Speech Day, Prizegiving and Prize Lists

Because the internal school examinations were being written almost until the pupils' breaking-up day (the staff remained for another week) it was not possible to hold both the functions which have until now marked the end of the school year. Only a Senior Speech Day took place on 3rd December, a few hours after the last Senior Certificate paper had been written. At this ceremony prizes were awarded to the sixth form on the results of their half-year examination, and certain special prizes were also presented.

Our Guest of Honour was Professor Elizabeth Sneddon of the University of Natal's Speech and Drama Department. Before presenting the prizes Professor Sneddon spoke of the need for education in speech, which was in turn one of the best ways of educating the emotions.

Prizegiving

The ceremony, at which the fifth, fourth, third and second form prizes were presented, took place on Friday, 26th February, 1971. The Guests of Honour on this occasion were the incoming President of the Maritzburg College Old Boys' Association, Mr. O. Hart and Mrs. Hart.

New Role

The O.C. President now has an additional function, in terms of the new Education Act. Every school is required to have an Advisory Committee - a sort of parent-teachers' association - and the executive of the Old Boys' Association has received official recognition as the body to act in this capacity for Maritzburg College. As the Headmaster pointed out, this recognition is very pleasing and appropriate, as the Association's work is almost entirely concerned with the good of the school. Mr. Hart in addressing the gathering emphasised the opportunities and privileges which existed in South Africa, and urged Collegians not to be lacking in energy, discipline and determination to meet the problems and challenges which were inevitable. Mrs. Hart presented the prizes and was thanked by the Head Prefect, D. B. Erskine.

Endowed Prizes

The eight prizes awarded annually on the results of the Senior Certificate Examination went to five members of the 1970 sixth form.

High School Memorial Prize for the Dux: L. R. Reznec.

Lucas Memorial Prize for Science: H. T. Harbuz.

Clark Memorial Prize for Latin: R. A. Dyer.

Musgrave Memorial Prize for Mathematics: H. T. Harbuz.

Two of the winners of these endowed prizes, Reznick and Conning received them at a school assembly in February before they left Pietermaritzburg to begin their first term at University in Cape Town and Durban respectively. Two others, John and Harbuz, were given leave from their army units and were present, in uniform, at the Prizegiving on 26th February.

HEADMASTER'S REPORT

(This review of the Headmaster's Report confines itself to items not having a place elsewhere in the magazine.)

Commenting on the 1970 Senior Certificate results, the Headmaster was pleased to note the return to a good normal after a lean year in 1969. There were 114 Advanced Level candidates, and 90% passed on that level, 29% with Merit passes, and 66% with Matriculation Exemption. Of the twenty or so "A" aggregates in the Province, four were from College - Dyer, Freeborn, Harbuz and Reznek. The Dux - Reznek - scored six A's and a C, and as far as can be ascertained, this is College's best ever.

The Ordinary Level results were less pleasing, with only ten of the fifteen candidates passing.

Internal Examinations

In an effort to get boys to treat the June examinations more seriously, promotions in forms 2, 3, 4 and 5 will in future be decided on a combination of the June and December marks, in the ratio 1: 2.

Zulu

Our hopes of re-introducing Zulu as an examination subject in 1971 have not been realised. The teacher found by the Education Department later left the Natal Service, and so the arrangement fell through. Mr. Commons hoped that it might be possible to start the Zulu course in 1972.

The Maths/Science Bugbear

Certain changes in the regulations of the Joint Matriculation

Board will permit a candidate to secure an Exemption without Mathematics or a third language. This meant, said Mr. Commons, that the school would have to consider the advisability of introducing a course which would include neither Mathematics nor Physical Science. Though these two subjects are normally regarded as very necessary for boys, yet there are some boys whose progress at school is severely hampered by weakness in just these two subjects.

Discipline

Commenting on the fact that on an apparently increasing scale individuals in the school were seriously transgressing the limits of acceptable behaviour, the Headmaster said that he saw school and society on divergent courses in the matter of teenage behaviour - the former attempting to lay down traditional patterns of acceptable behaviour and the latter tending more and more to indulgence.

"While I believe," said Mr. Commons, "that the schools are right in insisting upon fairly rigid and high standards, and while I believe that parents look to the schools to do just this, yet I sometimes wonder how long this process can continue and at what stage the school, if it is to serve the interests, not the best interests perhaps, but the current interests of society, must give way to the pressure of the time."

Subject distinctions - i.e. "A" symbols - are shown by these abbreviations: E - English; A - Afrikaans; M - Mathematics;

S - Physical Science; aM - Additional Mathematics; L - Latin; H - History; G - Geography; Art - unabbreviated.

On the same day - 2nd March, 1971 -there passed away two ladies who had spent part of their lives at Maritzburg College. One was the daughter, the other the widow, of former headmasters. In Durban, Mrs. FLORENCE LANGLEY, daughter of R. D. Clark, and in Canberra, Australia, Mrs. ELLEN MAY PAPE, widow of Septimus W. Pape.

The Late Mr. S. E. Lamond

Tributes

By the time this is read, ten months will have passed since the death of the incomparable "Kafir" Lamond. Much was said and written at the time, at College itself, at the funeral service, and in written tributes both in the Old Boys' Association newsletter and in the press. Not least among the thoughts of those who knew him was the sad irony of the fact that at the time of the fatal accident, he was riding the bicycle which was as much a part of the Lamond "mystique" as anything else of his.

Varied Roles

Shafto Errol I Lamond was born in 1890, of a well-known Pietermaritzburg family. His father was at one time Registrar of Deeds for the Colony of Natal. At about the age of 12 Erroll (as he was known) began his sixty-eight year association with Maritzburg College - as a pupil, student at the new N.U.C. attached to the College, master, vice-principal, acting headmaster, and finally as elder statesman and unique repository of College lore and history. It is in this last role that many have seen his greatest contribution to College. In his tribute at the College assembly, the Headmaster, Mr. H. J. Commons, laid great emphasis on the intangible but very real benefit which the school derived from Mr. Lamond's unusual gifts - gifts consciously employed in the interests of Maritzburg College.

Different Generations

His interest in Collegians, their ancestry, their sporting and academic achievements, their careers and their families, coupled with his phenomenal memory for details, acted as a kind of cement, binding together Collegians of widely separated generations. For many years it was possible for Old Boys well into middle age to exchange reminiscences about "Kafir" Lamond with those of nineteen or twenty. He was truly the one person, more than any other, whom one thought of when thinking of College.

Poorer

It will be almost bewildering for the present schoolboys to hear that the two most recent headmasters of Maritzburg College were to Mr. Lamond "Fuller" and "Commons". He no doubt knew what forms they were in, in what years; where they sat; who their friends were; what they did or said on such-and-such an occasion - and all the rest. One really feels that the new generations of Collegians

PALLBEARERS (J. M. Deane)

Representing the Old Boys' Association and the school, the pallbearers approach St. Peter's Church through a double line of senior College boys. From the left they are Mr. Archie Blythe (Past President), Mr. Graham Maxwell (Hon. Treasurer), Mr. Alan McEwen (President), Mr. Roy Strachan (Vice-Principal), Mr. "Skonk" Nicholson (Deputy Headmaster) and Mr. Hector Commons (Headmaster).

will be the poorer for never encountering such an amazing person. We hesitate to say that Mr. Lamond's gifts and interests were unique

- he himself would have been quick to remind us how absolute a word it is - but we are certain that no present Collegian will meet anyone like "Kafir" in his life.

Funeral

His funeral service was in St. Peter's, a church he had attended regularly during his life. An address was given by Old Collegian Professor Edgar Brookes, in which he spoke of the two qualities which for him seemed to epitomise the life of S. E. Lamond. They were "simplicity of life" and "breadth of love". Our colleague the Editor of the "College Old Boy" commented most appropriately upon this, calling it -

. a most eminently chosen summary of the life of one who never sought the limelight, but for whom a particular and undying fame resulted from an intense interest in people and an abjuring of all material ostentation."

Staff and School Notes

A bequest of R200 to Maritzburg College in the will of the late Mr. S. E. Lamond was to be used at the discretion of the Headmaster. It has been added to donations to the Maritzburg College and Old Boys Memorial Trust in Mr. Lamond's memory. The trust has now established the Erroll Lamond Memorial Bursary Fund to send College boys to Veld and Vlei, Wilderness Leadership or similar courses. The appropriateness of this will be apparent to those who remember Mr. Lamond's interest in the outdoors.

With the Library integration programme being started in 1971 (see Memorial Library report). Mr. Tony Wills has joined Mrs. Margaret A'Bear as full-time teacher-librarian. Together they assist subject teachers and classes in the planning and carrying out of research projects in the Library. Another part of their work is Book Education - teaching pupils how to use the catalogues, find their way about the Library, take notes and generally plan their reading intelligently.

Once again the College Art pupils won all the Royal Show trophies for which they were eligible. The Preema Trophy for Senior Boys' Schools is ours for the ninth successive year, and the R.A.S. Boys' Inter-School Floating Trophy for Arts and Crafts, and the R.A.S. Crafts and Home Industries Trophy for the most points, were both won for the fifth successive year.

Mr. L. H. Hawken having just completed a B.Ed. degree (with a first-class pass) was called up for military service and will spend most of 1971 lecturing in the naval establishment at Saldanha Bay.

At the end of 1970 we bade farewell to a number of staff members. Mr. O. J. C. Nel and Mr. E. R. Landsberg left on promotion, to a lectureship at Edgewood Training College, Pinetown and a Vice-Principalship at Cato Ridge, respectively. Mr. J. W. Relihan and Mr. R. T. W. Sparks went on transfer to Scottsville Government School and Westville Boys' High School respectively. Mr. J. Tindall resigned in order to go to the United Kingdom for a year.

VISITOR FROM CANADA

Old Collegian Norton Philpott

An interesting visitor in February, 1971, was Norton Philpott who left College in 1950. After about four years working for a bank in Verulam and Durban

he went overseas in 1955 on a working and touring holiday, intending to be away about six months. With some other South Africans he travelled 14,000 miles on a four-month tour of Europe, then rejoined his bank in London, where he worked for a further 18 months. Later he travelled to New York aboard the "Queen Mary", bound eventually for Montreal, Canada.

Before starting work with the Royal Bank of Canada he filled in time as an encyclopaedia salesman and an orderly on emergency call in a large hospital. Mr. Philpott had intended to work in Canada for a while, to save money for a return trip to South Africa through the Pacific, Australasia and Hong Kong.

Marriage to a Canadian girl, however, altered his plans; he stayed on in Montreal and in addition to raising a family, found time to study for a B.Comm. degree with a major in Business Administration. He is now a senior member of a firm specialising in sawing and drilling reinforced concrete. The firm has developed a unique method of producing the diamond saw-blade and drill-bits used in this work, and has formed a manufacturing company. Mr. Philpott's trip to South Africa combined business and a vacation. Accompanied by his wife, it was the first time he had been back to this country since he left for England fifteen years ago. He was interested to see the changes in the appearance of College during this time.

H4 =!' ^

Various outdoor expeditions were arranged during 1970, and continue this year. Mr. de Bruin, even though he had left the staff, kept his contact with College, and took a party of boys to Cathedral Peak. In August Mr. Lake arranged a similar trip to Giant's Castle, and in November, a one-day excursion (with a geographical and geological bias) to Table Mountain (see pictures on p. 26).

Plans for the expansion of the school are still at an early stage, though the architects have produced a drawing for discussion and comment. Old Collegians will be interested to hear that the demolition of the old classroom block and the building of a three-storey block stretching from the top bank of Barns's ground almost to the Science block, is now no longer envisaged. It is also reassuring to know that there has never been any intention to do away with Clark House or the Victoria Hall. It is likely, however, that Clark's will not continue purely as boarding accommodation, as at present. Somehow it seems that any overall plan for future development will have to allow for the building of another boarding establishment.

