Apartheid foes. plaii/Eas t A513 push The Tokyo representative . of the African National Congress (ANC) plans to open offices in Beijing and Seoul within a year.

In a speech Saturday marking the first anniversary of the ANCls Tokyo office, Jerry Matsila said there was increasing activity in East Asia against apartheid.

He said that during a recent trip to South Korea, opposition leaders and youth groups promised to put the issue of apartheid higher on their agenda.

As reason for opening an office in Beijing, Matsila said China was a member of the United Nations Security Council and inferntial in East Asia. A Beijing office could also have a psychological effect on Hong Kong and Taiwan, which are big trading partners with South Africa, he said.

As for Japan, Matsila said he was disturbed by the countryls Hmore dubious and confusing new policies1l toward Pretoria.

He said Tokyo appeared to be stepping up contacts with South Africa while failing to obtain self-restraint in trade. Recently Tokyo has had an increasing number of meetings with top South African officials, Matsila told a reception attended by around 250 ambassadors, trade unionists and other supporters of the anti-apartheid group. Matsila said Japanese comv panies seemed to be covering up trade with South Africa by routing it through third countries.

J apanls two-way trade with South Africa totaled $3.98 billion in 1988, down 3.5 percent from the previous year. However, Matsila said, ttTokyo will have to decrease and cut totally its trade with (South Africa) . . . before our people can regain trust in Japan."

Matsila described his efforts to raise awareness about apartheid over the past year as challenging and difficult.
