful had already joined the armed forces as a career; but for the war, the vast majority would never have contemplated the military profession. Most of them were already established in their various callings as farmers, engineers, doctors, advocates, civil servants, schoolmasters and business men. When the urgent call of duty came, when cruelty and tyranny were on the rampage, when most of Europe and the Far East were at the mercy of Germany and Japan, they identified themselves with England's cause, so eloquently expressed by Mr. Winston Churchill.

To-day, when we have had the opportunity to read the official accounts of the horrors perpetrated in Japanese and German prisoners-of-war lagers and concentration camps, of the incredible cruelty and barbarities committed to terrorise innocent civilian inhabitants, is there any shadow of doubt that they were right.?

As we older Kingswoodians listen to the names, we realise that every type of boy was represented, brilliant, first-class students, outstanding sportsmen, and many modest unassuming boys, who then as now form the backbone of Kingswood life and traditions. They were boys very similar to those sitting in the gallery this morning. It is a common and perhaps a salutary human characteristic to think that the present generation is not as sturdy and tough as its predecessors. I myself remember as a boy in England how my generation was picked to pieces; people said we had degenerated; our national cricket sides were beaten by the Australians, our Rugby teams by the Springboks, and our athletes by the Americans. Then came the 1914 war, and in four years, over a million of my generation went down fighting.

Have you ever attended a full-dress military funeral? The one that made the deepest impression on my mind took place fifty years ago in an old English county town, founded by Alfred the Great. A young cavalry officer who had served in the Anglo-Boer War, had been killed in a steeplechase, whilst representing his regiment, and his body was brought to his home for burial, accompanied by a large escort of Horse Guards. The full regimental band, mounted on horses, brilliant with plumes, breast-plates and shining accoutrements led the procession through the streets and market place, playing the famous funeral-march by Chopin. After the slow solemn throb of the drums, the march gradually rises to a tremendous crescendo, sounding like the proud challenge of the human spirit, a gesture of defiance flung into the face of death; then the march quietens to a note of humility and resignation. I realised then the majesty and dignity of death; that life is a chequer board of glory and tragedy, of rejoicing and grief, sometimes very difficult to distinguish the one from the other.

After the funeral service was over, the procession returned through the town, to my surprise, no longer in slow time but with the regimental band playing the most rollicking popular songs of the day. The Army with its accumulated wisdom and experience of a thousand years realises that it is demoralising to dwell too long on a morbid subject. It maintains that after paying a worthy tribute to the honourable dead, men should face the future with cheerful hearts, sustained by the brave example of their predecessors.

Let us try to emulate the courage and faith shown by the men whom we especially remember to-day. Let us realise that no great achievement is possible without sacrifice. The great Founder of our religion, by His own supreme sacrifice, has clearly indicated the way that humble mortals should follow. We may not, like past generations, be called upon to face the hardships of another Great War, but in lesser ways, in order to achieve success in our work, in our examinations, even in our sports and games, we must be prepared to sacrifice our own selfish, slothful inclinations, and follow the harder, more disciplined course.

SCHOOL HOUSE NOTES

The third term of 1953 will long be remembered for its weather. Something like seventeen inches of rain fell during the course of three months, nine inches in a week's steady drizzle and nearly two inches in a devastating 20 minute hailstorm which cost School House twenty-three broken window panes. Despite the restricted opportunities for outdoor exercise the health of the House was particularly good. It seems that the major epidemics that used to lay low as many as a quarter of the boys in the Senior School, are now things of the past. We hope so. The probable explanation of our comparative immunity to mumps, measles, chicken-pox and the other typical schoolboy epidemics is that nearly three quarters of the new boys in recent years have entered the School below IVth Form. In Jacques House and to some extent Wood House, they are well and truly salted with the result that by the time they reach School House they are almost completely germ-proof. Hats off to Jacques and Wood!

Our customary half-term trip to Riet River, otherwise known as School House-on-Sea, was made impossible by very wet roads and flooded drifts. We made do with a day at Port Alfred but thanks to the unexpectedly fine weather came back appropriately sunburnt, exhausted, and full of our usual explanations for not catching any fish.

The end of the year marked the departure of nearly thirty boys from the House. A special tribute is due to the 1953 Prefects, Rodney Rayner, Ken Williams, â\200\234Poppyâ\200\235 Manson, â\200\234Emilyâ\200\235 Morrison and Jack Shingler.

They did a fine job of work.

The vacant beds this year have been filled largely by boys from Wood House but we also have eleven new boys who have all settled in very well. There has been a return to the old system of having eight Prefects in School House. They are: van Wyk and Robins (School Prefects) and van Schalkwyk, Davis, Jones-Phillipson, Meintjies, Kneen and Stern (House Prefects). Thanks to their keenness the year started well and there is a particularly active, vigorous spirit abroad.

Because of the unusually small number of Senior Matric privates this year and because there are less bachelor masters in residence it has been possible to provide a small Senior Matric Common Room. The privacy and exclusiveness of this room seems to be much appreciated.

Next term Mr. K. H. Douglas will take over the housemastership of School House while Mr. D. R. Butler is on long leave. In anticipation, we welcome Mr. and Mrs. Douglas and their family and wish them all a happy term.

JAGGER HOUSE NOTES

The hail and rain storm that hit us last September certainly left its mark on Jagger House. Within a minute of the start of the storm all our gutters were blocked, seven window broken and water was pouring down the Senior Dormitory and Prefectsâ\200\231 study walls. Boys who happened by chance to be in the Senior Dormitory soon had to remove their shoes and socks and start mopping up operations with towels and dirty clothing. It was a fortnight before the inside walls were dry enough to touch, and when touched they promptly fell to pieces and had to be re-plastered.

In spite of the excitement of the weather we finished off last year with a happy and hard-working house. This was in no small measure due to the sound leadership of Alec. Weir ably assisted by the three house prefects A. B. Dewar, S. N. Harty and F. Piguet. The usual half-term excursion to the sea at Kleinemonde was enjoyed by all who went.

For the new year we start with A. Tiltman as Head Prefect, I. McPhee in the senior dormitory, B. Purdon in the junior dormitory and R. Webber in little dorm. When Mr. Rees manages to give the house a coat of paint to cover the ravages of the storm we shall be all set to welcome visitors. Only thirty-three boys went to Kleinemonde for half-term, it seems a pity that the Rhodesians especially do not avail themselves of this chance to see the sea. Those who went certainly made the most of a very happy day.

WOOD HOUSE JOTTINGS

The year closed in a flurry of exams and farewells. Mrs. Makin, our matron, left us, and, of course, our prefects. The year had been a good one, and our four prefects, under the able leadership of Nimmo Reid, had controlled and led the house smoothly and well.

The new year saw the formation of Intermediate House under Mr. Anton Murray so that the Annexe no longer is part of Wood House and we can now once more call our prep. room and common room our own.

Mrs. Aubrey, our new matron, took over the linen room competently, and is now so much a part of the House life that it is difficult to believe that she has been with us only one term.

Of the 58 boys in the house, 12 came to us from the old Annexe, 18 from Jacques House, 17 remained of the 1953 roll, and seven are new boys. Our four prefects are: Brian Pewsey, head; George Chowles, David Cook, and Dorian McDonald.

Soon after the commencement of term Val Cawood, while romping, cracked his ankle and had to be hospitalised. In fact the fracture was so tricky that he had to be sent down to Port Elizabeth for specialist treatment. His leg is still in plaster. Brian Searle-Tipp, who came to us from the Prep. with one leg in plaster, infected the other leg and was sent to the San. And just to round off the term with a flourish prefect Chowles dislocated his knee and had to have the leg in plaster. His holiday activities will be somewhat hampered. Rudman left a week early to have his grumbling appendix removed.

The craze this term has been white mice. Richard Cohen, however, seems to have discovered a novel way of capturing the common brown mouse. He left an almost empty peanut-butter bottle in his locker, and on his return found in it a baby brown mouse unable to climb out.

Half-term was spent at the Kleinemonde. Two lorries conveyed about 50 boys to this seaside settlement. The weather was reasonably kind and the boys came back healthily tired.

We are grateful to Mrs. Shuttleworth for a full size ping-pong table. When it has been adjusted to fit over an ordinary table, it will be used daily.

CADET NOTES

Throughout the period under review the Unit has maintained its traditional smartness and the Brass Band has continued on its march to fame.

The annual inspection was held on Friday, October 16th, when Col. H. S. Cilliers, O.B.E., came up from Port Elizabeth to pay us his annual visit. For the march past Student Officer A. Weir was Company Commander, Student Officers K. Manson, R. G. Rayner, W. T. Todd and Sgt. G. Chowles Platoon Commanders, and C. Jones-Phillipson Sergeant Major. They all did very well. The signallers under S/Sgt. N. Reid demonstrated the passing of messages by line and wireless. The First Aid Section under S/Sgt. van Hoogstraten, R. also gave a good demonstration.

The Unit paraded on Church Square for a Remembrance Day Parade on November 8th and marched to Commemoration Church for the service at 11 a.m.

The new year's first parade on Foundation Day was a very wet affair. The Band's drums especially suffered heavily from the steady rain. However the Unit felt that this was Capt. Rich's parade and all ranks were glad to produce that extra bit of smartness which the occasion demanded. 2nd Lt. T. C. Hartzenberg made his debut with the Unit on this Parade.

Field and Specialist Training began on 27th March. Lts. S. J. Thompson and T. C. Hartzenberg are training future N.C.O.s in the art of drilling small squads. Lt. G. J. Salvesen is training a band of telephonists and wireless operators. Lt. D. R. Butler is giving Map Reading instruction, using the maps of Sugar Loaf made by us and printed for us by the S.A. Engineer Corps. Capt. C. K. Rooke, M.C., and Comd. C. Dacom, E.D. are giving instruction in field-craft and section leading. Maj. R. Q. Tarr spends most afternoons on the rifle range helping all those who want to learn to shoot and some who are not so keen. Mrs. K. Adams is again giving First Aid lectures to senior cadets; this is one of the most valuable aspects of our Cadet work.