James Radford (form 6, 1970), planned and undertook a ninety mile hike during the Easter vacation, on which he retraced the routes taken in the various attempts by General Buller to relieve Ladysmith. In five days he and two companions (all Scouts) went from Colenso to Spion Kop, back to Colenso via Vaalkrans, and on to Ladysmith. The admirable log-book written by Radford won first prize in the Natal section of the "Bata Toughees" competition, and was placed second in the overall national competition. Our congratulations toÂ« him, and also to his two companions, his brother John Radford and Michael John, for their share in the achievement.

During the second half of 1970 the Headmaster announced that the whole of the double-storey classroom block would be named the Fuller Block after the previous headmaster Mr. R. E. Fuller. This block and the Elizabeth Hall were built during Mr. Fuller's headmastership.

During 1970 Mr. J. Lewis joined the staff to replace Mr. H. de Bruin who was seconded to the Education Department's psychological services. Mr. A. G. Edwards took over the second Handicrafts shop which had been closed for some time due to lack of staff.

We recall that in our 1958 edition there appeared an interesting and entertaining account of a childhood spent at Maritzburg College. The writer was headmaster R. D. Clark's daughter, Mrs. Florence Langley, whose death is recorded on the obituary page of this edition.

BIRTH OF THE BLUES

This Collector's piece was turned up during a recent spring-cleaning of Common-room lockers. It was written about ten years ago by a member of the College Staff whose humour is unfortunately no longer a College amenity. (Not that he has ceased to be humorous, but is no longer on our Staff). The hero of this piece is also an ex-colleague. Old Collegians of the 1946-1963 vintages who would like to identify the author may be helped by a whiff of Cheddar, Gouda or Limburger.

"I want it clearly understood," said the Headmaster, "that those who invigilate must refrain from participating in any activities which might conceivably impair the performance of their duties. After all, Gibson, the word 'invigilate' comes from the Latin word . . . er . . . from which the English word 'vigil' has sprung." (The HM was a mathematician). "Therefore," he continued, "I hope that in future you will forbear from the perusal of literature during your stint."

Gibson's "Yessir" fell on deaf ears. The HM had already weighed anchor and sailed to blast other ships in other ports.

The Hall in which Gibson's invigilation was being so thoroughly performed had once been a gymnasium, but the growth of the school's enrolment had obliged the authorities to convert the room's use to the development of the minds, rather than of the bodies, of the scholars. Consequently, at exam time 150 young citizens of the future were crammed into the room under the supervision of a solitary invigilator. The theory was that it lessened the load on invigilators. After the first half-hour of the three-hour paper Gibson was not sure of this. Deprived of the solace of his novel by the unthinking insistence of the HM, he now felt obliged to keep his eyes darting from corner to corner of the room.

Time passed abominably slowly. He tried ignoring his watch and falling into an oblivion of the time factor only to be rudely hauled back to reality by the bleating of "How much more time have we, Sir?" Gibson was appalled at the discovery that a full two hours remained. He contrasted the tardiness of the passage of time now with the incredible acceierative power it had developed the previous night at the Causerie. Perhaps it was the alcohol. Ah, there'd been rather too much alcohol.

"Please sir, shall I do this diagram on the next page or at the bottom of this one?"

"Bottomley," replied Gibson, "I have no preferences in the matter. It does not concern me whether you turn to the next page or not. If your overriding urge is to save paper - a laudable aim then try squeezing it in at the foot of the page. Or better still, draw it on the wall there!"

"Please sir, must we show the working in this, or should we . .

"Hughes, never show more than is decent. No more, no less. Let that be your unswerving rule in life."

So the questions, all of them profound, went on, each one necessitating a walk of up to eighty feet. The Gibson mentality, already strained by the frivolity of the night before, was simply not up to this form of the third degree.

He tried making a mental inventory of the contents of the room:

150 imbeciles;

150 crates to keep them in;

2 vaulting horses in a corner, relics of happier days;

1 aged upright piano.

"I bet it's a real honky tonk by now," thought Gibson. He moved up to it and blew the dust from the lid. He raised the lid a few inches and slid a tentative finger on to a key. A genuine honky tonk! Guiltily he swung round, glared at the startled candidates, and looked airily at the ceiling until all eyes swivelled back to their papers

"Exam Room Blues," mused Gibson,

"Exam Room Blues,

Dey's getting me down,

Gonna get me
Far from dis town."

* * *

Augustus Stryker, M.A. (Oxon.), had completed his admonitory rounds of the exam rooms and was settling his bulk into his neatly fitting swivel chair when a strange sound assailed his ears. "A portable wireless, by gad!" he muttered. "Someone's had the gall to bring a wireless into my school!" he thundered as he reached for his cane and moved at surprising speed for the door.

The music was louder now. It seemed to have its origins in the Gymnasium. Yes, definitely the Gymnasium. And was that not the cheering of boys' voices rising above the din of the piano?

The sight that greeted A. Stryker's astonished gaze when he burst into the gymnasium was one that will go down in the annals of the school. Pounding away at the piano, his eyes feverish, his coat tails flapping, his light foot stamping out the beat, was Gibson. The exam candidates were singing, clapping their hands to the general beat of the music, and some had even gathered in a group round the master.

22.

"Mister Gibson!" bellowed the HM.

"Only one more hour to go, Stryker, old cock," shouted Gibson, without pausing at the keyboard.

"One More hour,

Dey say dare's one more hour to go.

Dis'vigilations,

De finest job ah know
Stryker baby,

Have you heard da news?

I'se busy writing
D'Invigilation Blues."

FACE, VOICE AND MOVEMENT AS INDICATIONS OF EMOTION

In psychology, emotion is regarded as a response to stimuli involving definite physiological changes, such as a change in pulse-rate, body temperature, rate of respiration and glandular activity. Our visceral brain, our lower brain or as Eugene Marais calls it, our "subliminal soul" effects these physiological changes when it reacts to the stimulus. These physiological changes have a survival value. For instance, our body is kept cool before combat by profuse sweating. According to William James (1884) emotion is the response of our "higher brain" or "cerebral cortex" to the induced physiological changes. Thus life lower on the evolutionary scale, experiences physiological changes, but not the emotions which accompany them in higher forms of life.

Conditioning

The stimuli that evoke the physiological changes depend, in humans, largely upon learning or conditioning. For example, a child has an innate fear of falling (derived perhaps from the human arboreal past), unexpected loud noises and suddenly appearing and fast-moving animals (derived from the time when we, as hunters, had to beware of beasts of prey), but fear of snakes, ghosts, etc., is learnt. Thus the higher brain is connected to the lower, the higher receiving and interpreting changes, and the higher responding to the changes, i.e. experiencing emotion. Emotions can be controlled by shutting off the stimuli from the visceral brain - and thus stopping any resultant physiological change.

Fundamental Emotions

It seems that we have only three fundamental emotions and they are love, anger/aggression and fear/anxiety. (Anxiety is vague fear, but also arises from conflicting emotions and drives, and guilt). There are however other emotional states, but they do not qualify as being true emotions: Pleasure, depression and frustration are not reactions resulting from physiological changes that depend on a stimulus. Pleasure is the satisfaction of a drive/goal (as defined) - a physiological state of contentment, lack of tension.

"The goal of fear is to escape a fear-producing situation, the goal of anger is to attack. Hence the achievement of these goals is also regarded as pleasant" (Morgen). Frustration is interference with a drive, and is the stimulus for aggression. (Dollard's "frustration and aggression" hypothesis). Depression results from, inter alia, external difficulties and physical ill-health.

Face, Voice, Movement

We shall now discuss facial, vocal and motor indications of aggressions, fear and love. We will take aggression first. A loud sharp, high-pitched voice usually expresses anger. Aggression occurs after frustration and humiliation, but can also be spontaneous ("On Aggression" - Konrad Lorenz). Aggressive vocalizations can occur, and must not be regarded as a complete facade, for if the subject was completely motivated by fear, he wouldn't be there to utter them! (These threatening vocalizations are thus motivated jointly by fear and aggression). The subject experiencing aggression goes pale (a vaso constriction process where the blood flows to the muscles preparing them for vigorous action), sweats, and his hair may stand on end (an animal response to appear larger to the enemy). He will also breathe heavily, clench his fists and advance on the enemy. As well as the obvious motor indication of advancing on an enemy, "displacement activity" can also occur. When the subject's aggression is opposed by fear, social norms or his conscience, he will redirect his aggression to a less intimidating object or an inanimate one, or he may release his tension by totally unrelated activity, such as taking out a cigarette, scratching his head or looking at his watch! Many a vase or dish has been broken on the floor, and aggression discharged on something other than the aggression-provoking person. Facial expressions of teeth-baring and forehead wrinkling are mistaken as being fierce signals (they are culturally accepted as such), but according to Desmond Morris ("The Naked Ape") they are fear signals inherited from our primate past. He says that a smooth forehead and lips forming a tight pursed line are danger signals.

Rage

The physiological components of fear and anger are practically identical (Canon), although they are effected by completely different drives, the one to assault and the other to flee, but obviously both require physical effort (though in different directions!). According to Desmond Morris, opponents signal to each other how aggressive they are (by shouting, threatening, going pale, etc.), or how much they are motivated by fear. The loser of this "ritualized fight" will have to appease the more dominant individual, and thus we get our submissive displays. And since they are anti-aggression gestures, they can be regarded as being motivated by fear. The subject motivated by fear will stand still (i.e. not advance), he may even bow his head or grovel. He will also lower his eyes ("a direct stare is typical of the most out-and-out aggression" - Morris). Chimpanzees offer a vulnerable part of their body (e.g. a hand) when appeasing a dominant male, and we inherit his submissive display in the form of the handshake (many submissive displays have gradually come to mean friendly ones. Smiling is also a submissive display (cf. teeth-baring" - Morris). According to Konrad Lorenz the appeasement signal of smiling arose from redirected threatening, the threatening of someone else, so that feelings of affection could well up unchecked. Displacement activity also occurs in fear-causing situations.

Love

We now come to the last of what I feel are the true emotions - love. The subject who is in love "holds himself or herself erect, legs have tighter tone and even the face changes - sagging, jowliness and pouches under the eyes all decrease" (Schefflen). Eyes will be brighter and the skin may become either flushed or pale. As far as motor indications go, preening is a definite sign. This is inherited from our original past when preening effectively reduced the aggression of a dominant male. (i.e. a submissive gesture and a redirection of aggression. Lovers will probably look deep and searchingly into each other's eyes).

States

With reference to the emotional states. Pleasure can be indicated by laughter, the mouth turning up and the eyes slanting. (Depression is indicated by a drooping mouth and eyes). There will be a lack of tension (i.e. a goal satisfied) in the subject's voice, his movements (i.e. no tension-relieving displacement activity) and his facial expression. Frustration, as mentioned previously, is the stimulus for aggression, though it can be regarded as an emotional state. The subject's face, voice and movements will display an urgency (i.e. full of tension) and will usually result in aggression, redirection of aggression, or if social inhibition is very strong (i.e. anticipation of punishment) the subject will experience the emotion of anxiety (conflict between conscience and aggression).

Thus we have found that emotions can be fairly easily detected in face, voice and movement, where the manifestations of the emotions are genetically inherited from our animal past. Expression of emotion does however vary from individual to individual, and culture to culture.

Many desire to see their name in print.

Was too young and too silly.

I fear a madness held me.

Thou art inclined to sleep.

I was made erect and lone.

What the devil art thou?

Think not of them, thou hast thy music too.

Then will I laugh and clap my hands, as they do now at me.

Goe, lovely rose.

