Dear Sir,

Arising out of the interview I had with you in August, I have written to the Chief Magistrate of Cape Town, requesting permission to enter the Magisterial District of Wynberg for the coming 4 Saturday mornings in order to seek a home.

However I note from press reports that the restrictions on a number of banned people have been lifted and I should very much like to know how I could, similarly, seek such redress.

It is now over a year that I have been restricted by my banning orders and my children have suffered the inevitable consequences. My not being able to attend their school functions for example, or take them where they need to go and in particular their underlying uncertainty and concern has spelled much insecurity to them. I feel that as I have opted for remaining in South Africa, s I attempted to explain to you, despite the fact that I had been issued with an exit permit, might be an indication to you of my bona fide desire to remain here as a law-abiding and ordinary person.

With regard to my employment at Pioneer Press, it seems to me from the wording of the concession granted to me that I could in fact work on the premises and that I have been working under unnecessarily severe conditions. I should be immensely obliged if you could therefore, let me have specifically worded permission to work on the premises of the factory.

I do hope that you are in a position to consider favourably these requests.
Signed: S. Forman

With regard to my employment at Pioneer Press, it seems to me from the wording of the concession granted to me that I could in fact work on the premises and that I have been working under unnecessarily adverse conditions. I should be immensely obliged if you could, therefore, let me have specifically worded permission to work on the premises of that factory.

I do hope that you are in a position to consider favourably these requests.