G. Chowles, R. Davis, V. Robins, A. G. Smith, and F. van Wyk have been appointed Student Officers, C. Jones-Phillipson is the Sergeant Major, S/Sgt. B. Purdon is with the signallers and S/Sgt. van Schalkwyk, F. is in charge of the stores,

SHOOTING

Septemberâ\200\224December, 1953.

The third term commenced with preparations for the Empire Challenge Shield and Watts Cup competitions which were eventually fired shortly before their closing date. The teams failed to raise to the heights their practice had promised, with the result that Kingswood came 8th in the Empire Challenge Shield with a total of 501 out of 560, and 6th in the Watts Cup with 449 out of 560. As the winning scores were 542 and 521 respectively, it will be observed that the seniors did not even reach the junior winning total which they could so easily have done. However, shooting is a most implacable and unrelenting taskmaster. Once that trigger is pulled, nothing short of a miracle will prevent that sped bullet from going in the direction in which it was fired.

A. T. Holmes and H. A. Meintjes both did well with 94 and 93 per cent. respectively, while H. W. van Schalkwyk, in the junior team, surpassed expectations by scoring 94%, the only junior to reach the nineties.

The following trophies were presented at the annual Cadet Inspection:â\200\224

The Neville Turner Senior Shooting Cup (awarded for the best score in the three Inter-Command competitions):â\200\224B. G. Evans.

The Worthington Cup (Open I.C.S.):â\200\224F. van Wyk.

The M. C. Fletcher Rapid Shooting Cup:â\200\224J. M. Glen.

The Gerard Osborne Memorial Trophy (for the best score in the Empire Challenge Shield Competition):â\200\224A. T. Holmes.

Team Blazers, gained by achieving 90% or more in two Inter-Command Competitions were awarded to H. A. Meintjes, M. A. Evans, and A. T. Holmes.

Shortly after the commencement of term we were faced with the Elimination Shoot organised by the E.P. and B. Command. This was fired on 4th March, under the eagle eye of Sgt. Major de la Guerre of the Permanent Force. The juniors shot consistently, though not brilliantly, while the seniors shot only just well enough to be included in the Bisley which was held on March 30th.

The Bisley this year was a severe test, not only of consistency, but also of endurance. No elbow pads, no jackets, and no ammunition blocks were allowed, and only two sighters were permitted before each of the five sections of the competition, the most exacting of which was the fourthâ\200\22420 rounds deliberate on a decimal target. Altogether each boy fired a total of 70 rounds. However, the general standard was high, and although our seniors came only sixth out of eight, their performance was an improvement, under trying conditions, on their previous shoot on the home range. Five of the six seniors, and three of the juniors, were awarded bronze medals. The best results were returned by Englebrecht and Glen of the senior team, who scored 92.9% and 91.1% respectively and by J. D. Thompson of the junior team whose 90.2% was very creditable. These three, Englebrecht, Glen and Thompson, were awarded bronze medals, Class I, while Muller, Evans, M., Gush, Mossop and Hayward, G., were awarded bronze medals Class II.

THE OVERSEAS TOUR

Part I by F. van Wyk.

As you have probably heard, twenty-three of our boys went to England and Europe for a short tour of about two months.

We sailed from Cape Town on Christmas Eve and soon settled down to make the most of the voyage. Everybody had the holiday spirit and enjoyed themselves thoroughly. There was either a dance or a cinema show on almost every night and we certainly did not get much sleep. Somewhere around the Equator the phosphorous proved to be a great attraction for some of our nightly deck-walkers. A few of us did very well in the deck games, while the rest spent their time in the swimming bath and on the sun-deck. We had a very smooth voyage except for the last day in the Bay of Biscay when a number of people preferred to keep away from the dining-room. We arrived at Southampton on a bitterly cold morning and after having said goodbye to our many friends we agreed that the "Stirling Castle" was a "good" ship.

On our first night in London we went to an ice-show "Sinbad the Sailor" and I definitely think that this was the best of all the shows that we went to. I was amazed at the size of the theatre, there must be seats for thousands of people, the ice-rink alone seemed as big as some of our smaller rugby fields. The scenes were very colourful and we enjoyed the excellent skating combined with the amusing antics of Norman Wisdom.

On another occasion we went to a Variety show in an old English theatre, which provided many good laughs. One of the actors surprised us when he recognised our South African accent and spoke a few words in Afrikaans. We saw British film stars on the stage in the play "Escapade" and enjoyed it very much. I must say that I was disappointed with Bertram Mills's Circus, since we had heard so much about it beforehand maybe I was expecting too much.

We found that the average man's choice of entertainment in England is much wider than ours on South Africa but it is also more expensive.

From London we entrained for Switzerland. After having spent a sleepless night on a cold and waterless French train we were very glad when the small Alpine electric train finally stopped at St. Cergue. Our Hotel was situated right on the edge of the Jura plateau so we had a lovely view of Lake Geneva in the valley below and the snow-capped, rugged peaks of the Alps on the horizon. This short stay of a week in Switzerland was the highlight of our tour and it brings back many pleasant memories.

As soon as we arrived at St. Cergue, we hired skis, boots and sticks. There was plenty of snow around so we all tried our skill at ski-ing that same afternoon. I must admit that none of us were too successful, one's feet always seemed to run away from one's body which invariably disappeared into the thick snow face upwards. However, the next day we hired two instructors who soon taught us how to stay on our feet and after only four days we all passed the first test of the local club.

One night we watched a most thrilling ski-jumping contest. What amazed us was that no one was hurt when they fell headlong down the hillside. The following evening we went to an ice-hockey match, now I know why it is supposed to be the fastest game in the world.

On the Tuesday before we left for London again, we went up the Dôle mountain. Conditions for ski-ing were difficult since we had rain the previous day and this had frozen hard during the night. However, about half of us decided to ski while the rest walked to the top of the mountain. We were pulled up the mountain slopes on a ski-lift (a few of the fellows fell off on the way up and had to return to the station). When I looked down the mountain from the top I thought we would never get safely back to St. Cergue, but once we started off it was not so difficult and soon we were enjoying it immensely. After a long downhill run we reached the Hotel at dusk, and only one fellow hurt his knee slightly in a bad fall. The following morning we had to return all our skis, boots and sticks and we left St. Cergue early in the afternoon.

We were very sorry to leave, but all good things must come to an end, and we arrived tired but happy at the Shaftesbury Hotel the following afternoon.

Our rugby matches were all cancelled due to heavy frosts and snow so we had to be satisfied with just seeing the other schools and not playing against them.

Except for a rough day in the Bay of Biscay our voyage was uneventful coming back. Although the entertainment was much the same as the outward voyage, we still enjoyed it and the time passed quickly.

Part II by R. Davis.

I am going to deal with the more serious side of the tour, namely that connected with education, because while over in England we were fortunate enough to visit two schools, Christ's Hospital and our sister school, Kingswood School, Bath. We also paid a short visit to Oxford University.

Firstly Christ's Hospital. The very first thing which struck me about this school was their ancient Tudor form of dress, handed down from the Sixteenth Century and now part of their tradition. This quaint uniform consists of a navy blue monk's gown and breeches with yellow stockings. We all expressed our greatest sympathies to the boys for having to wear such a cumbersome uniform but they assured us it would be a terrible breach of tradition if they got into civilized clothes.

Christ's Hospital is a large school with over eight hundred boys, many playing fields and sixteen houses all exactly alike. A good idea which school authorities in England have, is the idea of playing their sport between 2 p.m. and 4.30 p.m. and then having school till 6 p.m.

Many of the boys over there thought us to be exceptionally large physically, but it was a great pity we were unable to send our First XV over, then they would have called us giants!

However, one thing which was noticeable among the English boys was that they do not mind doing a spot of work, by which I mean, they make their beds every morning and serve themselves at meals. Also after a bit of a rough house they are only too willing to clear up the mess. I think we South Africans have been spoilt by our domestic servants who wait hand and foot on us.

Another thing which struck me about those boys was the pride with which they regarded their school. On arrival we were taken around in pairs and were shown the school to the last detail. We even had to look inside their classrooms.

However, apart from the slightly stricter rules and military-like fashion in which everything was done, I think we all liked Christ's Hospital, or nearly everything about it, as there was one exception, their beds. Boys here at Kingswood can be glad they don't sleep on Christ's Hospital beds, which consist of a thin mattress on a thin board.

Now to deal with our mother school, Kingswood in Bath. This school seemed in many respects very similar to our own Kingswood because they have about the same number of boys and very similar rules, but one rule which would definitely not be popular here is their rule about having no annual senior dances!

One thing that amazed us was their extreme interest in our politics and native problems. A rumour reached me from some of their boys that some of them were not quite sure as to whether we were all going to be Europeans. However, when they saw us I am happy to say, they realized the error of their calculations.

During the one evening that we were there, they entertained us by having a debate amongst themselves as to whether apartheid in the Union is desirable or not and it was noticeable that everyone of our boys voted that apartheid was desirable in South Africa. The boys from Bath who spoke in the debate spoke with such eloquence and experience that I doubt whether any of our boys would have been a match for them. As far as education is concerned they are definitely ahead of us, although as far as sport is concerned I think we might hold our own against them. It was a great pity it snowed so heavily, thus preventing a friendly rugby match between the two Kingswoods.

Another thing which struck me about them was the fact that they seem to find it difficult to imagine how anyone could travel a thousand miles to school like some of our boys do. For them two hundred miles seemed quite far enough.