Lords that can prate so amply and unnecessarily.
My mother wept, my father groaned.

And not to blush so, to be admired.

I'll to my book.

Letting the belly have its say.

But suck'd on countrey pleasures childishly.

Birds faint in dread.

What have we here? A man or a fish?

Gloomy and dark art thou.

Thou still unravished bride of quietness.

I would with such perfection govern, sir.

Though thou cans't swim like a duck, thou art

I choose never to stoop.

To be human is more difficult .

But as I raved and grew more fierce and wild.

To study reading books and histories.

Oh to stand as high as a pigmy.

In search of wit these lose their common sense.

His silent thoughts are not for us.

That beasts shall tremble at thy din.

No hill can idler be than I!

Three lovely notes he whistled too soft to be heard.
A soundless length of good nature.

Peace, peace, he is not dead, he doth but sleep.
Fade far away, dissolve and quite forget.

Oft rebuked, but always back returning.

I walk through the long schoolroom questioning.
Bedlam, this is a pretty sport.

Bright star, would I were as steadfast as thou.

No longer trembles at applause.

The year 1970 saw Maritzburg College celebrate its 100th year as a cricket-playing school. To honour the occasion a most enjoyable dinner, organised by the Old Collegians, was held at the Imperial Hotel with Jack McGlew, Dr. G. Campbell and Mr. "Tiger" Kent, as guest speakers. More than 150 former 1st Eleven players attended, and the evening was a great success.

During the year, inter-school matches were organised for 15 teams and another 5 teams participated in a domestic "Cake League" under the supervision of B. A. Fell, whose many services to cricket at College are sincerely appreciated.

As a South African Schools Team had been invited to tour Australia during the latter half of December and January the Annual D.H.S.-College Invitation Week was suspended to accommodate the Offord Week which was held in Pietermaritzburg during Michaelmas; and Nuffield Week took place early in December. Unfortunately, the invitation from Australia was withdrawn and a consolation short tour of the major centres of the Republic and Rhodesia took place. D. Bestall, the School's Captain, was included as Vice-Captain of the South African Nuffield Team and L. Aitken and M. G. Elliott represented the Natal Schools Team in Port Elizabeth.

FIRST XI

Played 19, Won 9, Lost 2, Drew 7

31st January v Hilton College at Hilton

On the plumb Hilton wicket, Hilton had no hesitation in batting after winning the toss and scored 195 for 7 before declaring. In reply College tried vainly to beat the clock and at stumps were 141 for 5 wickets.

Result: Match drawn.

7th February v Michaelhouse at College

On a damp wicket Michaelhouse, after electing to bat, soon found themselves in trouble against Aitken, who in an unbroken spell of 16 overs claimed 6 wickets for only 23 runs. College started poorly but Larkin and Barrow retrieved the position before another collapse by the middle order batsmen saw the game swing in the visitors' favour, with half the side out for a paltry 47 runs. Elliott blending restraint with aggression saw College safely past the Michaelhouse total.

Result: College won by 4 wickets.

14th February v Kearsney College at College

Kearsney, after being asked to bat, started slowly but solidly and were able to declare at 164 for the loss of only 2 wickets. Despite a bright innings of 68 from Elliott, the match ended in a draw with College 155 for five wickets at stumps.

Result: Match drawn.

21st February v D.H.S. at D.H.S.

Winning the toss and electing to bat first on a good wicket, but lacking application and dedication to build a substantial total, College slumped against fine bowling which was well supported in the field. The D.H.S. opening batsmen saw their side off to an excellent start and the College score of 61 was bettered for the loss of only 1 wicket.

Result: D.H.S. won by 9 wickets.

28th February v King Edward School in Johannesburg

The lesson of the previous weekend being learnt enabled College to declare at 237 for 4 wickets with Bestall scoring an undefeated century and Healey and Larkin lending admirable support. The declaration was perhaps delayed too long and at the close the strong K.E.S. XI had scored 142 runs for the loss of 6 wickets.

Result: Match drawn.

7th March v Northlands at College

The morale of the players reached new heights and Northlands slumped to 40 all out. Bestall was in excellent form with the ball, claiming 6 wickets for 2 runs. College were able to declare at 136 for the loss of 3 wickets and only a fighting innings by Wheeler enabled Northlands to stave off an innings defeat.

Result: College won by 9 wickets on 1st innings.

14th March v Glenwood at College

Once again Bestall displayed good form, scoring 82 runs and this enabled College to declare at 167 for 7. Glenwood in their turn at the crease struggled against a determined and accurate attack, only Michell batting with any authority. Aitken proved to be the most successful bowler with 5 wickets for 18 runs off 16 overs.

Result: College won by 70 runs.

21st March v Pretoria Boys' High at College

Heavy overnight rain delayed the start of this match by 2\ hours and Bestall had no hesitation in asking the visitors to bat on winning the toss. Kauffman and Ryan, the visitors openers batted extremely well on a hostile wicket and after their departure the wickets fell in quick succession until Edwards's longhandled second highest score leaving College 90 minutes in which to score 115 runs for victory. Healey opened brightly but accurate bowling and sound field placing saw College needing 26 runs with nine wickets intact at the close.

Result: Match drawn.

3rd October v Graeme College at College

The first Saturday of the Michaelmas holiday saw College as hosts to the touring Graeme College XI. Aitken and Fifield provided a very warm welcome and 26 overs saw Graeme College all out for a mere 31 runs. The College openers started well and College declared at 156 for 2 wickets.

In their second innings Graeme College fared much better but were not able to force College to bat again. Aldous 4/35 and J. Larkin, in his first appearance in the 1st XI, with 3/23 claiming most wickets.

Result: College won by an innings and 17 runs.

Offord Week:

5th October v South Durban Schools at Riverside

The sound win at the expense of Graeme College proved a tonic. College started soundly and declared at 218 for the loss of two wickets, Healey being undefeated with a sound 84 whilst Bestall and Larkin also recorded good scores. South Durban fought back well but careless running between the wickets saw them lose two wickets at a critical stage of the game.

Result: College won by 80 runs.

6th October v D.H.S. at Oval

Only College's dismal performance during the first term could have persuaded the D.H.S. Captain to send College in to bat on an extremely plumb Oval wicket. College accepted the invitation with thanks and declared at 243 for the loss of 5 wickets. Bestall recorded his second century of the year, Barrow batted soundly for 63 whilst Elliott and Aitken found the going easy against a tired attack. At stumps D.H.S. had replied by scoring 110 runs for the loss of 3 wickets.

Result: Match drawn.

7th October v Glenwood at Alexandra

The winning of the toss saw Glenwood struggle on a freshly prepared wicket. Poor batting played no small part in their cheap dismissal as Roberts certainly found no problems in scoring a sound 40, nearly half his team's runs. The College openers batted forcibly and when it started to rain, Glenwood sportingly carried on bowling with the wet ball for a few overs, thus, enabling College to pass their score without loss.

Result: College won by 10 wickets.

Fourth Term:

17th October v Michaelhouse at Michaelhouse

The cricket adage that catches win matches was clearly illustrated in this match, where on a chilly day, College proceeded to grass the ball at least half a dozen times. Michaelhouse capitalised on these mistakes scoring 195 to which College replied with 155 runs for 6 wickets.

Result: Match drawn.

24th October v Glenwood at Glenwood

The fact that most games in Natal were cancelled because of rain had little to do with this dramatic day of cricket. The wicket was firm and well grassed. College won the toss, elected to bat, and failed, with the exception of Elliott, who defied all bowlers and scored an invaluable 44 runs in a total of 92. Aitken, once again, proved to be the rock on which so many Glenwood cricket hopes have floundered. In a magnificent spell of seam bowling he returned the fine analysis of 6 wickets for 9 runs off 13 overs, 10 of which were maidens.

Result: College won by 72 runs.

31st October v D.H.S. at College

A fine stand of 49 looked foreboding as D.H.S. opened their innings after being invited to bat, but accurate bowling and determined fielding saw the D.H.S. batting collapse and College were left the relatively easy task of scoring 115 runs for victory. D.H.S. struck back and with 3 wickets down for a small total Bestall and Elliott had to muster all their resources to steady the innings and see College within striking distance of this score.

Result: College won by 4 wickets.

7th November v St. Charles at College

A defiant innings by last man Hammond (22) saw St. Charles total 92. College passed this total for the loss of 3 wickets and declared at 151 for 7 wickets. A more determined College attack saw St. Charles 28 runs for 9 wickets, struggling to avoid an innings defeat, at stumps.

Result: College won by 7 wickets.

14th November v. Westville at College

Westville batting first found scoring difficult against a rampant Fifield whose 6 wickets for 12 runs were earned by honest endeavour in a fine opening spell. The Westville score of 98 was still a long way off with two College wickets down for 14 runs when a violent rainstorm ended play prematurely.

Result: Match drawn.

21st November v Hilton, at College

Hilton started soundly after winning the toss and declared at 171 for the loss of 8 wickets. College, after losing Healey cheaply, fought back when Bestall and Barrow added 50 runs before being separated but the other batsmen, Elliott apart, surrendered tamely and saw College dismissed for 109 with eleven minutes to spare.

Result: Hilton won by 61 runs.

UNDER 15A XI

The feature of the under 15 group this year has been its tremendous depth of talent and the cricket side has been a very well balanced side of potentially fine sportsmen. The disappointment has been that they have seldom produced the cricket of which they are all capable and where the record should have been, an unbeaten one, the team suffered two really heavy defeats in the second half at the hands of sides they most comprehensively beat in the first. The captain in the first half, Larkin, was the only player to achieve his potential and as a result was lost to the 1st XI leaving Du Bois to lead the team. He proved capable, and had able support from Karg, a dependable

and vastly improving opening bat; Hedley, who bowled consistently well and scored runs sometimes; Sharp, a sound cricket-keeper and useful hitter of the ball; and Smallie, a very good and steady left-arm spinner. Others to perform well with the bat were Kjonstad and Purbrick, who began to emerge as potentially very good stroke makers.

The tremendous keenness and spirit in which they have approached the game has been of credit to all the members of the side.

Those who consistently represented the team are:

Larkin (Captain in the first term), Du Bois (Captain in the last term), Painter, Karg, Kjonstad, Purbrick, Hedley, Sharp, Smallie, Braithwaite, Markham, Bodill, Johnson.

Results of matches played:

v HILTON: Match drawn. Larkin 56 and 5/24; Sharpe 36.

v MICHAELHOUSE: Won by 8 wkts. Karg 42, Hedley 4/15, Smallie 3/14.

v KEARSNEY: Won by 80 runs. Larkin 56 n.o. and 4/34; Smallie 3/13.

v D.H.S.: Won by 3 wkts. Smallie 6/56, Painter 36.

v NORTHLANDS: Won by 3 wkts. Larkin 3/37, Smallie 3/31, Purbrick 33 n.o.

v P.B.H.S.: Won by 7 wkts. Markham 5/21, Hedley 3/19, Karg 62, Painter 35.

v MICHAELHOUSE: Lost by 6 wkts. Sharp 42, Hedley 38.

v GLENWOOD: Won by 15 runs. Sharp 49, Hedley 4/21.

v D.H.S.: Lost by 134 runs. Hedley 4/53.

v ST. CHARLES: Won by an innings and 59 runs. Kjonstad 45, Karg 37, Hedley 36 n.o., 3/20 and 3/17, Johnson 5/4.

v WESTVILLE: Match drawn. Hedley 4/24.

v HILTON: Match drawn. Johnson 3/33.

UNDER 15B XI

The team had quite a good season winning 7 matches, losing 2 and drawing 2.

By the middle of the 1st term the composition of the team had been decided and we were very successful in the 2nd term.

