Dear Colleague:

Enclosed is Working Paper Number 14 on skills training in South Africa. We hope that you will find it useful and that some of its purposes--to foster networking and to cut down on duplication--will be realized. I regret to say that, for the first time, our printer has let us down by reproducing the alphabetical list of participating agencies backwards and am very sorry for the inconvenience to the user.

We are also enclosing an insert for Working Paper Number 13 on project funding by foreign embassies within South Africa, which was distributed in July. This entry, from the Austrian Embassy, came too late to be included in the original publication, but providing it in this way is an excellent illustration of the practicality of our loose-leaf format.

As you probably know, these working papers are made possible by private funding, for which we must submit proposals each year. We have received many letters from you attesting in a qualitative way to the value of the working papers. We need now to try to quantify for our funders the impact of the SAIE on its users.

Would you be good enough to fill out and return the enclosed sheet to me as soon as possible? It is not necessary to sign it, because we are just seeking a general idea of the ways that the information has been used and some approximate numbers associated with its use.

Thank you very much for your cooperation and best regards.

Sincerely,

Ann McKinstry Micou