On the whole I think we nearly all agreed that the average English schoolboy was extremely well mannered and very helpful as well as being easy to get on with.

The two schools were by no means the only educational centres which we visited, we also paid a one-day visit to the University of Oxford.

On arrival there we were met by a number of old friends, Mr. & Mrs. Jeff Butler, Warne Boyce and Donald Cragg. They, with the help of a number of Old Boys of Kingswood, Bath, took us in twoâ\200\231s and threeâ\200\231s and showed us around the University.

Wandering around Oxford with our guides I got the impression that the University was steeped in tradition and if one were to offend any rule one would be sure to be violating some tradition which was at least five hundred years old. Some parts of the University certainly looked even older.

From what I gathered I think the rivalry between the universities must be very fierce, especially their boat races.

The social and academic side of the University seemed to have a large following because every notice board was completely dominated by pamphlets announcing the next meeting of every club, from the cycling to the communist club.

However, I must say, we all greatly enjoyed this, the more serious aspect of the tour just as much as we did the rest.

CHESS CLUB NOTES

There has been a most welcome increase in the number of boys who are interested in learning and playing this most ancient and satisfying of games. Club meetings are regularly attended by as many as thirty players. The standard of play is not high, but if the middle school boys keep it up for a year or two we should soon be in a position to invite some of the well known chess players who live in Grahamstown to come and give us a game.

N. Q. Jackson has proved himself a tireless secretary and he is fast becoming a useful player. C. de Haes is the reigning champion with Norriskin, Diskin and Cobden knocking at the championship door.

Ist XI CRICKET
3rd Term, 1953

The most fitting epitaph on this term's cricketing activities would be
Rain No Play. From the cessation of Athletics until the start of Matric. Dr. du Toit and his forces scored victory after victory, cutting our very full fixture list practically in half. Not only were fixtures affected but the incessant rain made impracticable an early start on our new turf wicket, the foundations of which were laid during the August-September holidays.

Our batting showed a marked lack of confidence and aggression, while the fielding, especially in the slips, was not good in spite of intensive practice.

The bowling, however, was of a high standard, at times brilliantly spearheaded by Gush who was well supported on various occasions by Keast, Jones-Phillipson, Rayner, Mouritzen, Birt and Hunter.

Birt handled his attack well, employing Gush in short spells as a shock and not as a stock bowler.

Of the batsmen only Jones-Phillipson and Weir were at all consistent.
Raphael, however, showed great promise and we can hope for some big innings from him in 1954.

Owing to the loss of the score-book, the scores of the matches against Fort Beaufort, which Kingswood won on the first innings, and Coombs, which was washed out by rain shortly after 2 p.m., are not available for publication.

Colours for 1953 were awarded to: J. Birt (Capt.), A. Weir (Vice-Capt.), J. G. Gush, and C. Jones-Phillipson.

Team Blazers were awarded to: J. Huddy, N. Hunter, R. Keast, Mouritzen, R. Rayner and A. G. Smith.

B. Purdon and G. B. Smith appeared in the team photograph, while
L. Badings (6), D. Raphael (4), R. A. Evans (3), W. Haselau (3), and W.
Todd (1), also made appearances for the Ist XI.

SCHOOLS CRICKET WEEK

This schools week in Port Elizabeth appears to have become a firmly established part of the cricket season, and there can be no doubt that it is to the advantage of all participating schools. I should like to point out that although a combined Eastern Province Schools XI is chosen largely on performances by players during this period, this is by no means the major aim of the week as such. The aim and certainly there is an aim, is to give schools a sustained period of the best available cricket at school level in the Province on good playing fields so that the general standard may as a consequence be improved.

The team played three matches, losing the first to Grey and winning the other two against combined school teams drawn from Port Elizabeth and Uitenhage. Some very good performances were registered by individual players, but the success of the team as a whole can only be ascribed to keen team work. Under the leadership of the captain, J. Birt, and vice-captain, A. Weir, a good spirit was maintained both on and off the field resulting in enjoyable cricket of a high standard.

Mr. Murray was, unfortunately for the 1st XI, unable to be present in Port Elizabeth during this week as he was picked to do battle with the New Zealanders in the First Test. We would like to congratulate him most sincerely on his achievement.

Finally, our heartiest congratulations to John Gush on his selection as opening bowler for E.P. Schools and consequent selection in Cape Town as 12th man for South African Schools. This was a fine achievement in the face of strong competition, and he fully deserves the honour of selection.

KINGSWOOD vs. GREY HIGH SCHOOL

Grey won the toss and decided to bat. Gush started sensationally by bowling a wide with his first ball, and then getting Dakin plumb lbw with the next. Steadily, however, Grey moved on to score a very useful 190 all out. C. Rushmere, the Grey bowler, was in devastating form to take 6 wickets for 55 runs. Kingswood were all out for 46.

GREY, 1st innings, 190 all out (G. Mouritzen 4 wickets for 39 runs).

KINGSWOOD, 1st innings, 46 all out (A. G. Smith 16, C. Jones-Phillipson 9).
2nd innings, 103 for 5 wickets (D. Raphael 46 not out, R. Keast 3).

KINGSWOOD vs. COMBINED P.E. AND UITENHAGE

Birt, having won the toss, elected to bat on what proved to be a very true wicket. C. Jones-Phillipson and N. Hunter gave the side a most encouraging start of 54 before Hunter was out for 14. Birt and Phillipson pushed along to good effect and were largely responsible for the good total of 175 all out. Good bowling by Gush, Phillipson and leg-spinner, Rayner, enabled Kingswood to dismiss the opposition for 66.

KINGSWOOD, 1st innings, 175 all out (C. Jones-Phillipson 52; J. Birt 37; R. Keast 29; A. G. Smith 23).

COMBINED SCHOOLS 66 all out (Rayner 3 for 17; C. Jones-Phillipson 3 for 10).

KINGSWOOD vs. COMBINED P.E. SCHOOLS

This match was played on Grey main field and proved to be a most enjoyable match which provided some very good cricket. Combined Schools elected to bat, and it was soon evident that Gush was really on form with his hostile and accurate bowling. Only two members of the Combined Team reached double figures. Van der Bank was full value for a most courageous and indeed punishing innings of 51. This was perhaps one of the best innings of the week. He was pluckily supported by Kyle who scored 20. Combined Schools were thus all out for 103 with Gush taking 6 wickets for 23 runs, Kingswood scored 149 all out, the main contributions to this total coming from N. Hunter and R. Keast. There was good batting by everyone and there can be no doubt but that the team ended the season on a very high note.

COMBINED SCHOOLS 103 all out (van der Bank 51; Kyle 20; J. Gush 6 for 23, G. Mouritzen 2 for 31).

KINGSWOOD 149 all out (N. Hunter 34; R. Keast 34; J. Birt 16; C. Jones-Phillipson 16).

The following players represented Kingswood at the Week: J. Birt (Capt.), A. Weir (Vice-Capt.), J. Gush, C. Jones-Phillipson, N. Hunter, A. G. Smith, G. B. Smith, D. Raphael, R. Keast, L. Badings, G. Mouritzen, R. Rayner, B. Purdon. Gales:

Ist XI CRICKET 1st TERM, 1954

Of last year's regular Ist XI Jones-Phillipson, Hunter, Keast, Smith, A. G., and Raphael returned to Kingswood.

This has been a term of ups and downs for the Ist XI. Against Graeme and St. Aidan's we reached the heights, while against St. Andrew's and the O.K.s we plumbed the depths. There is, however, much promise for the future.

Jones-Phillipson and Purdon make a sound though somewhat slow opening partnership, while Smith, A. G. and Keast have proved that they possess the ability to capitalise on a solid start to the innings. Raphael at times has got his eye in and scored quick and invaluable runs.

Badings has often shown great promise which has not as yet been fulfilled; we hope for better results from him next season.

Of the bowlers Hunter and Keast have provided the mainstay of the attack. Braude, Evans and Phillipson have all had limited opportunities, but have all had their purple patches. Rowe shows great promise as an inswinger.

The accent has been on fielding and, although slips catches still go down with monotonous regularity, the ground fielding and especially the throwing has occasioned much favourable comment.

The lack of a first-class keeper has cost us at least one match so far, but there is hope for the future in Marsh who has come up from the Colts to take over the gloves.

Committee: C. Jones-Phillipson (Capt.), A. G. Smith (Vice-Capt.), R. Keast.

Colours for 1954: R. Keast, A. G. Smith.

KINGSWOOD vs. STANLEY

Batting first, a strong Stanley side laid about them, scoring 195 for 5 (dec.) in 14 hours and exposing many early-season weaknesses in bowling, fielding and field-placing.

Braude batted manfully and Smith forcefully, while Purdon, Raphael and Badings all showed promise. In a bad light the school was eventually all out for 123. John Gush showed what a fine bowler he has become and in a short spell took 4 for 16.

KINGSWOOD vs. CUYLERVILLE

Kingswood, batting first, compiled a useful 153 on a pitch that kept very low and a slow outfield. Smith, A. G., batted well until he was run out, but Raphaelâ\200\231s quick-footed hitting towards the end made the total look respectable. Hunter, with his left arm slow inswingers and occasional legbreaks baffled everyone, while Keast bowled very economically, proving an admirable partner to Hunter who was taking wickets.

KINGSWOOD vs. ST. ANDREWS

In a gloomy light Kingswood batted slowly for 71. Only Purdon and Hunter looked safe, both batting well on a difficult wicket.

St. Andrewâ\200\231s running brilliantly between wickets, scored 61 for one by the close of play. The following Wednesday Searle and Stafford massacred the Kingswood bowling, St. Andrewâ\200\231s declaring at 233 for 2 wickets.

