

The Star

Tonight!

TOP OF THE

- Dr Ruth the sex therapist is a Rivers Show" on M-Net at 6.17 to.
- "That's Hollywood" on TV4 tonight the funny men.
- On Sunday TV1 is screening the Prisoner of Zenda" at 5.20 and "I a rustic folk opera with a tragic s Weekend TV on Pages 2, 3 and 4.

Friday February 6 1987

Music contest for strings in 1988

was run down and Graham ran off to fetch a jump lead, asking his colleague to keep an eye on his horn.

Thinking the other had the instrument, the men drove off. When Graham realised the instrument had been left lying at the roadside, he dashed back but there was no sign of his 34-year-old horn.

Anyone with information should call Graham McWilliams at (011) 440-3192, or get in touch with SABC security.

Theatre takes the form of "Quondo", a play about "attempts to disorganise workers' lives in the context of township violence" performed by the Clairwood Cultural Group. Also from Natal is "The Long March", the SARMCOL workers' much talked about community play, and several praise poets performing their imbongi poetry.

A Wits Drama production "Factory Vrouens", a compilation of literary contributions by mainly Afrikaans working class been commissioned to perform "What do You Think About The Countryside Around Johannesburg?" a dance theatre piece created in collaboration with director Chris Pretorius and artist Braam Kruger.

Wits drama graduate Jeremiah Mofokeng's Soweto group the Youth Alivers have lined up "Mamela" (Listen) a medley of gumboot dance, poetry and music.

The wide choice of community oriented films, slide shows and

More by coincidence than calculated management, says Mr Italo Bernicchi of the Victory Cinema in Orange Grove, he happens this week and next to be screening "Sincerely Yours", the only film in which the late Liberace played a starring role. It was made in 1955. He plays a concert pianist.

Liberace made few other movie appearances, mainly in lesser roles, featuring in "East of Java" (1949) and "The Loved Ones" (1966).

Fuba art quest: winners named, entries go on show

Scores of entries have poured into the Fuba School of Arts for the "Creative Quest" art competition co-sponsored by the Sterns Diamond Organisation, writes Samantha James.

Two first prizes of a year's scholarship at Fuba have been won by Lovemore Sibanda and Mxolisi Maneli, and seven Delphin timepieces awarded to Vusi Zwanie, Peter Mafa, Alfred Mokoena, Nirupa Sing, Mboya Moshidi, Sybille Nagel and Fanie Matjila.

"I'm very interested in art and would like to go as far as the world can take me," said Sibanda.

Said Stephanie Mitchell of Sterns: "We shall do it again next year. We are overwhelmed at the response and the high standard of works submitted."

The entries will be on view from Sunday at 3 pm at Fuba Gallery, Woluter Street, Newtown, where an American auction will be conducted by Colin Fluxman.

"This is a very important exhibition," said Fuba curator David Koloane. "We've had entries from all race groups and ages between 15 and 70. It shows that there are people working in isolation who have never had the courage to approach a gallery."