Louw and Staley proved a sound opening partnership and were backed up by consistent batting from Harris, Brandsma and Dennison.

The all-rounders Atkinson, Johnson and Hellens were very strong - all proving their worth in several matches. Atkinson in particular taking 40 wickets and scoring 138 runs.

The bowlers Field, Louw, Atkinson, Johnson and Bodill proved an effective combination with Field taking second place in wicket taking with 35 victims.

O'Neill was a more than competent wicket keeper.

Notable innings were 105 not out by Dennison against Northlands, 77 by Harris against Glenwood, 76 by Brandsma against Hilton, and 76 not out by Johnson against Northlands.

UNDER 14A XI

The Under 14A XI enjoyed a successful season although there were one or two lapses. On occasions the batting was somewhat brittle and the good work of bowlers and fielders was wasted. Although all members of the team played their parts, N. Daniels was the mainstay of the side, and with experience, should develop into an excellent all-rounder. The following played regularly for the side: H. Brown (Capt.), N. Daniels (Vice-Capt.), M. Lambert, C. Kelly,

D. Dixon, M. Mantle, M. Thompson, A. Human, D. McNeill, D. Robertson,

M. Kettley and M. Makin.

Results:

v VOORTREKKER U15: Drawn (Lambert 60)

v HILTON: Drawn (Brown 3/34).

v MICHAELHOUSE: Lost by 4 runs (McNeillie 6/23, Daniels 3/20).

v KEARSNEY: Won by 197 runs on 1st innings (Lambert 30, Daniels 144 Brown 53, Daniels 6/5 and 3/7, Brown 4/11 and 3/1).

v D.H.S.: Won by 32 iuns (Daniels 4/17, McNeillie 4/21).

v NORTHLANDS: Drawn (Daniels 30, Thompson 4/7, Daniels 4/8).

v GLENWOOD Won by 67 runs (Daniels 45 and 6/25, Brown 38).

v MICHAELHOUSE: Lost by 43 runs (Daniels 4/49).

v GLENWOOD: Won by 90 runs (Lambert 38, Daniels 42, Brown 5/10).

v D.H.S.: Won by 23 runs (Daniels 37 and 4/37, McNeillie 4/37).

v ESTCOURT: Won by innings and 191 runs (Lambert 94, Daniels 68, Koliy 32, Thompson 4/13, McNeillie 3/8, Daniels 7/0).

v WESTVILLE: Drawn. Rain washed out play (Daniels 32).

v HILTON. Lost by 7 wkts. (Daniels 5/44).

UNDER 14B XI

Rosults: Played 9, Won 5, Lost 3, Drawn 1.

An ubove average B team which only had to bat to No. 11 on three occasions, tut on thoso ocasions the majority failed dismally. They did not always mako the most of tholr opportunities, but they were always keen and the fielding was of a high standard. C. Waddell ably captained the side.

M. Kolly and M Makin (oarly on in the season) and N. Anderson (for most ol the rr.atchos) often gave the team a good opening partnership. N.

Kromborg, who was the wicketkeeper, ulso batted well

Tho bowling performances woro generally good with Waddell being the ch ief wicket taker M5 wickets at 4.3 runs apiece). Valuable support was given by

V. Anloy, D. Groth and R. Roodt.

Regular members of the team were C. Waddell (Capt), N. Anderson (Vice-Capt), G. AltKen, V. Anloy, D. Groth, M. Kelly, N. Kromborg, I. Nicholson R Roodt, and (V Walker. Others who played were P. Braithwaite, M. Kettley, B. McLuckie, M Makin, R. Orchard, G. Taylor, G. Tedder and R. Wright.

UNDER 13A XI

The Under 13A had a very successful year's cricket losing only to D.H.S. In the first quarter. We were fortunate in having Wimbush to replace McGlew (who left to go to Portlaoise Boys' High School after the first quarter) as Captain.

The side's success was a result of an all-round team effort. On most occasions one or other player made a big score and even the lower order batsmen contributed some valuable knocks. Our ability to dismiss opponents cheaply was the result of consistently good bowling by the opening pair, Deas and McGibbon, who reaped most of the season's wickets.

Regular team members were Wimbush (Capt.), Solo, Kitchen, Drew. Comrie, du Tertre, Player McGibbon, Deas (Vice-Capt), Markham, Martin, Cartwright, (McGlew).

Results:

First Quarter:

v KEARSNEY: Collopy 142 for 7 doc. (Wimbush 41, du Tertre 32). Kearsney 102 (Doas 6/19, McGibbon 3/20). Won by 40 runs.

v D.H.S.: D U.S. 129 (McGibbon 4/15, Doas 2/21, Cartwright 2/14). College 85. Lost by 44 runs.

v CLIFTON: Clifton 111 (Deas 5/39). College 112 for 9 (Sole 27). Won by one wicket.

v GLENWOOD: College 214 for 5 dec. (Player 78 n.o., Sole 68 n.o.). Glenwood 88 (Deas 5/20, McGibbon 3/32). Won by 126 runs.

Fourth Quarter:

v WESTVILLE: College 172 for 9 (Kitchen 35, Sole 33, Du Tertre 33). Rain

v MERCHISTON U12A: College 211 for 8 dec. (Wimbush 57, Kitchen 50, Du Tertre 33). Merchiston 111 (Deas 7/31). Won by 100 runs.

UNDER 13B XI

Once again this was a very happy and enthusiastic band of cricketers who always played bright attacking cricket. They won far more games than they lost. The side was ably led during the first term by Player and then by Knoble when Player was promoted. A tower of strength to the side was Norris-Jones, but other players also played some fine cricket on occasions.

UNDER 13C XI

Weather and other circumstances resulted in this team having, unfortunately, only two inter-school fixtures. There were also two other matches in which some of the boys combined with other Under 13 teams. This was most disappointing and we hope to have more fixtures in future for the Under 13C team.

THE FIRST FIFTEEN

The 1st XV finished the year with a very fine record. Only one match was lost and that by the narrow margin of one point. Bestall made an ideal captain. His outstanding form and know-how was an inspiration and his enthusiasm soon pervaded the whole team, the spirit of which at all times was excellent. Bestall helped considerably with the training of the team and their success owes much to his leadership. He was ably supported by Vice-Captain Aitken who in his own quiet way did much to encourage the team to greater efforts, both in training and in matches. His accurate place kicking was invaluable and the points which he notched, often at critical times, did much to boost the morale of the side.

After our 1969 visit to Rhodesia we were pleased to entertain three Rhodesian schools: Plumtree, Guinea Fowl and Gifford Tech. Each of these sides was a fine set of boys who gave us some entertaining rugby.

The forwards in the 1st XV, though light, developed into a good combination. Strauss (loose-head), Anderson and Ward gave us a sturdy and hard-working front rank who were ably supported by the locks: Larkan and Wills. The loose forwards were Thompson, Hogg (Flankers) and Elliott No. 8. Hogg, completely inexperienced as he was, was chosen as pack leader. He improved considerably during the season and the pack soon responded to his leadership. The forwards may have lacked weight but they were a very mobile pack and were often able to get to stoppages before the opposition.

The backs had plenty of thrust and were exceptionally fast. They often delighted the spectators with their style of play and their storming runs for the line. At all times they attempted to play attacking rugby and a feature of the season was the fine team work and the intensive backing up. Holmes and Whitelaw made a fine pair of wings who used their speed very effectively.

Bestall and Healey at centre soon came to a fine understanding. Their speed, handling and ability to take gaps or switch the direction of attack led to many splendid tries. Aitken's steadiness at fly-half meant much to the side while Backhouse at scrum-half came through a hard season with a great deal of credit.

Usher had a successful season at full-back and was effective in both defence and attack. In the third quarter he played a few games at fly-half while Aitken occupied the full-back position. Both these players did well in these positions and Aitken's experience and ability in the full-back position meant much to the side in the hard matches which marked the close of the season.

The following players played for the 1st XV on occasion and all filled their positions very adequately: A. K. Larkin, G. H. Fifield, D. J. Reid, A. D. Lang, R. P. Sandberg, M. Rutherford and R. D. O'Neill.

v Alexandra, at home, 11th April:

This was a great start to the season. Here was fifteen-man rugby at its best and the spectators were treated to a splendid game of all-out attacking rugby. The forwards grafted very well indeed and the backs made ample use of their chances. Bestall and Healey were in great form and gave their wings many chances. Holmes scored three great tries, two of which came from runs over 60 yards. Tries were also scored by Whitelaw, Healey, Bestall, Thompson and Hogg. Aitken was in superb kicking form. He notched 20 points with two penalties and seven conversions. The Alexandra team with a young backline must be commended for the way they played the game and for not giving up when there was no hope. (44-0).

v Plumtree, at home, 18th April:

This was another excellent game. Thompson, Elliott and Hogg our loose forwards gave the Plumtree backs a torrid time and with the line in good running form Plumtree found it difficult to keep the College side out in the first half. Aitken booted over three penalties in this half. Two great tries (one converted by Aitken) were scored. In the first Aitken brought Holmes into the attack with a scissors movement. Holmes burst through and when tackled three yards short of the line passed inside to Elliott who dived over. The second try was a splendid effort. Aitken dropped out short. Bestall gathered and sent Elliott away. Bestall took a return pass and then fed Healey who drew his man before sending Whitelaw off on a storming run for the line. Half-time, 17-0.

Plumtree came back very strongly in the second half and the College defence was fully tested. Aitken, however, put College further ahead with a fine penalty. A quick heel gave Bestall a chance to break blind. He fed Holmes and the tall wing went racing up field. When challenged he found Bestall up in support and the captain scored a fine try Plumtree gave us a splendid game and kept on coining back despite a mounting score. (23-0).

v Pietermaritzburg Tech., at home, 25th April:

College soon got on top in this match and Tech. had a real problem in keeping out the fast running College backs. Tries were scored by Holmes (4), Bestall, Backhouse and Thompson and Aitken notched 12 points with his boot. The following movement is typical of the type of rugby played by the team. In the second half from a line-out on the College 25 yards Hogg passed out to Bestall who broke through the opposing line. The ball went via Healey to Thompson and to Elliott. When challenged Elliott fed Bestall who was up in support. The latter player went over for a great try near the posts. Tech. never gave up and before the game ended they had notched 3 penalties making the final score 33-9.

v Gifford Tech. (Bulawayo), at home, 28th April:

Our visitors from Rhodesia gave us a very hard game and at the end of the match the 1st XV knew they had been in a vigorous game of rugby, played in a fine spirit throughout. The Gifford pack played with a great deal of fire, but their team had no real answer to the College backs, although their defence was very sound. Holmes scored 2 tries and Bestall and Aitken one apiece. Aitken was in fine kicking form and gained 15 points with 3 penalties and 3 conversions. Three of the tries deserve to be remembered. In the first try of the match Bestall receiving the ball from a loose scrum, cut across to the open side and fed Healey. The latter player broke beautifully and sent Holmes off on a great try-scoring run. In the second half Usher at full-back put in a great run from our own 25. He put in a fine cross-kick and from the resulting ruck a line movement saw the ball reach Bestall. He broke through to score a great try. Another fine try was scored by Aitken. He received the ball from a five yard scrum and after a scissors with Healey and a dummy to Bestall he went through under the posts. Gifford never gave up trying, and deserve credit for being the first side to score

a try against College and they added a second for good measure to make the final score 27-6.

v Kearsney, at home, 2nd May:

Usher moved in to Bestall's place at centre (as the latter player was nursing an injury), and Larkin came in at full-back. Kearsney kept the game tight and there was little to enthuse over in the first half. Aitken notched a great penalty, and Buys equalised for Kearsney with a fine drop goal. Just before half-time Backhouse sent the line away. Usher broke through and fed Healey. The latter player sent Holmes over in the corner (6-3). Aitken put over another long penalty just after the resumption (9-3). Healey then short-punted towards the

Kearsney try line and Wills showing good positional play was up to score a fine try. Aitken converted (14-3). The same player, in splendid form, put over a 45-yard penalty kick. Towards the close of the game Aitken receiving the ball from a ten-yard scrum dummied to the open side and then reversed to Holmes on the blind-side. Holmes clapped on the pace and went over in the corner. Aitken goaled with a great kick to make his match tally 13 points and the final score 22-3.

v Guirea Fowl (Rhodesia), at home, 5th May:

Our visitors from Rhodesia gave us a hard game and in the first few minutes camped in our half as a result of several penalties awarded against College. However, College gradually got on top and a quick heel from a ruck enabled Bestall (back in the side) to place a short punt ahead. Holmes in full cry gathered and went over. Aitken converted. The latter player added a penalty when Guinea Fowl were penalised in front of their posts (8-0). A little later Whitelaw on the right wing gathered a kick ahead and having run strongly put in a splendid cross-kick. The College pack tore down the middle of the field in support. The ball was transferred to Backhouse who put the finishing touch to a great move. Aitken converted 13-0. In the second half Guinea Fowl resisted strongly and it was not until the 20th minute that College scored again. Anderson gave his fans something to cheer about when he put in a 30-yard run down the touch line. Larkan pounding up on his inside took the pass and scored. Aitken converted (18-0). Then Aitken, taking a gap passed out to Bestall who sent Whitelaw away on a hard run for the line (21-0).

v Voortrekker, at home, 16th May:

This was another hard game and in the first half Voortrekker's solid defence kept College at bay. Early on Aitken dummied to Bestall and passed out to Healey. This player sent Whitelaw over near the posts. Aitken converted.