Kingswoodâ\200\231s second innings was notable for the lack of determined batting, At least 8 wickets being virtually thrown away to bowling that was largely directed well outside the off-stump.

This was the lowest ebb reached by our cricket during this term, there being few, if any redeeming features in our second innings.

KINGSWOOD vs. GRAEME

Things took a turn for the better in this match and the team for once really looked like a 1st XI.

After a slow start to accurate bowling by Smith (25), Phillipson (4) and Purdon (8), Keast, Raphael and Badings hit the ball hard and ran well between the wickets to collar the Graeme bowling.

Although there were three run-outs, the aggressive running was a joy to see and infused a new spirit into our batting.

Hunter's unchanged spell of 14 overs and his catching were outstanding. The fielding was much improved and Phillipson showed greater confidence in his captaining.

KINGSWOOD vs. PORT ALFRED

Winning the toss as usual Jones-Phillipson put the Kowie in on a wet wicket. The boys bowled just short of a length so that quick wickets were not forthcoming. After the openers had gone, only Basil and Granville Bradfield reached double figures. Keast bowled well in two long spells.

Phillipson batted safely as a silent partner during the first wicket partnership of 63, which put Kingswood well on the road to catching the Port Alfred total of 118. When wickets started falling fast, Keast and Hunter held the middle batting together and we passed the Kowie score with 3 wickets in hand after a tense struggle on a wet wicket, during which bowlers nearly always called the tune.

KINGSWOOD vs. GREY

In an intensely exciting game Raphael proved to be both hero and villain of the piece. Batting first, only A. G. Smith and Raphael looked likely to do much. Andersonâ\200\231s aggressive fast bowling (8 for 55) proving too much for most of our batsmen. Raphael took the bit between his teeth at the end and hit the bowling to all parts of the field. He was ably supported by Braude.

When Grey batted, however, Raphael had an unaccountable lapse which resulted in 19 byes out of the first 31 runs. In all, 29 byes were scored in a total of 93, which probably directly affected the result. At 73 and 74 the 6th and 7th wickets fell and there were still 14 runs to go. Keast and Hunter, who bowled unchanged for 17 and 13 overs respectively, were now tiring but had to be kept on. Run by run the score crept up until at 85, 2 short of our total, the 8th wicket fell. The game was still tense, but a further bye put the issue almost beyond doubt, Grey eventually winning by the narrow margin of 2 wickets.

Jones-Phillipson kept up his unbeaten record with the coin and put the home side in to bat on a wet wicket.

Wickets fell regularly until Phillipson came on and dismissed four batsmen in two overs. Nine catches were held which, although most were easy, is a pointer to the improvement of the boysâ\200\231 catching, as they did not drop a single chance during this innings.

Phillipson persisted in winning the toss and batted on a good wicket.
Purdon and Badings went early to good balls by Grews, but Phillipson scored quickly. At 42, however, the 3rd wicket fell and Keast and A. G.
Smith came together for what must have been the best partnership at Kingswood for some time.

Smith hit the slow left-hander, Clare, for three fours and a two in four consecutive balls. Each of these four strokes went along the ground between cover and extra-cover. This partnership realised 132 runs in 85 minutes, after which Phillipson declared, leaving St. Aidanâ\200\231s 15 minutes batting during which one wicket fell for 8 runs. Apart from Palmgren and Denysen little resistance was shown, Rowe and Braude in particular bowling well.

Following on 82 runs behind, St. Aidanâ\200\231s were 47 for 4 at stumps.

KINGSWOOD ys. OLD KINGSWOODIANS

When Phillipson won the toss, it was discovered that Kingswood had not lost the toss once during the term. Batting first on a good wicket, however, the advantage of the toss was lost through hesitant batting against John Gush and Shorty Pearson. Keast and Smith stemmed the tide and looked set for big things when Smith ran Keast out. This proved disastrous, as wickets tumbled rapidly until the School were all out for a paltry 71. Ken Watson kept wicket admirably.

Stirk and Moorcroft gave the O.K.s a good start, the latter aided by the still virulent epidemics of dropped slips catches and missed stumpings. At 3 wickets for 48, however, it was not all over. Ken Watson came in to face a very fine over of outswingers from Keast. He somehow survived this and then proceeded to put the issue beyond doubt by laying on the willow to such good effect that his 51 took only 29 minutes and included 9 fours and a six. Ray Masterson (39) ably supported him. The O.K.s were eventually dismissed for 148. Keast fielded brilliantly.

Although the weather was responsible for the cancellation of certain matches, we were fortunate to have some good and entertaining cricket against both school and country teams. Many slip catches were dropped but the standard of batting and bowling was very encouraging and net practices were most satisfactory from a coach's viewpoint. I would like to thank C. Knight and M. J. Williams for their help throughout the season and to wish all those who are leaving the team every success in their future cricket.

I am very pleased with the team's performance under the able captaincy of T. Behrmann. The fielding and bowling have been very consistent and I am glad to say that the batsmen have shown plenty of aggression at the crease. The members of the team have shown keenness at practices and I hope that the third term will prove to be just as enjoyable as this one.

S.J) L.HOMESON:

3rd XI CRICKET

Unfortunately the weather was unkind during the third term and rain prevented a decision being reached in four out of the six matches played. Nevertheless, the 1953 3rd XI may congratulate themselves on a good season. They were in a strong position in each of the four undecided matches, and were able to win the two remaining matches which were unaffected by rain.

The match against St. Aidan was particularly exciting. Kingswood batted first, and were immediately in trouble. Nine wickets were down with only twenty-nine runs on the board. Our tailenders, Powell and A. du Plessis, hit out courageously to give an entertaining if somewhat agricultural display of batting. The innings closed when the total was forty-seven. Rowe opened the Kingswood attack with some aggressive bowling and very soon had the St. Aidan's batsmen in difficulties. At one stage in the game Rowe had five wickets to his credit at the expense of only one run. The St. Andrew's tailenders in their turn put up a grand fighting finish, their last wicket falling when only one run short of our total.

Taken all round the strength of this team did not lie in its batting ability, but this weakness was overcome by the tenacity of each member of the team whilst at the crease. Stirk, a fine stylist, Braude and du Venage all batted well throughout the season and it was upon their shoulders that the responsibility of hitting up a respectable total, and so giving our bowlers a fighting chance, rested.

The team was fortunate in having a strong opening attack in Rowe and Powell. The former in particular is promising and should go far. Although not at present moving the ball much through the air, he brings his deliveries uncomfortably and sharply off the pitch. He also has the makings of a stylish and aggressive bat, but he needs confidence and concentration. These two openers were ably supported by the two stock bowlers, Chowles and Goldman. The lack of a good spin bowler was felt since Shingler, who captained the side at the beginning of the season, was unable to play during the third term.

The bowlers were supported by keen and aggressive fielding. Very few catches were dropped, and the ground fielding and returns to the wicket improved throughout the term until it was really good.

Much of the success of the team must be attributed to the fine captaincy of du Venage. His enthusiasm and interest in the finer points of the game spread to the entire team. Above all he was intelligent, quick to spy and exploit any weakness in the opposing team.

FIRST TERM, 1954

The 3rd XI were unfortunate in having only two matches this term. The first match against Graeme was lost by ten runs, and the second, against St. Aidan's, was won somewhat fortuitously, the elements being kind to us, by thirty-one runs.

While it is yet too early to judge the quality of this team, which has not yet settled down into its stride, there are discernable faults which will have to be watched. Among these are a certain over confidence and lackadaisical attitude in the field. These faults, however, can be tackled and there is no reason why this team should not develop into as fine a one as its predecessor.

SENIOR FIELD DIVISION CRICKET

The great advantage of playing in this Division is that there are no Caps or Colours to be won and no really important matches to be played so one can really enjoy oneâ\200\231s cricket. In the last term of 1953 a large number of pick-up matches were played and we had two games against St. Andrewâ\200\231s teams. Much to our surprise we won both the school matches. In the first of these we got St. Andrewâ\200\231s out for less than thirty runs. |McEloney bowled very well to take seven wickets for scarcely twice that number of runs. But our batsmen were very temperamental and our first innings closed with less than forty runs on the board. St. Andrewâ\200\231s batted again, this time with much more confidence and declared just after five oâ\200\231clock, leaving us about ninety runs to make in fifty minutes. Our sons of the Karoo soil used the long-handle agricultural sweep shot to every ball that came within reach and made the necessary runs with one wicket standing and ten minutes to spare. Hutton, C., made 36 runs in eight scoring strokes. A most light-hearted exciting occasion,

This year there has been a big change in the personnel of the division. The vacancies caused by the departure of those grand old men of Senior Matric: Kohler, James and Connock have been taken by promising youngsters like van Zyl and Warner. Three cake teams captained by Morgan, Neale-Shutte and Toogood played several closely contested two-afternoon games on the City Lords wicket. Unfortunately, the rain and athletic training prevented the completion of the series but we look forward to some very enjoyable cricket in the third term.

COLTS CRICKET

The general standard of Colts cricket seems to have been particularly high lately. We have been lucky in having a nucleus of good individual players as a backbone to the side, but without doubt the success of the team must be attributed to the very good team spirit that exists within the team itself. Good captaincy by N. Behrmann in the 3rd term of 1953 and by Masterson in the 1st term of 1954 has been a most gratifying factor and there can be no doubt that the success of their sides is in no small way due to their efforts.

In 1953, Marsh and Masterson were brought up from the Under 14, a promotion which soon proved itself to be a wise one as they were both selected for the Colts team in spite of being what is often stated to be out of depth in a higher division. The success of this move was all the more clearly illustrated in 1954 when both these players set about making big scores from the word go, and generally speaking set the pace for the rest of the new Colts. It is to be hoped that this process of promoting the two best players in the Under 14 each year will be carried on in future. The confidence gained by an extra year in Colts is certainly obvious. Marsh has now been promoted to the 1st XI, for which fine achievement he is to be congratulated. He follows in the steps of D. Raphael who last year was also promoted to the 1st XI in his Colts year.

