DR MANGOSUTHU Buthelezi warned Inkatha members at the weekend that it could be suicidal for black politics if they took the [z:w into their own hands â\200\230to mete out instant justice as they see it'. :

The KwaZulu Chief Minister and Inkatha president was opening the new Maphumulo Administration Offices and Court-house and Maguzu Clinic in Mpumalanga.

Dr Buthelezi referred to violence in t | Pietermaritzburg and Mpumalanga areas, and said: * have a " basic unity, created by history, which will in the end always triumph over divisive forces which come like hyenas at night to | sow misery and discord.

â\200\234Those organisations with no roots in history â\200\224 and which do not know where they came from or where they are going â\200\224 will find that Inkatha has deep resilience and a commitment to the time-honoured values of the struggle for liberation which cannot be broken.â\200\231

It had emerged, after more than a decadeâ\200\231s involvement, as the most intact and unified organisation in the black struggle. Others had disintegrated because their members had turned on each other.

â\200\230Inkathaâ\200\231s unity'is sacred to the nation. Let none destroy it. It has mechanisms for peace and structures for handling conflict which must be employed,â\200\231 he said.

â\200\230When Inkatha members take Inkathaâ\200\231s law into their own Pands to {rllete out instant justice as they see it, tÃ@rrible dangers ace us all. -

â\200\230I have seen signs of these fratricidal developments in some ! of your local conflicts. As your elected leader, all I can do is hang my head in shame, for these developments will be suicidal if we allow them to increase within the black body politic.â\200\231 |