Aitken then put in a fine cross which was gathered by Holmes. Elliott coming up in support took the wing's pass and forced his way through the defence. When challenged he transferred the ball back to Holmes and the tall wing scored near the corner. Voortrekker replied with a penalty (8-3). Early in the second half Holmes cross-kicked and Elliott gathered to score. Aitken converted (13-3). This player added a penalty. A clever piece of play between Healey and Bestall brought Holmes into the line on the right and his pass sent Whitelaw away on the right wing. He scored a fine try (19-6).

v Glenwood, at home, 23rd May:

This was a hard game and at times somewhat rough. Glenwood opened with a try (0-3). Aitken equalised with a penalty (3-3), then Thompson got the ball from a ruck and fed Aitken. The fly-half dummied to Healey and fed Bestall who went through for a lovely try under the posts. Aitken converted (8-3). In the second half the Glenwood full-back put over a penalty (8-6). In the 16th minute Backhouse gained the ball from a scrum on the right of the field. He sent the ball out to the open side and here Healey switched the direction of the attack and coming blind side sent Whitelaw over in the right hand corner (11-6). Through some careless play College enabled Glenwood to come back strongly and in a storming finish Glenwood scored two tries in quick succession to win the game 12-11.

v Durban High School, away, 1st June:

This game, played on the D.H.S. Founders' Day, developed into a very tight and robust game. There were no movements of any note and the spectators were treated to a forward struggle and unfortunately there was little good ball for the backs. At half-time the score was 6 all. D.H.S. went into the lead with two penalties (6-0) and Aitken goaled two penalties as well (6-6). In the second half the same fare was offered and the only of note was a great penalty kick by Aitken which gave the game to College 9-6.

v Hilton, at home, 6th iune:

This was a far more open match than that of the previous week and both sides played attractive attacking rugby. Aitken opened with a penalty (3-0). Then a quick heel gave Backhouse the chance to send Aitken away from a ruck

. Aitken fed Holmes on the left wing and in a great 30-yard run the winger threw off four defenders before scoring a magnificent try. Hilton reolied with a p enalty

(6-3). In the second half both sides attacked in turn, and Hilton went into the lead with a try and a penalty (6-9). In the 20th minute Bestall cut through the defence from the 25 (9-9). Then came a fine try. Bestall, gaining the ball (at half-way) from a set scrum put up a high-up and under. The College pack coming down in splendid support gained control and some quick hand to hand passing saw Larkan go over for a lovely try under the posts. Aitken converted (14-9).

v Michaelhouse, away, 13th June:

There was little between the two teams in the first half. Aitken goaled a brace of penalties and with Michaelhouse also booting a penalty the half-time score was 6-3. In the second half there was little of note in the first twenty minutes as both sides made little progress against tight defences. With ten minutes to go Backhouse sent the line away and Holmes went over near the corner. A nice conversion by Bestall made the score 11-3. From the kick-off a ruck developed. Aitken got the ball and kicked ahead. The forwards followed up and began an inter-passing movement which saw Strauss go over. Bestall converted (16-3). From the next kick-off the ball moved along the College line, Bestall dodged and dummied his way through several gaps, and sent Holmes over under the posts. Bestall converted (21-3). Michaelhouse replied with a penalty and finally Holmes went over after a good back-line movement (24-6).

v Glenwood, away, 25th July:

The College pack paved the way for a good victory. No doubt remembering the previous narrow defeat by Glenwood, they played with splendid determination and drive and often had the Glenwood pack moving backwards. The great display gave the College backs some fine chances. Holmes snapped up the ball between two defenders and after a long run dotted down under the posts. Aitken converted (5-0). The same player added a penalty (8-0). A ruck saw the ball travel via Backhouse, Usher (playing at fly-half) and Bestall to Healey. This player took the gap and went through for a fine try. Aitken converted (13-0). Ward (tight-head prop) fractured his leg just before half-time and was out for the remainder of the season. A sad blow.

In the second half Elliott filled the prop position and despite his inexperience did remarkably well, but inevitably the ball did not come back so cleanly and Elliott's drive from the No. 8 position was greatly missed. Nevertheless the seven forwards more than held their own. After a scrum Backhouse fed Bestall who put in a 20 yard run. When challenged he found Wills up in support and the latter player went over for a good try. Glenwood replied with a penalty (16-3). In this game Aitken played at full-back and his skill and experience enabled him to thwart Glenwood time and again.

v Durban High School, at home, 1st August:

Rutherford came into the team as tight-head prop (from hooker in the 2nd XV) in the place of the injured Ward and he fully justified the confidence placed in him. Aitken opened with a penalty (3-0). D.H.S. struck back with a try (3-3) and soon afterwards they went into a good lead when they scored a fine try under the posts (3-8). Aitken put College back into the picture with a good penalty (6-8). In the first minute of the second half Wills put in a storming run for the line and after slaking off several defenders in a 25-yard run he scored a splendid try near the posts. Aitken converted (11-8). From a ruck Backhouse fed Aitken who sent Holmes away on the wing. Holmes found Healey up in support and the latter player sent Bestall off on a spirited run along the touch-line. Bestall avoided the D.H.S. full-back to score under the posts. Aitken converted (16-8), he then added a penalty (19-8) Then in an all out attack forwards and backs combined splendidly. The ball went from Backhouse to Bestall to Elliott and at the last moment Larkan came through at great speed to score in the corner. Aitken judged the conversion beautifully (24-8). From the College point of view this was a very good game in which backs and forwards gave each other unfailing support. The forwards won a lot of good ball from the scrums and in the line-outs Wills and Larkan jumped most effectively.

Holmes suffered an ankle injury early on in the game.

v Hilton, away, 8th August:

Holmes' ankle injury unfortunately kept him out of this game and he was replaced by Reid. As had now become almost customary, Aitken goaled a penalty. This was a long-range affair from near to the touch-line. Usher then collected the ball, dummied to Bestall, shook off two defenders and then ran 15 yards to score a splendid try. Aitken's kick hit the upright (6-0). Hilton goaled an easy penalty (6-3). Healey then broke through a gap and passed inside to Rutherford. This player kicked ahead and was there to gather and score a good try (9-3). Aitken added a penalty (12-3). Just on half-time Hilton scored a try (12-6). Early in the second half Hilton closed the gap with a penalty (12-9).

College replied when Elliott gathered a ball (kicked by Bestall) and went through several defenders to score a fine try. Aitken converted (17-9). As Bestall had suffered a knee injury in an earlier tackle and with Elliott now hobbling (as a result of a severe "toffee apple") the College defence was somewhat handicapped. To their credit Hilton realised this and applied considerable pressure. Running quite freely Hilton scored two tries in a great finish and as the first of these was converted the final score was a draw (17-17).

v Michaelhouse, at home, 15th August:

A quick heel gave Usher (at fly-half) the chance to kick diagonally for the corner. Holmes moving at great speed gathered the ball very well and scored to the left of the posts (3-0). Little happened during the next fifteen minutes. Aitken then put over a long range penalty. The backs sent Whitelaw on a fine run (9-0). In the second half Aitken (full-back) came into the line and gave Bestall the chance to beat three defenders. He scored under the posts. Aitken once again proved his worth with a long range penalty (17-0). In the last few minutes a quick heel in front of the posts saw the ball spinning along the College back line. Holmes took the ball gratefully and burst through to score his twentieth try of the season. Aitken once again put over a long conversion (22-0). This was a fitting try and conversion with which to end the season because they were so typical of the type of rugby played by the 1st XV.

THE FIRST FIFTEEN PLAYERS

L. F. Usher (Blazer). Full-back. Moved to this position from fly-half in the 2nd XV (1969). Adapted himself well and used his speed, handling and kicking ability effectively. Played successfully at fly-half in the closing matches of the season.

S. E. Holmes (Honours, Natal Schools). Left Wing. Showed great purpose in attack. Used his speed and dash to score some splendid tries. When he came into the line from the blind-side he proved very difficult to stop as he cut through for the try line. His defence improved out of all recognition.

D. Bestall (School Captain, Natal Schools' Captain., Honours). A great centre in all respects and an outstanding captain. A gifted player, his great ability meant much to the side. He used his speed, change of pace, swerve, side-step and tactical kick to outwit many an opponent and his perfectly timed passes often sent Holmes, his wing, racing for the line. In defence his tackling was sure and he often turned up when needed most. To add to his attributes he could place a neat drop goal and he was no mean place kicker.

I. N. Healey (Blazer and Scarf). The team was fortunate to have this fine centre as a partner for Bestall. Dependable at all times he got on with his job quietly and well. He made some telling breaks during the season and his tackling, always most effective, often spelt ruin to ambitious and unwary opponents.

G. I. Whitelaw (Blazer). Right Wing. He had some difficulty in adjusting to this position as he was a lock forward in the 2nd XV (1969). However, he applied himself conscientiously to his training and developed into an effective wing. He used his speed and strength to score some good tries.

L. J. Aitken (Vice-Captain, Honours). Fly-half. A steady and dependable player both in attack and defence. Made some telling breaks and his tactical and line kicking were of great value. He notched 155 points during the season with his accurate boot and the total points merely serves to emphasise his great value to the side. A fine team man, he was quick to play full-back when asked to do so during the last few matches of the season. Here his experience and steadiness meant much to the side.

M. C. Backhouse (Scarf and Blazer). Scrum-half. Hard working and extremely courageous, his long steady passes meant much to his fly-half. Freed of a deep-rooted penchant for feeding his fly-half at all times, he made some telling breaks around the scrum. He backed up most effectively both in attack and defence.

J. C. Strauss (Blazer). This young player had a difficult task at loose-head prop. At first he had difficulty in helping with the hooking, but by sheer application he developed a fine understanding with Anderson. Gave useful support in the line-outs and often dredged the ball successfully from the mauls.

J. G. Anderson (Blazer). He took a little time to settle down as a hooker, but with better support he eventually more than held his own. A hard player he was always in the thick of it in the dark underworld of rucks and mauls. He gave pleasure to his supporters with some fine dashes down the line.

