Dear Respondent

SA OPINION-LEADERS - 1994 SURVEY

Your participation in the annual survey of the transition process in SA - the fifth such survey in a series of six - is an extremely important link in understanding the attitudes of opinion-leaders during this critical period. Most of you have already participated in this project and your continued participation is of prime importance in enabling us:

I to determine what your views are on important policy issues

I to establish a scientific representation of attitudinal changes in SA.

The project team assures you of the following:

I that replies are strictly confidential

I that you will receive a free provisional report of the results .

We realise that your work schedule is such that your time to complete questionnaires is limited. As a member of the highest policy-making body your input is very important and we therefore urge you to complete the accompanying questionnaire. The success of this project depends on your participation.

Thank you for your understanding in this regard.
