Dear Sir,

Re: Joint ECA/ION Return of Skills Programme for Africa
(RESPA)

As you may be aware, the Economic Commission for Africa in collaboration with the International Organization for Migration has been implementing the Return of Skills Programme for Africa since 1985. The major objective of the programme is to redress the shortage of skilled manpower which are hampering the continents' development.

The programme endeavours to bring back to Africa the highly qualified Africans residing in Western countries through the provision of jobs and a set of benefits considered necessary for their smooth reintegration into African countries. It is my hope that the programme could benefit your country.

..... Please find enclosed herewith, copies of brochures about the programme. I should appreciate it if your government could send us your reaction to the programme.

Yours sincerely,