E. Ward (Blazer and Scarf). A courageous and hard working prop (tight-head). He never spared himself and often played himself to a standstill. A great team man, his undoubted scrumming ability gave much stability to scrums, rucks and line-outs.

N. J. Hogg (Blazer). Flanker and pack leader. In his own quiet way helped mould the pack into an effective force. As a flanker he gave of his best both in attack and defence. He did some useful work at the back of the line-out and the backs made good use of the resulting possession.

S. H. Larkan (Blazer and Scarf). Lock forward. He did some splendid work in the line-outs and often gained clean possession at No. 2. His speed enabled him to back up effectively and he had some splendid runs down the middle of the field. He locked the scrum very efficiently with Wills.

R. A. Wills (Blazer and Scarf). Lock. Coming from the 5th XV (in 1969) he developed considerably during the season and fully deserved the award of the Connie du Bois Pin as the most improved player in the team. His line-out work was quite effective. Correct positional play enabled him to score some good tries, and he did not spare himself in rucks and mauls.

G. H. Thompson (Blazer). An effective flanker, he had undoubted ability and caused opposing backs a great deal of trouble with his peeling off from scrums and line-outs. A very keen player at all times, his keenness was sometimes a source of trouble especially when referees took cognisance of the off-side rule.

M. G. Elliott (Blazer and Scarf). He abandoned the centre position (2nd XV, 1969) for the gregarious delights of pack life and developed into a No. 8 of considerable dash and quickness. His tackling was hard and effective and as a result many an opposing player came to a sudden halt when in full cry for the line

THE SECOND XV

This team did not do as well as expected, losing five of the thirteen matches played. Their form was inconsistent, and as a result they lost matches which they should not have done.

The team was captained in the early part of the season by E. C. Staley.

P. G. O'Connor then took over the captaincy with A. K. Larkin as his Vice Captain. These three players did their best to encourage a good team spirit and under their leadership the team trained hard and well. Unfortunately the side did not always respond in the matches and as a result suffered some narrow defeats.

G. H. Fifield made a very useful full-back with good hands and when called upon to do so played steadily at centre. Injury kept him out of the game for some time. A. K. Larkin was quite at home at full-back or centre, and his ability to play in both positions made him a valuable member of the side.

D. J.

Reid and M. Johnson (wings) had good seasons. Johnson showed a good turn of speed and ran with determination. Reid was sound in both attack and defence and gave of his best at all times. K. Gaze and A. G. Goble featured at centre.

Gaze, probably more at home on the wing, came into the centre position to fill a crying need. He gave of his best in every match and made a name for himself with some sound tackling. Goble came into the team as a replacement and maintained his place on sheer merit. He proved to be a quick and neat player and made some effective breaks at times.

The team was well served at half-back. At fly-half M. E. Ford made very good progress. He handled well and got his line moving smoothly. On occasion he made some telling breaks. P. Cope at scrum-half combined well with his fly-half. He showed a great deal of courage as he was often under severe pressure. Due to hard work and perseverance he developed into a sound scrum-half.

In the forwards E. C. Staley, A. D. Lang and E. R. K. McLaren shared the prop positions. Lang a very sturdy player was at his best at loose-head.

He

played a hard game at all times and spent most of his time using his undoubted scrumming ability in rucks, mauls and line-outs. Staley gave of his best in the tight and loose and did some useful work in the line-outs. McLaren forced his way into the team late in the season. Despite his height he pro ved

to be an effective tight-head prop. He was also useful in the line-outs. P. G.

O'Connor and R. D. O'Neill combined well at lock. O'Connor (more at home at No. 8) came into the lock position to fill a real need. He got through a great deal of work and was always encouraging his team to greater efforts. O'Neill used his height to advantage in the line-outs and his strength and weight did much to stabilise the scrum. With this support behind him M. Rutherford hooked successfully and backed up surprisingly well in the loose. He played the last three games as a prop in the 1st XV and did remarkably well in that position.

Four players: R. P. Sandberg, R. T. Pye, G. Furniss and G. Denny featured in the loose forward positions. Sandberg (flanker) who showed considerable promise unfortunately suffered a foot injury and was out of action for many weeks. Prior to this injury he had played so well that he had been given a game in the 1st XV but the injury mentioned above robbed him of the chance to consolidate his position in the senior team. Furniss came into the team in his place and used his chance to gain valuable experience as a flanker. This should serve him in good stead next year. Pye was a most dependable flanker. He was quick off the side of the scrum and picked up many an unconsidered tattle when the ball went loose. G. Denny made a cheerful and hard-working No. 8. He backed up well in both attack and defence. He was at his best in close support of his scrum-half and in this way made some telling breaks.

SECOND GAME RUGBY

Statistically, the Third team did not have a great season, but the standard of play was good and the keenness of the players made it certainly enjoyable.

The outstanding feature in the Fourth XV was the excellent leadership of Strater, who inspired his players and who was largely responsible for the team spirit which enabled the team to rise above themselves and play some sparkling matches.

UNDER 15A

Captain: R. Davidson Vice-Captain: J. Larkin

Matches 12 Won 12; Points for 416; Points against 20; Tries for 92.

The results indicate the type of rugby played and even though L. Sharp scored prolifically it was essentially a team effort and there was no occasion when any member did not give of his best.

The success was based on a sound and very fast pack of forwards who constantly fed good ball to the halves, from both the tight and the loose.

The

front rank of A. Grobler, T. Karg and D. Staley was solid, powerful and mobile while the locks G. Adam, P. Dove and D. Bateman, on occasion, gave the front rank all the power and stability it needed. The whole pack hunted together in the loose with B. Kjonstad (flank) usually first to the loose ball closely followed by B. Smallie and B. Dennison. Within seconds the threes were running with the good ball provided by the forwards.

R. Davidson was quick and decisive at scrum-half but the fly-half position sometimes gave cause for concern. Both G. Rubino and M. Hedley played well in this position at times. Centres Larkin and Sharp were quite devastating in attack and on the wings P. McCarthy ran with great determination and J. Nolte

(until injured) was a pleasure to watch as he made the opposition look like beginners. A. Barrow at full-back was safe and very effective in defence when it was necessary.

The depth of talent is reflected by the fact that Smallie played wing and scrum-half and was outstanding in the latter position; Davidson played fly-half once and was the best player on that day; Rubino played wing and full-back;

Hedley full-back; Dennison lock; Dove flank and Grobler lock - all with considerable distinction.

The future of College rugby lies in the hands of these boys and there should be no weaknesses with the following outstanding players: Nolte, Larkin, Sharp, Davidson, Grobler, Karg, Kjonstad and Dennison.

D.M.D

UNDER 15B

This team attempted at all times to play similar rugby to the A's and for much of the season were able to produce similar results. Their enthusiasm was unbounded and their enjoyment great as they ran the ball from all parts of the field. On occasion when injuries took their toll, matches were hard-fought, but enjoyment was still the password.

S. Hosking the captain was entirely fearless and a completely tireless hunter of the ball and but for his size would have been in the A. All other forwards gave of their best, none more than G. Hilligan (lock), R. O'Neill (flank) and P. Louw (utility player).

The threequarters were often very good, and A. Markham, P. Johnson, P

Hendrikz and hi Summers showed much promise. R. Harris at scrumhalf was better than any Under 15A scrumhalf we played against. G. Lang at full-back improved beyond recognition at the end of the season.

The following also played regularly: A. Field, P. Hendrikz, P. Strauss, A. Corbishley, A. Bester.

Both sides played attractive, attacking rugby throughout the season. This was made possible by the 'Strength of the three-quarter division and determined play amongst the forwards. Most of the B XV backs gained A team experience during the season (Anley, Lindsay, Kelly and Aitken at full-back). Other potential A team players were: Hughes, Krige, D. Nicholson, I. Nicholson, Ross, Edkins and Anderson.

Kelly and Edkins, the A and B team captains respectively, did an efficient job encouraging their teams to give their best, in a firm yet unobtrusive way.

The A team pack, although light, played best when the game was allowed to run. Human and Schwikkard in the front row were small but strong. They with Duncan at hooker and the support of Ducray and Hulbert in the second row were able to gain valuable possession of the ball. Brown and Kelly made up for their lack of speed with intelligent positioning, handling and sound defensive work. Walker, who moved from lock to eighth man towards the end of the season, gave an additional dimension to the loose forward play. Daniels, who showed promise of developing into the complete fly-half, was given fast efficient service from the base of the scrum by McNeillie. The wings, Heard and Kyle, as well as Dixon and Tennant, at centre, were fast in attack and sound on defence. The full-back Lambert was always dependable.

The two most improved players of the season were D. Nicholson, who developed into a fine attacking fly-half, and Schoeman, a lock, who had very little previous rugby experience. S.L.B.

UNDER 13A

In every match played by the A side this year the College team found itself against very much heavier and bigger opponents. That only once were the forwards not able to contain the opposition - and this an extremely efficient D.H.S. pack - and the backs able to outrun their opposite numbers, indicates the spirit and determination which marked the side's play.

Bad tackling and many handling mistakes kept the first few matches to low scores, but drill work and practice brought about great improvement, and in the last game against Clifton where the tackling was again particularly poor, the determination of the boys to improve won through.

Until an unfortunate injury, which prevented his playing in the last three games of the season, G. Rubino captained the side with great zest. His h ard

and energetic game on the flank inspired his forwards to a pattern of fast play in the loose. C. Potter (vice-captain) playing at eighth man, soon develop ed a nice sense of timing?nd positional play. The third member of the loose tri o,
T. Wimbush, one of the finest loose forwards at under 13 level for several years, was always very quick to the loose ball, and never gave any quarter in hi s attack onto an opposition mistake. His eight tries for the side were all sco red from determined and aggressive movements.

M. Brannigan, N. Deas, D. Meyer and G. Stewart made up the quartet of tight forwards. Small in stature, they never lacked fire and gained more t han their fair share of possession from the set scrums. B. Adie hooked for the side in every game and proved not only an effective player in this position but also filling most effectively the gap on the flank caused by Rubino's injury. He was a very fiery player in the loose. R. Comrie played several games for the A side

It seemed as if the under 13 age group would once again experience difficulty in finding experienced halves. It was not long however before E. Kitchen and C. McGibbon emerged as the obvious choices to fill the fly-half and scrum-half berths respectively. After a lot of practice together they developed the understanding necessary for an effective partnership, as each gained confidence, they became more and more pivots in the side's pattern of play.

D. Sole proved a useful player in the full-back position. His uncanny positional play, and his ability to be under the flight of a kicked ball was the cause of considerable frustration to the opposition sides.

N. Hendrikz and R. Dawson playing at centre and K. Tucker and D. Hodsdon who eventually filled the wing positions, formed a very effective attacking three-quarter line. If there were faults, for example, a tendency to hold on to the ball and run across the field withheld several tries - these four players showed lots of enthusiastic drive and often brought about tactical moves very successfully and courageously. N. Hendrikz, who led the three quarter line deserves special mention for his leadership.

A group that showed marked improvement in each succeeding match, that played every game to the final whistle with a determined will to win but with an ambition to play good clean rugby - this group of boys has more than co-operated. It welded together into a very worthwhile side. It has been a pleasure to coach them this season.

Results: Alexandra 14-0; Merchiston 30-3, 23-3; Pietermaritzburg Tech. 6-5;

Kearsney 6-3; Voortrekker 6-3; Glenwood 14-5, 22-3; D.H.S. 9-3, 3-19; Clifton 14-8. Points for 147; Points against 55. Played 11, won 10, lost 1.

UNDER 13B

While from the results it would appear that this side had an unsuccessful season, it must be pointed out that they were often pitted against the "A" sides from other schools, which were very competent teams. Examples of this were Estcourt, Alexandra and Kloof.

