Dear Wally,

I spoke to you briefly about the possibilities of carrying out a research project on the museums in the PWV region. The aims of the project are to gather data that will be useful in formulating future museums policy and implementing such policy. A suggestion coming from the ANC's Science & Technology group is to consider building a teaching science museum in Soweto (perhaps a NASREC site).

Anyway, I have applied for financial support from the Foundation for Research and Development (FRD) and they have given me enough money to employ an honours graduate for six months. We will start work immediately, and concentrate on those PWV museums with a strong Science component in their collections, displays or research.

I will keep you informed on our progress. Temba was also very interested in the initiative, and I have just written to him about it.

Yours sincerely,

E Ok