This maturing of future first teamers must be the main function of the Colts division if we are going to have any real success in Senior Schools cricket, and such indeed is our aim.

3rd TERM 1953

Behrmann and Raphael as captain and vice-captain both set good examples and demanded a good standard from the team. Only one match was lost during the term, which although giving no grounds for complacency, was a good effort.

RESULTS 3rd TERM 1953

vs. GRAEME

ATHLETICS THIRD TERM 1953

As usual the third term began with the impossible rush to get a Triangular team picked and ready for competition. The possibles under Harty the Captain settled in to make the most of the expert advice given so generously by Mr. Eugene Locke, who for years now has been looked upon as the College official coach.

The day for the Triangular dawned bright and calm and at 11.30 the competitors from Grey and Kingswood assembled on the St. Andrew\200\231s lower field to begin the contest with the Pole Vault. The Standard of the day\200\231s performances was set in this first event. All nine competitors cleared 9ft. 6ins. At 10 ft. Ken Williams of Kingswood came down badly and broke a small bone in his foot. This put the Kingswood team out of the competition as Southall and Nimmo Reid failed at this height.

The afternoon\200\231s competition produced the usual thrills and Grey and St. Andrew\200\231s battling for a lead at the beginning of the last race. St. Andrew\200\231s, lacking a sprint team were pinning their faith on us, but owing to a really fine effort by the Grey sprinters and J. Pote in particular Grey managed to put the issue beyond doubt and the competition ended as follows:\200\224 1st\200\224Grey with 25 points.

2nd\200\224St. Andrew\200\231s with 24 points.
3rd Kingswood with 17 points.

The detailed results will be found elsewhere.

The E.P. and Border Inter-Schools Championships were staged in Grahamstown with Graeme College as the Hosts. The general standard was very high and Queen's, though managing to retain the Shield did not have things all their own way. Our team fared indifferently, mainly through the general high standard of the other Schools competing. The three points that were collected gained for us the sixth place in the competition. The individual results of competitors will be found below and the general high performance of the competition will be seen when the good average times of our competitors are seen to have availed us little.

In the Under 16 Competition it was a different story and some outstanding performances by Whitehead in particular and the team in general brought us the reward of being Runners-up in this Section. We are expecting big things from these lads as time goes on. (It seems that these words, written before the end of the year, were prophetic. Both Whitehead and van Schalkwyk have gained Provincial Honours for the E.P. Under 17 team and will be competing at the South African Junior Championship, Whitehead in the 440 and Relay 440, and van Schalkwyk in the Shot. van Schalkwyk annexed the E.P. Inter-Schools record with a Put of 44ft. 3ins. at the 1954 E.P. Inter-Schools with 12lb. Shot).

Kingswood held their Annual Sports under ideal conditions on Saturday, October 4th. The strenuous competition earlier in the term in the Triangular and the E.P. and Border Inter-School Sports and the intensive training bore much fruit as the day provided the highest standard of performances that has been seen in recent years. All told there were four new records set up and one equalled and the tremendous keenness and splendid talent among the juniors augers well for a bright future.

The outstanding event in the Open Competition was the 880 when no less than the first five competitors were home in under 2 mins. 10 secs. which is Standard. T. Puffett won this event in 2 mins. 7.2 secs. R. Southall Pole Vaulting well was very unlucky to fail when attempting the record at 10ft. 9ins. In the Under 16 Championship, E. Whitehead gave a good start to the day by equalling F. Bayly's 1941 record for the 440, when he returned the time of 53.4 secs. Later in the day this same promising young athlete, who also won the Junior Cross-Country, the Mile Under 16 and the Long Jump, broke the 880 yds Under 16 set up by R. Masterson last year by .9 secs.

The Under 14 Competition was in no way overshadowed by these performances. C. Vandoros, who earlier won the Cross-Country, setting up a new record of 11 mins. 58.5 secs, broke the High Jump record with a fine jump of 4ft. 10.3ins. and then went on to win the 660 and just failed to beat the Pole Vault Record. The outstanding performance among the record breakers was the effort of T. Masterson who won the Under 14 Shot Put with a record throw of 45ft. 8ins. Entering for the Under 16 Shot Put he also managed to win this from the present record holder though he did not break the record.

The competition was keen in each event and in most the issue was in doubt until the tape had been broken. There were twenty-eight Standard performances achieved.

The Prizes were presented by Mrs. J. T. Slater and in the absence of Capt. Rich, the Headmaster, (away on furlough) Mr. Slater welcomed the guests, parents and friends who were present.

The detailed results are as follows:

BOXINGâ\200\2243rd TERM 1953

On Saturday, 7th November, a Boxing Tournament was held between St. Andrewâ\200\231s College and Kingswood boxing teams at St. Andrewâ\200\231s College. From a spectatorâ\200\231s viewpoint the tournament was very enjoyable, the majority of bouts being well matched. Some of our senior boxers lack the toughness that only strenuous physical training can develop, but they came back very pluckily against their opponents whose punching power seemed more effective. R. Keast shows great promise and gave a good performance against Somerville. The juniors excelled themselves by winning the first five bouts and should form a sound core for future teams.

A Colours Blazer was awarded to R. Keast, Team Blazers to J. van Niekerk and D. Macdonald. I would like to thank Mr. Sutherland for entertaining our team and for refereeing and arranging the tournament. We are also grateful to Mr. A. Brooker, Mr. J. Powell and Father Jackson for judging the bouts.

SWIMMING 1st TERM 1954

There has been a great all round improvement in the swimming this season. Many more boys have been interested and with an organised system of training the standard set was very high. The need for a full-time coach is felt and we hope that that post will be filled in due course.

The first Gala in which Kingswood boys partook was a Grahams-town Inter-School Gala held at Rhodes on 10th March. This was held as a practice competition in preparing ourselves for the Inter-Schools Gala at Port Elizabeth.

Good performances were put up by several of our swimmers:

Under 14 50 yds. Freestyle:

Open 100 yds Freestyle: Kruger 2nd 62.8 secs.

Open 100 yds Backstroke: Wood 3rd 77 secs.

Open 100 yds. Breaststroke: 1st Heat: Tiltman 2nd 80.1 secs. 2nd Heat: B. Davey 2nd 85 secs.

E.P. INTER-SCHOOLS GALA AT ST. GEORGE'S BATH PORT ELIZABETH 13th MARCH.

A team of 24 travelled down to Port Elizabeth by car and lorry to take part in the annual Eastern Province Inter-Schools Gala. The Kingswood results were better than ever before in the past. We came 2nd in the Open Section, 4th in the Under 16, and 2nd in the Under 14. On the over-all result we took third place.

Under 14 50 yds. Freestyle: Krog 1st 28.9 secs. Solomon 3rd 29.5 secs.

K.C. FORMAL SWIMMING GALA â\200\224 SATURDAY, 20th MARCH.

The weather was once again kind to us and although the water was cold on a hot summerâ\200\231s day the Gala got off to a good start at 11.20 a.m. with the 100 yards Backstroke Championship. Six new records were broken and three other equalled although in some events as many as the first three home broke the record. The Transvaal team beat The Rest in quite a close finishing Inter-Provincial Competition. Mrs. Tarr kindly presented the prizes and both Provincial teams were presented with cakes which Miss Anderson kindly supplied.

In closing this report I would like to congratulate A. Tiltman, H. Wood and W. Kruger on the splendid way in which they have managed and trained the team throughout the season.

We are very grateful to Mr. R. F. Currey and Mr. G. D. C. Murrell of St. Andrewâ\200\231s College for allowing us the use of the St. Andrewâ\200\231s College Swimming â\200\230pool for diving and swimming purposes. At present our own pool is inadequate for competitive diving as its maximum depth is 15 ft, 6 in.

Finally may I thank the members of Staff and Mr. Rees for their help at our Gala and congratulate all those boys who have helped to make this season so successful. S. J. THOMPSON.

LIFE SAVING

3rd TERM 1953 and 1st TERM 1954

Although during the 3rd Term of 1953 rain often put a stop to organised sport the newly formed Life-Saving classes continued without interruption. During the 1st Term of 1954 the good work continued and our thanks are due particularly to Miss Winton and the students of Training College for their help and encouragement in enabling all who took the exams to pass them successfully.

JACQUES HOUSE AND PREPARATORY SCHOOL NOTES

Like most Christmas terms the final lap last year was brimful of interest and enjoyment for us all â\200\224 though for our Prefects the final examinations loomed up ere ay too soon.