Through the season the side developed a good team spirit, and it was encouraging to see that every member always gave his best for the team, even though they were at times outplayed. Their attitude to the game and the enthusiasm which they displayed both in matches and in practice made them a pleasure to coach.

The team was ably led by Rawlins, Raw and Knobel, and other boys who played were: Lourens, Tucker, Phipson, Adie, Drew, van der Watt, Martin, Comrie, Oehley, Bigby, Barrett, Hofhuis, Hambly, Neveling, Waters, Rogers, Adams, Gobers and Hodsdon.

Results: Alexandra B 24-0. 27-0; Wartburg 6-3; Greytown Under 14B 3-9;

ANNUAL CHAMPIONSHIP SPORTS

Held on Goldstone's Ground, 19th September, 1970

Although it turned somewhat cold for the spectators in the late afternoon, the conditions for the athletes were good and this resulted in some excellent performances during the afternoon. Once again a number of records were broken - seven in the afternoon, while three had been broken in events decided previously. Of these records all but one were established in track events. This emphasizes the fact that the standard in field events is rather low - probably because there is insufficient time for the athletes to perfect their skills in these specialised events.

There was a very close struggle for the House Championship between Oxland's and Langley's. At one stage Oxland's had established a substantial lead of twenty-one points. Langley's however gradually whittled most of this away, but Oxland's finally won by 2½ points, the narrowest win ever. Holmes and Hodsdon dominated the open and under 13 events respectively to become champions of their age groups, but Beattie (under 16) and Walker (under 14) won their respective championships by very narrow margins while Larkin and Sharp tied in the under 15 group.

In the 400 metres Holmes ran exceptionally well to lower the open record by .3 second while he also broke the 200 metres record. Another athlete to establish two new times was Kyle whose time in the 300 metres was a second better than the previous best. His other record was in the 200 metres. Other record-breakers were Dinkelman (3000 metres open), Beattie (3000 metres under 16), Larkin (800 metres under 15), Daniels (1500 metres under 14), Untie (Discus under 16).

Our Guests of Honour were Mr. and Mrs. Trevor Goddard. Mr. Goddard, a former South African Cricket Captain, was one of the Republic's finest all-round cricketers.

ATHLETICS AWARDS

Honours: Holmes (Re-award), Dinkelman.

Scarf: Whitelaw.

At the beginning of the year R. Sharrock and L. Reznick were appointed as Captain and Vice-Captain of Swimming respectively, and C. Townsend undertook the duties of secretary. Swimming monitors appointed to maintain control at the swimming bath were S. Larkan (senior), S. Castle, D. Commons, B. Lindsay, K. McLaren and L. Usher.

The first quarter of the year was as usual a busy one for swimming. The friendly inter-schools galas for the A and B teams were held regularly on Saturdays while a large and enthusiastic C group held regular practices and trained for their own internal gala. The Diving group, led by L. Usher who succeeded in inculcating a very fine spirit into the group, continued to enjoy the benefit of regular coaching by Mr. Les Pearse at the open air bath, as well as taking full advantage of the three diving boards at our own bath.

At the Natal Championships gala College Boys achieved the following placings:

Boys diving, 1 metre: 1st H. Elison, 2nd A. Davidson, 3rd R.

Davidson, 4th B. Elison, 5th M. Glen-Williamson.

Men's diving, 1 metre: 1st A. Davidson, 2nd H. Elison, 3rd R. Davidson, 4th L. Usher.

Men's diving, 3 metre: 1st L. Usher.

Boys' under 16, 100 metre Freestyle: 1st M. Tonkinson.

Men's, 440 yards Freestyle: 1st L. Reznick.

Men's, 4 x 50 yards Ind. Medley: 2nd. R. Sharrock.

Men's, 100 metres Breaststroke: 3rd R. Borain.

The first of the school friendly galas was a mixed A and B team gala against St. Charles, swum on a no points basis. Some very fine swimming by the St. Charles open group provided an exciting evening's gala. Early in February Alexandra, enjoying the benefit of some fine swimming by their Provincial level swimmers beat the B team by 144 points to 109. The traditional A team quadrangular gala amongst D.H.S., King Edward, Parktown Boys' High School and the College A was held this year on the 7th February at the College bath. Tonkinson gained the only two wins for College in the Individual medley and 100 yards freestyle. One of the highlights of the gala was the open butterfly race where Thorburn and Reznick tussled for first place - with the K.E.S. swimmer emerging a clear winner in a time of 58.4 seconds. The final scores in this gala were K.E.S. 203 points, D.H.S. 153 points, Parktown 136 points and College 95 points.

The following week, College A and B teams both travelled to Estcourt to compete against Estcourt High School and Michaelhouse.

After a very enjoyable gala College A led with 183 points, to Michaelhouse 61, Estcourt 52 and College B 23.

The A team gala against Northlands on the 21st February resulted in a win for College by 163 points to 142. Northlands made full use of a strong junior squad to keep the scores close until the last relay.

Two B team galas firstly against a combined Weston/Treverton side - which College won by 199 points to 111, and then against D.H.S. B where a very close tussle ended in a win for D.H.S. by 133 points to 131, were both swum in a very fine spirit of competition.

The School Championship and Relay galas were held at the end of February this year. In this gala 8 records were broken in the 19 events. The house points at the end of the afternoon were Stalkers 46, Nathans 35, Langleys 25, Clarks 12 and Oxlands 2. The three champion swimmers qualifying for silver medal awards were: Open, R. Sharrock; Under 16, M. Tonkinson; Under 14,

W. Watson.

The inter-house team diving event took place on Thursday, 19th February. Any boy who could perform 4 basic dives - each from a different group in the International Swimming Federation table - was able to compete. Nathans won the event from Stalkers and Clarks.

The inter-house relay gala was held on Thursday, 26th February in traditionally wet gala weather. Ten of the twenty-four events were swum to new record times, the Nathans team (Sharrock and Borain) lowering the open Individual Medley record time by 14.5 seconds, while Lindsay, van Heeswyk, Summers, P. and Lang, G. swimming 4 x 50 yards Butterfly for Langley's lowered this event's record by 13.7 seconds. Final placings of the houses at the end of the gala were 1st Stalker's, 132 points; 2nd Nathan's, 111 points; 3rd Langley's, 98 points; 4th Clarks, 61 points and 5th Oxland's with 55 points. Stalker's were presented with the Hutchinson trophy for the champion house while the Porritt cup for the Under 16 champion house went to Langley's and the English cup for the Under 14 champion house was presented to Stalker's.

The Pietermaritzburg and District School's swimming and diving trials were held early in March. College boys selected for the Pietermaritzburg Schools team were: Open: R. Sharrock, L.

Reznek, R. Borain, L. Usher, G. Lang, H. Elison; Under 16: M.

Tonkinson, N. Harborth, D. Owen, P. Harris, K. Duthie, R. Davidson, R. van Straaten; Under 14: W. Watson, R. Duncan, P. Stevenson,

J. Edkins, A. Hughes, C. Lourens. These swimmers took part in the Natal Schools Gala held in Durban on Friday/Saturday, 13th and 14th March. The Natal Schools' Team selected to swim in the Inter-Provincial Gala in East London contained six College boys. At this gala L. Reznick (who captained the Natal Schools' side) swam into 2nd and 4th places in his races, R. Davidson was placed fourth in the under 15 diving, while L. Usher, M. Tonkinson, W. Watson and R. Duncan each obtained 5th places in their respective events.

For the first time College entered both its A and B teams in the Pietermaritzburg and District Inter-Schools relay gala, held this year on the 18th March. This meant that some 80 boys were able to swim for College in this gala. College A gained 23 of the first places in 27 events and 3 second places, while the B team swam extremely well to gain 2 second places, 2 third places, 4 fourth places and 5 fifth places from some strong competition from other school A teams. The final scores at this gala were: College A 133, Hilton 74, Michaelhouse 69, St. Charles 48, Alexandra 45, College B 28.

During the fourth quarter competition were mostly devoted to water polo, but the A and B teams did compete against D.H.S. and Glenwood A and B. Final results in this gala were: A teams:

D.H.S. 168, College 142, Glenwood 109; B teams: Glenwood 152,

D.H.S. 145, College 123.

The following swimming awards were made during the year:

B Team. Small white badges: Parsons, Birkett, M. Bristow, D.

Commons, N. Dales, Long, I. Perry, D. Sole, C. Mayne, Smith.

A team. Small white badges: P. Harris, B. Smith, M. Duncan,

WATER POLO

It was a generally successful season. The school team had good wins against D.H.S., Howick, Harward, Empangeni, Michaelhouse and Estcourt. College drew with Kearsney 3-3 and then lost two further games against this side 2-4, 1-3, when Kearsney played more attacking polo.

Three College players were selected for the 1970 Natal Schools team. They were S. Larkan (Capt.), R. Wills and R. Davidson.

The number of keen and able juniors augurs well for the future.

Honours were awarded to Larkan and Wills.

CANOEING

It was decided in 1970 that a canoe club should be formed at College to cater for the many boys at the school who are interested in this sport.

The first meeting of the club was attended by 30 members and Mr. Bruce Greg who was a student teacher at College kindly entertained us with a slide show and talk on his experiences of canoeing.

In 1970 we only managed one outing as a College group, when we went on the Umgeni near Albert Falls. We must thank Mr. Bruce Patterson for his help in this venture.

So far, the boys have built three canoes at College and we have plans for seven more and also a trailer to carry these.

Those members of the club who wish to do serious racing do so by courtesy of the Fezela Canoe Club and we extend to them our thanks for their help thus far.

Tennis 1970

This was not our year. The first team fared worse than anyone can recall. Five matches were lost; as many as were lost over the entire preceding fifteen years. Hilton, Michaelhouse and Kearsney all beat us; Hilton for the first time since 1953, Kearsney since 1951 and Michaelhouse, as far as can be ascertained, for the first time since the war. However, there was no despondency, and an enthusiastic, and towards the end of the year, somewhat rejuvenated team, strengthened by the inclusion of our more promising juniors, battled hard in every match.

With a promising crop of juniors in the lower school we have every hope of being back on top before long. College lost the Denness Trophy, which we had held for the last 15 years, to Kearsney. Michaelhouse came 2nd and College finished 3rd.

We were pleased to entertain a very powerful touring team from Muir College, Uitenhage, and although we were well beaten, much valuable experience was gained. The following represented College:

Denness Trophy: J. Parsons (Capt.), P. Neal, T. Schefermann, C. Metherell.

In other matches: N. Painter, R. Buntting, B. Oehley, M. Kelly, H. Player, C. Heard, C. Freyer.

Two other teams were entered in the National Under 15

Appletiser Bowl Competition, and both teams acquitted themselves well, finishing second in their respective sections.

The "A" team was: M. Kelly, H. Player, R. Harrington.

The "B" team was: N. Painter, C. Heard, R. Sobey.

A strong College Under 14 team provided some lightening of an otherwise gloomy year by regaining the Bonnefin Trophy, which was last won in 1967.

College was represented by: M. Kelly, C. Heard, C. Lourens, G. Taylor, I. Rogers, N. Kromberg.

There was a good entry in the School Championships which were won convincingly by M. Kelly, a third former. This was a memorable achievement by a player with a promising future.

Semi-Finals: J. Parsons beat T. Schefermann, 6-2, 6-4; M.

Kelly beat N. Painter, 6-2, 6-3.

Finals: M. Kelly beat J. Parsons, 6-1, 6-1.

Accommodation has again been a problem, and it would appear, will remain so for some time to come. Courts were once again hired at Kershaw Park, with the attendant problems of administration and control. Interest in the game remained high, with about 190 boys playing each week.

