Consultation with the Treasury Department , a unit dealing with projects, advice on the CSU advances is that you let them present their offer in writing so that you can officially thank them for it and promise that you will come back to them. The objective is to make them realise that we are not going to jump to their offer simply because we are in dire need of money, but must register a silent protest to their past behaviour.

But, Comrade, at the end of it all, we will accept the offer strictly for sponsorship on technical and vocational training. If their offer extends to training even outside SA the ANC Missions should, if possible, be allowed to control the fees' because these group's politics is awkward.

Regards

Sankie