Our highlight of the term was a wonderful trip a train to Port Elizabeth to visit Messrs. Pyottâ\200\231s Biscuit factory and the huge General Motors works. Arrangements in P.E. had been in the efficient hands of Rey. A. J. T. Cook and there was never a hitch. A double-decker bus met us at the station at 6 a.m. and â\200\234whiskedâ\200\235 the 84 of us to Humewood where many had a bathe before breakfast at the â\200\234Willowtreeâ\200\235. Our bus then trundled us through the traffic to the North End Wesleyan Church Hall where we dumped most of our clobber. Imagine the look on our faces when Pyottâ\200\231s invited us to eat what we liked! It was just as well there was a rest period before we sat down to our excellent lunch in the huge G.M. Cafeteria where goodness knows how many thousands of meals are served every day. Gordon Hayward thanked our hosts in a very neat little speech and we were off in four batches to inspect testing grounds, assembly lines, auxiliary power station and spray bays. What a day! And then we popped in to see the close of the New Zealand vs. E.P. cricket game and were just in time to see Wise and Bradfieldâ\200\224two Albany menâ\200\224stem a home side collapse. A hastily snatched grill came just in timeâ\200\224for moving round as we did, seemed to use up a lot of energy and fuelâ\200\224then to a cinema to see â\200\234Son of Ali Babaâ\200\235. It w as a very weary but happy band trailing coats, towels and costumes that caught the 11 oâ\200\231clock back to Grahamstown. Herbie Newton (O.K.) stayed with us to help the Role Ny

Mid- toe, saw the heaviest rain on record eh the Eastern Cape. At one stretch it rained here on 14 out of 19 days and most of the â\200\234Gillaminkiesâ\200\235 who were not in bed were almost amphibious. One Friday afternoon the heaviest hailstorm any of us remember broke over the town. Though only mid-afternoon it suddenly became dark enough for lamps and then suddenly with a mighty crash and a crackling it was upon us. The hail sent splintered glass flying into the dining hall and dormitories and stripped the garden. Flood water rushed through the box-room and kitchen whilst volunteer squads with brooms and bags strove valiantly to divert the torrents of muddy water almost solid with hail. The servants were huddled whimpering in corners convinced their last day had come and for a time some of us were not so sure they were wrong.

Basil Kenyon, Esq., captain of the last Springbok Rugby team to tour Britain and France, travelled across from East London to give out our Prizes and had tea with us at Jacques.

After the function one very diminutive Kingswoodian had a request for his Housemaster: "Please, sir, can't we ask him to come again next year and then he can shake hands with all of us not just the chaps who win prizes?"

We are once more deeply indebted to our Prefects W. Tose, iW. Puffett, C. P. Overdyck, C. Knight and later D. du Plessis for all kinds of help but most of all for their part in creating a happy atmosphere. The high standard among the monitors was an indication of how fine an example had been set.

Once again we should have been in a real fix if Mrs. Slater had not shouldered the exacting duties of Linen Matron and thanks to her and Mrs. Horn and Mrs. Welgemoed, part-time, we have once more been well cared for and well fed in spite of what some fellows write when they are angling for a tuck-box!

Mr. Brian Rooke returned to Grahamstown in December to marry Miss Deetje Meyer. Our best wishes went with them to Salisbury where they have made their home.

Three playlets, "The Robbers", "The Court Card" and "William" and the Waxworks were enjoyed by players and audience alike and there was ample evidence of good coaching and promising material. Parents, friends and staff took coffee afterwards in Jacques Library.

We bade farewell to Mr. Ivan Gregory, B.A., who having obtained his Teacher's Diploma returned to England to take up an appointment.

Term closed with the usual jollifications. Guy Fawkes Eve in spite of a misty drizzle went with a bang, or rather a series of bangs, whizzes and shooses. New boys Concert provided much amusement and good fellowship and concluded with the solemn knighting ceremony for all those who were due to become old boys. Finally there was the usual End-of-Year Supper and then a scurry of trunks and suitcases as we headed for home leaving behind those whose lot it was to face and foil the wiles of J.C. and Matric. Examiners.

And in due course another year commenced and a fresh batch of recruits making considerably more than half our record total of 114 boarders moved in. And those who had been juniors found themselves seniors and those who had never taken much more responsibility than buying tickets or Saturday tuck, were taking charge of assemblies and dormitories locking-up, and putting out lights for so are many of the great ones who shoulder the heavier tasks in the Senior School made not many are just born with that team spirit.

We were glad to welcome Miss Joan Holmes to take charge of Std. III, Miss Ann Slater taking over the I's and II's from Miss Webster, also Mr. Ken Watson to be Form Master for Std. IV and in charge of Physical Training, and Mr. John Stonier who, though substituting mainly in the Senior School, would come into residence at Jacques House as Assistant Housemaster. We were fortunate, too, in having Tom Puffitt and Doug. du Plessis back as Prefects and they were joined after half-term by Ken Beaton.

Foundation Day saw an unusually large number of O.K.'s assemble for their morning meeting in our Dining Hall. The Prep's were privileged to entertain them to morning tea afterwards.

Besides the regular Junior School Flick programmes we have been lucky in our entertainments this term. The Conquest of Everest thrilled everyone and the return of Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs proved that its fascination for young and old had not diminished. Then we had a visit from Mr. Pelmonte Master Magician who pumped water from elbows and broke up watches only to reproduce them intact from the pockets of completely flabbergasted fellows to the delight of his enthusiastic audience. Finally Hogarth's Puppet Show arrived in town just in time to enable us to enjoy their dexterous and artistic wizardry of manipulation in The Ballet of the Flowers and The Circus.

The Boxing Class was split into two sections and Messrs Stuart-Thompson and Ken Watson succeeded in infusing a keenness that promises well for the latter part of the year.

Prep. entries for the Cross Country races and the Athletic Sports were heavy and reports with results will be found elsewhere.

The acquisition of the old Baptist Manse on the corner of Burton and Napier Street made it possible to establish an Intermediate House incorporating the old Wood House Annexe for the more senior members of the Third Forms who were not yet ready for transfer to the Senior Boarding establishments. Mr. and Mrs. Anton Murray took charge and with Mrs. Meinesz as Matron and A. G. Smith, A. Behrman and H. G. Wood as Prefects a very happy and well ordered unit of some 50 boys has come into being.

The visit of Drobny, the international tennis star, enabled us to see an exhibition of high standard. Mr. T. Hartzenberg took part in some of the matches and was in fine form.

Half-term fell on a Tuesday this time and a cheerful party of about 100 day boys and boarders left by train to spend the day at Port Alfred. Mr. Stonier and Miss Slater were in charge and the bathing in the lagoon and lunch provided by Mrs. Scarterfield seemed adequately to meet the needs of most of the party. Matron's warm supper was much appreciated when they got back.

As there were so many new boys, most of whom had required several weeks to adjust themselves to new surroundings and methods, it was felt that the end of term marks would more fairly be based partly on day-to-day class work but mainly on a series of tests during the last fortnight. UNDER 14 CRICKET

A band of 14 of the more promising Under 14 players were selected for individual and more intensive instruction. The boys were extremely enthusiastic and eager to learn and it was not long before a fine team spirit had developed. The value of this team spirit was clearly shown in all the games that were played. Each member of the side played, not for himself, but for the good of the team—this being exemplified by some very fine gestures on the field.

Due to these factors and the general high standard of ability of the boys—the team acquitted itself very well. In all, five matches were played during the term. Three of these games were easily won and two ended in a draw due to lack of time, but with the advantage definitely in favour of the Under 14 team.

The team was most ably and efficiently captained by M. Huddy, who shows distinct promise of developing into a fine cricketer. Others who showed promise and improved considerably were Veale, who kept wicket and Partridge, who can bowl well but on occasions was very inaccurate.

Special mention should be made of the fielding and catching. Many afternoons were spent entirely on fielding practice, catching, and returning to the wicket. This department of the game is usually neglected, but I am convinced that the time spent on fielding practice was well spent, as the team put up some very fine performances in the field. In this regard van Eck was outstanding. Others whose fielding was well above average were Huddy and Orsmond.

UNDER 14 â\200\234Bâ\200\235 adn â\200\234Câ\200\235 CRICKET

In Inter-School games the â\200\230Bâ\200\231 team won one and drew one and lost narrowly to the Under 13 â\200\230Aâ\200\231 in an exciting finish.

Hochschild batted solidly, if slowly, and obtained support, on different occasions, from Oxenham, Walsh, and Orsmond. Oxenham was the most successful bowler, well supported by Walsh, Low and Haddon.

The â\200\230Câ\200\231 team won one and lost one gameâ\200\224wWhitehead, N. being top scorer in both games. Although he was lucky he, nevertheless, was attacking the bowling all the time. The batting of the rest of the team was disappointing. In his one game for the â\200\230Câ\200\231 team before promotion to the â\200\230Bâ\200\231 team, Low bowled very well and Filmer bowled well in the second game.

Finally, thanks are due to the captainsâ\200\224Walsh of the â\200\230Bâ\200\231 team a nd Morgan of the â\200\230Câ\200\231 team for their keenness.

Anes

UNDER 13 CRICKET

The Under 13 Aâ\200\231 played five matches, winning two. The team has, I think, developed into one of the best fielding sides in Grahamstown in this age-group. The main bowlers, Dyer, Canepa and Harris have always been very well supported by the field. The batting, however, has nearly always lacked the necessary punch. With more concentration on this department of the game this team will be very hard to beat. There are many promising batsmen in the team who will get runs with more concentration. The chief cause of the batting failure has been the inability of the batsmen to use their feet.

The Under 13 â\200\230Bâ\200\231 has been a very keen side and there are many players here who are knocking on the door for Under 13 rw representation.

The captain of the Aâ\200\231 side was Dyer, while the â\200\234Bâ\200\231 were equally ably led by Andrews.

Among the stalwarts of the side are:-â\200\224Tucker, an exceptionally good fielder, and promising bat. Henderson, who is developing into a good wicket-keeper. Ansley has the makings of a good bowler and will develop into a good forceful bat. Landsey and Knott have promise and with more concentration will develop well. Dyer, Harris and Canepa, already mentioned, have the makings of exceptionally good cricketers. Dyer is developing into a very sound captain. Others who have played regularly for the side are:â\200\224Weir, Dickinson, Hall.

UNDER 12 DIVISION

This Division, consisting of some forty boys, has practised regularly throughout the term, and reveals some promising material. Once the bowlers had grasped the importance of length and of bowling at the wicket they began to do well, especially in the second game against St. Andrewâ\200\231s Prep. In this match A. Wellington and R. Milroy bowled unchanged to dismiss their opponents for 28 runs. Plenty of fielding and catching practice has also shown good results; catches by Milroy, fielding near the pitch, and by R. Whytock and B. Wood in the out-field, being worthy of mention.