Inter-house Competition

Attempts were made again this year to provide a variety of activities for the cadets; and in this regard we achieved some success.

Training included fieldcraft and field exercises, patrols, a night manoeuvre, a commando course, and lectures in first aid.

Annual Inspection

It was a pleasure to welcome Col. Davies as our Guest of Honour at this year's Annual Cadet Inspection.

He commented favourably on the variety of activities presented, for in addition to the normal inspection routine, displays were given by two drill squads, ooth military and bugle bands and by the ambulance corps.

The highlight of the afternoon was the assault course planned on the banks of the 'Dusi involving a variety of obstacles including several river crossings. This was the result of many hours of work on the part of B Coy.; and apart from providing much amusement for spectators when one section disappeared into the water, the course proved an invaluable exercise to the boys concerned.

The activities culminated in a mock battle in which three platoons crossed the river and, behind smoke screens, attacked two machine-gun posts on the College Road side.

We have to thank Major Thorold and the Pietermaritzburg Commando not only for their part in the training of these cadets, but for manning the machine-gun posts on that day. Sgt. Major de Villiers also deserves special mention for the part he played.

The Bugle Band

The 1970 Band was extremely successful having once again succeeded in winning the Midlands Band Competition, which saw them through to the Administrator's Trophy Competition. Unfortunately they were once again placed second to Newcastle, who then went forward to the Inter-Command Competition. Drum Major E. Ward represented Natal at the Inter-Command Competition held in Johannesburg.

The success of the band is largely due to the keen and enthusiastic efforts of old boy David Wright who took over the band entirely despite the fact that he had study commitments. We are also extremely grateful to all those parents and other helpers who gave up a great deal of their time in preparing the uniforms, and without whose help we certainly would not have been as successful.

As in the past, the band was called upon to perform at various public functions which they did very well indeed. These included the Royal Show, a Quadrangular Athletic meeting at Pelham, and the

B.C.E.S.L. and M.O.T.H. Armistice Parades. Some of our buglers and trumpeters assisted at Eston and Alexandra High School during Memorial Services.

Finally we would like to extend special thanks to Capt. Hall, Sgt. and Mrs. Bill Wright, Dave Wright, Malcolm McKinlay and Colin Matravers for their help.

Military Band

The Military Band was unfortunate in losing many valuable 6th Form members at the end of 1969. As a result many new recruits were enlisted at the beginning of 1970, several of whom had had no musical tuition.

Despite this however, due to the untiring efforts of Mr. Jonah Jones and Capt. E. Hail, the Band had unified by the end of the year into a competent and efficient unit - performing very well indeed at a variety of functions. Among these were the St. George's Day Service in April, and performances during interval on Sports Day, at the Administrator's Trophy and at the Annual Cadet Inspection.

During November the Military Band merged with the Natal Carbineer Band at both the B.C.E.S.L. and the M.O.T.H. Armistice Parades.

It was a fitting tribute to the late Mr. E. Lamond, that the Military Band should play the hymns at his funeral in April. Mr. Lamond, long remembered by every Old Collegian for his devoted interest in the school and its pupils, was a foundation member of the Military Band in 1906.

Drill Squad

This year the drill squad was led by R. O'Neill, with E. Hosking, B. Lindsay and D. Colenbrander acting as Corporals.

From the outset in the training programme the squad went to work to learn the drills required for the competition with a great team spirit and determination. Once again those who had had a year's experience in the drill squad helped the newcomers to learn the drills.

During the year, the squad, with the guidance and help of Mrs. Castle, held a jumble sale, the funds from which were used to purchase new boots for those marching in the competition. Many and various people supported the appeal and a sum in excess of R120 was raised.

As the competition date drew nearer the tempo of practices increased and work began on the preparation of uniforms. The competition was eventually held on Pape's Ground and the College squad, although attaining a very high standard of drill work, was placed second to Harward.

After the inter-school competition the squad began rehearsal for the school Annual General Inspection. Once again it was decided to attempt some unorthodox drills in the performance. On the day the squad put up a very creditable performance including some combined quick and slow march and variations on the right form.

An innovation this year has been the formation of a junior drill squad consisting of third form volunteers who would benefit from a year's specialist training before joining the drill squad proper. This squad was in the charge of H. Antel and R. Bunting - Student

Officers, assisted by M. Johnson. This group worked on basic drills and reached a very creditable standard to be able to put on a display at the Annual General Inspection.

The following boys were members of the two drill squads:

In the Midlands Bisley the Senior Team won the following events: Rapid, Brick and Aggregate. They came second in the Deliberate and Individual Championship (W. Nel).

The Junior Team won the Deliberate, Brick and Aggregate, but were unplaced in Rapid and Individual Championship.

However, the Ptatoon failed to come up to expectations in the Natal Bisley in Durban. The best we could do was second in the Individual Championship (W. Nel).

W. Isherwood, a devoted and capable captain, and E. Antel were chosen to shoot for Natal, and both were awarded Honours.

Debating

The year 1970 was a particularly successful one for the College Debating Society. A decided improvement was evident in the general standard of debating. In addition, more interest was shown in the activities of the society, as was illustrated by greater participation from the floor.

College fared far better than usual in the Jaycee's series of debates. The College team, J. D. Colenbrander and W. U. Nel, was eliminated in the quarter-finals of the Natal zone by the Technical High School team, which went on to the National Finals in East London.

Other debates included the annual fixture against Estcourt, where the senior team successfully opposed the motion that "Apartheid is the only solution to South Africa's racial problems". The junior team lost by a narrow margin.

Further external debates were arranged with Wartburg and Epworth, both of which were won by College. Despite the strenuous efforts of the secretary, we were unable to arrange any other fixtures with girls schools.

Several internal debates took place in the course of the year. A balloon debate was held in which the characters involved ranged from Charles Fortune (Whiteley) to Twiggy (Aldous). In addition a Political Forum was organized to stimulate interest in the general election.

The third term was devoted chiefly to house debates. These were won by Oxlands, represented by Nel and Forder.

Two further events involving public speaking took place during the year. The first was the E. G. Jansen Redenaarswedstryd, an Afrikaans public speaking competition. College, represented by Colenbrander and Nel, lost to Voortrekker. Participation in this competition is a new feature in our activities.

The second event was the J. H. Hofmeyr Speech Contest, in which College was represented by M. G. Rail.

All in all, a very successful year.

On the Stage

An Unusual Modern Play

The big production in 1970 was a play which was first performed as recently as 1958. Originally in German, it was translated and ran in London in 1961. "The Fire Raisers" by Max Frisch proved to be a very suitable choice of play - unusual, interesting and very relevant to our age.

Programme Note

"Biedermann (a German Everyman) allows two suspicious characters to stay in his attic, although they quite cheerfully and openly admit that other places where they have stayed have gone up in flames. The more outrageously barefaced the fire-raisers' preparations, the more their host tries to placate them. He invites them to dinner. Apart from being successful as a simple adventure story, the play is extremely well-constructed as an allegorical indictment of man's inability to withstand even the most obvious evil and exploitation, because of his vanity and fear. There are allusions in the play which plainly refer to the dominance exerted by Nazism in Europe prior to the Second World War, but Frisch's comments are no less applicable in a wider, more general sense in the world today." Thus the programme note sums up the significance of the play.

Impact

With its Chorus of Firemen, its story of an ordinary domestic situation which gets grotesquely out of hand, realistic sound effects and dramatic lighting the play made a great impact. The sound effects, upon which so much of the atmosphere and tension depended, were remarkable. High-fidelity recordings of motor-cars, sirens!

police-dogs, and crackling flames seemed to place the Elizabeth Hall in the middle of a holocaust as the play reached its climax. A series of loud explosions, accompanied by flashes, left the audience shaken and subdued. The message of the play was effectively "felt on the pulses".

Cast

The most demanding parts were those of Biedermann, and his two lodgers, Schmitz and Eisenring - played by R. Carter, D. Erskine and D. Colenbrander respectively. All three got well into their roles and gave very pleasing performances. There were occasions when diction was lacking in clarity, but this was not a serious fault. Three girls from Girls' High School took part. Emily Dyer and Gillian Eagle as Biedermann's wife and maidservant were convincing, and the walk-on part of Widow Knechtling was taken by Lindy Roberts. The actors were supported by a hard-working and efficient backstage crew. "The Fire Raisers" was directed by Mr. J. Tindall.

Junior Play

The first part of the evening's programme consisted of three of the comedy scenes from the first part of Henry IV which formed a convenient playlet, given the name of "The Gad's Hill Robbery". The cast, drawn from forms two and three were very authentically dressed in costumes borrowed from the Natal School's Theatre Organisation, and coped quite adequately with the Shakespearean language they were encountering for the first time. Special mention must be made of P. Nicoll for his portrayal of Sir John Falstaff - a fourteen-year-old boy in the role of the aged reprobate had a difficult task, which he met with energy and success. "The Gad's Hill Robbery" was directed by Mr. J. M. Deane.

Instruction

A Circular Minute of the Education Department issued in 1966 states that "every class should have a regular library period . . . which should be devoted to instruction in the use of books and reading for a definite purpose such as subject projects, individual projects, essays, etc." Following this policy, 29 periods have been taken up each week by classes coming in to the Library. The Second Formers have been given lessons on the arrangement of the Library, the handling and treatment of books, the Dewey classification scheme, the catalogues, the periodicals, the Reference books, and methods of note-taking and summarising.

Related Work

The instruction in the technique of note-taking was followed up by setting the Third Formers a project on their setbook, "The Sword in the Stone" by T. H. White. Each boy was responsible for a topic related to the Arthurian legend and when put together the whole served as useful background material to the reading of the book. These individual topics were bound together in book form, with a Table of contents and Bibliography, and illustrations drawn by the artists in the class were included. When completed, each boy read out his work to the class, to share the information he had gathered.

Book Talks

To encourage the reading of worthwhile books by lesser-known authors (i.e. other than the regular favourites such as Willard Price, Alistair Maclean and so on) a book talk was given by each boy. These proved popular and some entertaining talks were produced. These talks were given in the Third, Fourth and Fifth Forms.

The Fourth Formers also did an assignment on their setbook, "Kim", by Rudyard Kipling. These were individual topics that had bearing on the book, and that involved the boys in research with encyclopaedias and non-fiction books, and these too were read to the class.

The Fifth Formers did assignments on poetry - the life and works of poets they had studied, and a study of an anthology other than that prescribed.

The Future

From 1971 the old method of allocating library periods for classes will be change considerably as the work of the School Library is re-planned and increased in accordance with new Education Department policy. The Library becomes a Library and Audio-Visual Resources Centre" and will be run by two teacher-librarians.

During the year the Library's picture collection has been put into order. Large packets were made and into these the pictures were sorted, and the packets arranged in Dewey classified order. This collection can provide teachers with material illustrating most school subjects, and is used to provide the material for the displays put up regularly in the Library.

Clark Library

It had been felt for some time that the large collection of books donated to the School by R. D. Clark deserved more care and attention than could be given them by the Librarian, and warranted more use than could be made of them by the schoolboys, and so it was decided to offer most of them to the University Library. Several hundred books have, however, been retained - especially those which would be of use in a school library, and those of special interest and value. There is thus still a nucleus of Clark's fine library in the school. It is planned to fill the shelves of the Clark Library bay with fiction books for the Senior boys and six easy chairs have been provided by the Education Department to make the nook more attractive and comfortable for the Sixth Formers.

Provincial Library Books

School libraries have been notified that all books from the Provincial Library Service stock are to be transferred to the stock of the school. This means the addition of nearly 700 books to our stock and these will now have to be accessioned, and catalogued.

Five monitors assisted with the issue of books. They were M. Bristow, A. J. Conning, M. John, C. Metherell and J. Radford.
