two Boers who introduced themselves as captain Van Nijkerk and Van Der Walt who wanted to know about the places where ANC people stay.

One of these places they were interested to know about was where comrade Zweli stayed and this happened to be the same place of the agent.

He described and drew a sketch of the house which was at Moheni.

They told him that they wanted to attack the place but needed his collaboration to effect this plan.

He agreed to do this.

In his words, "my task would be to alert them as to where the comrades were asleep and to unlock the back door, switch off the outside light for the attack, keep irâ\200\230: touch with Richard Dlamini and break my bedroom window