At the beginning of the year most batsmen thought the regular technique consisted of closing both eyes and having a â\200\234wipeâ\200\235 in the general direction of the ball. However, this department also improved. In the last match against St. Andrewâ\200\231s, A. Peterkin played a real captainâ\200\231s innings of 56 not out and failed by only six runs to bring the Kingswood total up to the 111 required to win.

In a â\200\234cakeâ\200\235 match (actually the prize was ice-cream!) R. Milroy and G. Handley put on over 80 runs for the second wicket, and the team declared at 106 for 2 wickets.

The â\200\234Aâ\200\235 team played three matches against St. Andrewâ\200\231s Prep. and one against Graeme. Against St. Andrewâ\200\231s Prep. the first match was won by 3 wickets after both sides had had two innings; the second was won convincingly by some 40 runs on the first innings, and the third was lost by 6 runs. The match against Graeme was lost very thoroughly on the first innings.

The following were regular members of the 200/234 side: 200/224A. Peterkin (Capt.), R. Milroy (Vice-Capt.), B. Wood, A. Wellington, G. Handley, R. Whytock, A. Wilson, L. Robey, B. Wesson, and Kipps. Those who played occasionally were B. Venter, I. McHendrie and C. van Breda

The 200/234B side captained by A. Bouwer lost all four matches which they played but they are improving steadily. The most promising are Letcher and Shirlaw, while the keenness of Michaelides was such that he attended all matches whether he was playing or not.

UNDER 11 CRICKET

The Under 11 Cricket Division, like other Junior Divisions, has grown considerably in size this year and is now 67 strong. This increase and pressure on fields has made necessary an alteration in practice schedules for this time of the year, and instead of spending the term in the nets learning the fundamentals of handling the tools of the game, one afternoon a week has been spent in nets and one in the field at practice games.

The net Captains, J. Thompson, J. Waller, I. Mason, B. Wilmot and V. Hayward have been very efficient and I am most grateful to them for their help, without which the smooth functioning of the division would have been almost impossible. We are also very grateful to Mr. Kirkby for helping several afternoons during the term.

Of the five matches arranged for the Under 11 200/230A 200/231 during the term the outcome was: 200/224

Two against St. Andrew 200/231s Prep.: 200/224 Both lost.

Two against Graeme: 200/224 One won; One drawn (rain stopped play)

One against St. Aidan 200/231s: 200/224 Cancelled owing to rain.

200/230 Of the Under 11 200/230A 200/231, some interesting discoveries were made of boys whose cricketing progress up the school will be interesting to watch: M. Ttegmman has a natural leg-break, which should be dangerous if he practises, while K. Creighton has possibilities as a slow bowler. Up Thompson is a good fast bowler, but must not overdo his run up. B. Newcombe shows promise as a batsman, while McFarlane, T. Ansley, M. Peterkin and B. du Toit are all shaping well. Special mention must be made of our small but very determined Umpire, B. Wilmot, who carried out his sometimes difficult task most efficiently.

- To the smaller members of the Division I would say, practise hard and play the game. I have my eye on some of you for next year 200/231s teams.

PREP. BOXING\200\2241ist TERM 1954.

On the last Friday of term a tournament was held in the Prep. Hall, the bouts being made up by boys chosen from Jacques House and Intermediate House. Some very good matches were seen by an appreciative audience of about a hundred boys. In the lower weights J. Grieve and M. Howell had a good match, Ellis-Smith shows promise and was very gallantly opposed by R. Hart. Charles Krog and A. Wellington gave a good display, P. Whytock and B. Wesson show plenty of promise but lack attack. A nice bout was seen between R. Wytock and A. Crole, although they both seemed a little shy of each other, being at one time sparring partners. D. Fold and R. Jordan boxed well, J. Thompson took the first round off J. Stretton but Stretton came back strongly in the second round to out-point Thompson on the final result. D. Adshead, Bles, F. Whitehead and E. van Eck all showed better punching power than their opponents but B. Venter, W. Meinez, A. Wilson, H. Bertshinger and A. Green are all to be congratulated on the pluck they showed by carrying their respective fights on.

Finally may I thank Mr. Ken Watson, the seconds and glove monitors for their assistance in what proved to be an enjoyable evening\200\231s boxing.

JUNIOR TENNIS

The Junior Tennis numbers have increased considerably this year. Many of the Under 12\200\231s and 13\200\231s are benefiting from their tennisette last year and are now using good strokes for hard hitting and court craft.

The Under 13\200\231s\200\224Harris, L. (Capt.), Dyes, J., Tucker, H., Holzer, Canepa, Anderson, A. W., Hall and Weir\200\224played their first Inter-School match this year against V.G. but they proved too strong for the girls. Thus a most enjoyable afternoon\200\231s tennis ended with a few sets of mixed doubles. We are hoping to arrange more Inter-School matches for next term.

The players are very keen and among the more promising are:â\200\224
Whitehead, N.; Kruger, S.; Harris, L.; Dyer, J.; Tucker, H.; Krog, Chas. and Thompson, J.

ACES:

TENNISSETTE

A good beginning has been made, and on the whole, the boys have made steady progress. A tournament was arranged and Adshead and Sager scored the highest points.

The most promising players are:â\200\224D. Adshead, Sager, L. van Schalkwyk, G. Bax, D. Newcombe, and D. Jones-Phillipson.

A representative gathering of Old Kingswoodians heartily approved the suggestion, put forward by the Adelaide Branch, that Old Kingswoodians present to the school a portrait in oils of Capt. Rich as a token of their respect and regard for him.

The idea of thus perpetuating his memory and having his kindly presence always with the present boys and at gatherings of past pupils appealed so strongly to the meeting that a subscription list was commenced immediately, and within a few hours over £70 had been donated. A list of donors follows.

Acting on the recommendation of Mr. W. G. Wiles, who painted the portrait of Col. E. G. Gane which now hangs in the Dining Hall, the Executive Committee commissioned Mr. Frank Wiles to paint the portrait, and Capt. Rich is at present at Knysna spending a fortnight of his holiday sitting.

Mr. Frank Wiles is well known as an exhibitor at the London Academy. During the six years he has been in this country he has painted many prominent individuals, civil and governmental. The Rhodesian Government commissioned him to paint many retiring officials, and he has just completed a large portrait of General Smuts for the House of Assembly.

A portrait the same size as that of Col. Gane will cost at least 200 guineas.

I feel sure that all Old Kingswoodians who have passed through the hands, and those older ones who have come to know him, will want to have a share in this gesture.

Cheques should be made payable to the Old Kingswoodian Club, and should be sent to:

R. Q. TARR,
Wood House, Kingswood.

GENERAL

A. D. Divine, the novelist, has just produced what promises to be a best-seller novel, â\200\234The Golden Foolâ\200\235. The story has as its background the old Transvaal Republic, in the days before gold was discovered. In Britain and the United States the book is being serialised, and the publisher has already put in hand a second printing. â\200\234The Golden Foolâ\200\231 has already made its appearance in South Africa, and I can recommend it as delightful reading.

Five Old Kingswoodians of recent vintage had an unfortunate experience in February. These five, all Grahamstown lads, keen followers of cricket, were camping down in Port Elizabeth at the time of the fifth cricket test. On the Thursday night thieves entered their tent and removed clothes and money, leaving the lads only what they were wearingâ\200\224their pyjamas. A very woe-begone quintet had to forego the rest of the Test and return to Grahamstown in borrowed clothes. The five were: T. D. Field, J. A. Birt, K. G. Howard, B. E. Moss and M. N. Moss.

Michael Sadler, who has been teaching at Healdtown, has taken a yearâ\200\231s study leave and is now at Natal University.

John Tysonâ\200\231s interest in â\200\234full many a gem of purest ray sereneâ\200\235 has taken him to Oranjemund in South West Africa, where he is a shift boss on the mines. With nothing to spend his money on, he is saving hard.

Willem van Heerden is pleased to be able to say that he had at last got through his first year, and is now going to Onderstepoort to do the second leg of his veterinary course.

Desmond Whitfield, who is in the U.S.A. as present, but who is due back very soon, wrote in January: â\200\234I did not know the K.C. boys were going to England until I called on Owen Booysen who is second secretary to the South African Embassy in Washington, D.C., who had, in turn, heard from Clem Solomon. I arrived in Tampa, Florida, on August 2nd, and journeyed to New Orleans where I met my friend who had preceded me. We spent a few days in that intriguing city which is built on swamps, and whose buildings are on wooden piles driven into the mire. All the old graves are above ground, as in the olden days the people of New Orleans didn't like burying their dead in the mud. From New Orleans we continued by bus to Nashville, Tenn., where we spent a very hectic week with some very well-to-do friends.. We visited a famous horsebreeder near Lexington, Ky., where we saw some of the finest thoroughbreds in America. But at this rate our pockets were getting flatter and flatter, so over to Manhattan, Kansas, where, thanks to the Dean of Agriculture, we were soon located on farms in that area and spent six weeks there, learning a lot about American farming methods. From there we journeyed to Kansas City and worked at the American Royal Horse and Livestock Show, and had the opportunity of seeing some of the finest livestock and American saddle horses in circulation. While we were there we had the thrill of seeing Mr. Eisenhower. From Kansas City, where we bought a '48 Chev., we motored up through Missouri where we saw Jesse James's hide-out in St. Joseph; on into Iowa where 100 bushel/acre corn (maize) is common and where I would like to farm if I had to live here in America; up into Wisconsin with all its pretty barns (it is the dairy State) and then down to Chicago. You should have seen us two backvelders coming down on the 8-lane super highway with its under- and overpasses, merging traffic lanes and clover-leaves! ! Anyway, that windy city was very interesting with its wonderful Natural History and Science Museums and the finest Art Gallery in the world. While there we saw Julius la Rosa, the latest of crooners, who is earning a cool $10,000 a week. After nearly a week in Chicago, we jumped to Detroit where we were taken on a tour of the Plymouth Motor Assembly plantâ13,000 workers under one roof on 5 miles of assembly lines from which two cars roll off every minute. Into Canada and across Ontario to Niagara (we were duly impressed with the Falls) and then down to Cornell University where we spent two days going over the Mecca of Agriculture. From there to Boston, New York, Washington (where I met Owen Booyesen and his wife) and down to Virginia. From there we headed west, through Kentucky, Tennessee, Arkansas, Texas, New Mexico, and now Arizona where I hope to find a job for the winter months. Winter is even warmer here than back home. After this, California and then back to New York from where I am due to sail on the âQueen Elizabethâ on April 21st for a six or seven week stay in England before returning home. We have had a ton of fun, but I am looking forward to going homeâ.

âBushâ McLeod, at present in Nyasaland, called in here when he was down on long leave.

Harvey Tyson also called in when he was down here laying plans for his wedding. Harvey is on the staff of the âDaily Newsâ in Durban.

Port Elizabeth Old Kingswoodians held their annual dinner under the chairmanship of Keith Jardine, at the St. George's Club, on 19th March. Capt. Rich and R. Q. Tarr came down from Kingswood, and the Old Grey, Old Andean and Old Aidanite clubs were represented. A revered guest was Mr. H. Bezemer whom many of the older O.K.s will remember as the Nederlands teacher on the staff circa 1914. The Old Kingswoodians present were: Arthur Edmunds, W. J. MacMillan, Col. O. F. Wellington, Howard Birkett, Lloyd Morgan, P. W. Pitt, Cyril Schorn, Stanley Gush, David Simpson, Edgar Turner, John Sugden, W. M. Lyon, E. B. Watkins, L. J. Dollery, G. W. Watkins, Brian Hill, Charles Elliott.

George Anderson, recently of Bloemfontein, is now in business in East London.

W. E. Davey called in to see his brothers, Brian in Jagger House and Keith in Wood House. He had been taking part in the big Regatta at Zwartkops and Redhouse, â\200\234crewingâ\200\235 on one of the Transvaal boats. He finds yachting an invigorating and thrilling pastime. Davey is in the Standard Bank at Jeppe.

C. A. Marriner, of the Standard Bank at Port Elizabeth, spent ten days of his holiday at the Kowie. He called in here for a brief chat, on his way back.

On a more cheerful note he adds that Old Kingswoodians in the Union Cricket Club now number fourâ\200\224himself, Denis Howard, Errol Bruton and Bertie Moorcroft. Bertie Moorcroft intends to turn out for Crusaders and â\200\230Chickenâ\200\231 Simpson for Olympics. â\200\234On the last night of the S.A. Swimming Championshipsâ\200\235, he writes, â\200\234I saw Brian Mackenzie. He has taken up water polo and plays second leagueâ\200\235.

Willem van Niekerk, well-known farmer in the Bedford district, was asked to judge at the Perth Show in Scotlandâ\200\224a signal honour, because he is the first South African to have been asked to do so. He refused, because he is a judge of shorthorns only.

Roy Bowen is with the Shell Company in Salisbury. In the same section of this company is Garth Mouritzen who left last year.

Peter M. Clark, in the Johannesburg Municipal Fire Brigade (Central) called in en route to Cape Town where he is spending his leave.

David McKey is taking a commerce course at the Kroonstad technical college. As he is the only boy in the class, he will, no doubt, make rapid progress.

C. R. D. Pope, who spent three years in the Prep. during the war years, continued his education at the Picket Post School, Ringwood, Hants., England, and at Campbell College, Belfast, North Ireland. Stephen Bishop, with the firm Lamson Paragon, has been transferred from the East London branch to Johannesburg.

Many thanks to Maurice Dold for an armful of â\200\234Digestsâ\200\235 for the Sanatorium.

Dr. Osler is a keen angler and has many fine catches to talk about. His brother George, from the Western Province, will spend the Easter week-end with him. Tight-lines, you two!!

Rowland Roderick, who has retired to Plettenberg Bay, has visited Grahamstown several times recently. He has two daughters at D.S.G. and his wifeâ\200\231s people live here, so we see him two or three times a year. He, too, is a keen angler.

Not only can he write F.R.S.A., L.I.F.A. after his name, but also he has recently had accepted by that well-known British art magazine "The Artist" a series of articles on Commercial Lettering. These articles are appearing in the March, April, May and June issues of the magazine approached by Sir Isaac Pitman & Sons, London, publishers of technical Artist, and will later appear in book form. Bill Roderick brought three other O.K.s down from Bloemfontein for Foundation Day Brian Logie and the two Lederle brothers. Bill has a small son in the Prep.

Robert Loftie Eaton called in with his wife, formerly Miss Anky de Vries of Amsterdam. She finds South Africa strange but friendly, and is battling with languages and new customs. They are stationed in Port Elizabeth where Loftie is a sergeant in the S.A. Police Force.

David Gittins has now left the Navy, having succeeded in passing his final exams with excellent marks. He is planning now to do his matriculation by correspondence. He called in at Kingswood and had a cup of tea and a chat in the Staff room.

John Gittins has been accepted by African Explosives where he is to work in their laboratories. He has decided on a career in science and aims at getting his doctors degree in a few years time.

Michael Kimberley is still at Wits. and has recently managed to get through his second year of B.A., LL.B., with a first and three seconds. In a letter received from him in January he wrote: "When ever I am in Bulawayo I pop in to see Mr. Knight who is secretary of the Bulawayo Branch. When one of the club's functions coincides with my vacation, I hope to attend. The other day I met Gordon Haynes in Gwelo. He is working with the Southern Rhodesian Veterinary Department and is stationed near Fort Victoria about 100 miles from Gwelo. He says he likes the work but he anticipates accepting a more remunerative post in Kenya in the near future. Harold Guest is still in Gwelo, working for Meikles, Ltd.

He adds that Philip Tickle has had a wonderful opportunity. His firm sent him over to Ireland where he worked in their factory until January and then moved to London to study that side of the business. When he returns he will become Sales Manager and will probably be in charge of the Union organisation.

REUNION - - - - - EASTER, 1955 - - - - - APRIL 8th - 11th

A. Christophides is swotting hard for the bank exams. which he has to write later this year. He says: Last September the bank sent me to Salisbury for a course, and I met Alistair Ross there. He seems to be doing fine. The only Old Kingswoodian I see here quite often is Bill Kirkham who is working in the forests in our district. Du Toit was up here for a short while, but he has left the tobacco farm and gone back to the Union. I also met P. de Klerk who was working in the bank, but who has also returned to the Union.

Dennis Trotter, in the Standard Bank in Nyasaland, is back in Limbe, with promotion thrown in. He liked Blantyre very much and was sorry to leave. Ronnie Griffiths, he says, is still in Limbe and plans to be married in April. In July Trotter goes off overseas by air on well-earned long leave. Our good wishes for an enjoyable vacation go with him.

Walter Judge writes breezily from London, a letter full of information of O.K.s over there. He says: I met John Marx at a cocktail party for Overseas students at South Africa House. Since leaving University, I have joined Waterhouse & Co., and find two other O.K.s on the staff, Peter Sandys and Merrill Pike. Surprise of the year was bumping into Errol Otrlepp in Oxford Street. He was over on a holiday, and has now returned. John Derry is a frequent visitor to London House as he works nearby, in the Strand at Rhodesia House. I last saw Grant Park at a garden party given by H.M. the Queen at Buckingham Palace. Besides a topper and tails, he was sporting a huge brown moustache and _ a fiancée!

Warne Boyce, playing for Oxford against Cambridge, achieved mention in most of the sporting comments. The â\200\234Daily Heraldâ\200\235 of December 9th says: â\200\234I name A. W. Boyce of the Dark Blues, the man of the matchâ\200\235. It is interesting to note that in the Oxford side there were seven South Africans.

Ivan Dawe is now in business in Queenstown. He found time to attend Foundation Day.

Seeing the badge and reading the motto brought back vivid memories of my days at Kingswood, which is some twenty-seven years ago! I farmed for a while in this country, then went to Australia and New Zealand for a time. During the War I served in the S.A.A.F. for 53 years and got around quite a bit. Since the War I have been in the steel trade at Stewart & Lloyds here in Vereeniging.â\200\235

John Frayne says that recently he had the good fortune to run into Ronnie Osborne, firstly at a party in Johannesburg. and then at Ellis Park at the Test Match. â\200\234I also had the pleasure,â\200\235 he adds, â\200\234of seeing â\200\230Spannerâ\200\231 Stephens, and Trevor Whitfield and his brother. At the Ellis Park game I went and had a chat with Anton Murray who at that time was next man inâ\200\235.

Trevor Fancutt, who toured much of the country with Jaroslav Drobny was watched eagerly by nearly two hundred Kingswood boys when he and Drobny played before a large gathering of enthusiasts at City Lords. The tour must have been a wonderful experience to Fancutt and a great opportunity to learn from one of the worldâ\200\231s masters.

Jimmy Elliott was down at Port Alfred during the Easter week-end, with his wife and two small sons. He says his gymnasium is doing well, and he is trying to arrange for a boxing match between his young pupils and Kingswood.

The Johannesburg Branch of the O.K. Club held its annual gathering at the Old Johannian Club. There was a record attendance of well over 80. Jack Slater was the chief guest, and Col. G. A. Morris was in the chair.

D. B. Wallace has had a nasty motor-cycle smash, and will be hospitalised for some time. He is, however, as cheerful as a cricket thanks to the efficient and attractive staff with which he is surrounded.
