Minutes

The minutes of the meeting of 10 May 1993 were adopted with the following amendments:

4.1.1 Item 5.1.9, the addition of a further sentence to read "It was also agreed to request members of Technical Committees to keep in mind the concept of socially responsible fees";

4.1.2 Item 5.1.13 to read "It was agreed to defer the resubmitting of the Draft Resolution on Violence to the Negotiating Council to a later date at an appropriate time".

Matters arising out of the minutes of the meeting of 10 May 1993:

The ad hoc sub-committee (consisting of FT Mdlalose, R Meyer, C Ramaphosa and M Webb) reported on the meeting held with J Hall and A Gildenhuys from the National Peace Committee and the National Peace Secretariat. The following was noted:

i It was agreed that W Felgate, P Hatty, S Mafumadi and G Myburg would represent the peace structures (i.e. the National Peace Committee and the National Peace Secretariat) on the Technical Committee on Violence;

That submissions to the Technical Committee on Violence would be received from the National Peace Committee and the National Peace Secretariat; and

That the Technical Committee may not always be able to report back to their parent structures in detail.

Substantive Issues

5.1 Technical Committees - Receipt of first reports:

5.1.1 The Sub-Committee (consisting of M Maharaj, B Ngubane and SS van der Merwe) presented an overview of the Technical Committee reports which encompassed items such as attendance in the Technical Committees, any problems experienced by the Technical Committee, items requiring action/attention by the Negotiating Council, etc. It was further noted that all the Technical Committees had all had at least two meetings;

Hadnd

Technical Committee on Violence:

It was noted that the first report from the Technical Committee on Violence was not substantive but that the second report would be. It was agreed that the Sub-Committee, in consultation with the Technical Committee, establish a date as to when a substantive report will be received.

Technical Committee on the TEC and its Sub-Councils:

3. 1.3.1 It was noted that the initial report from the Technical Committee on the TEC and its Sub-Councils was too pro-active in its stated view of the desirability of a TEC. It was agreed that the Sub-Committee should have an informed discussion with the Technical Committee, recommending that the introduction to the report be amended accordingly.

3.1.3.2 It was further noted that only the Negotiating Council could decide on whether a TEC is needed or not and that the Technical Committee should therefore not be perceived to be pre-empting this decision of the Negotiating Council.

Technical Committee on the Independent Media Commission:

5.1.4.1 It was agreed to notify participants that whoever wished to submit inputs concerning the responsibility and objectivity of the general media (not only the electronic media), could do so.

5.14.2 It was agreed that the Sub-Committee is to submit a recommendation with regard to the possible substituting of C Noffke for B De Villiers in the IMC Technical Committee to the next meeting of the Planning Committee on Monday 17 May 1993.

Technical Committee on the Amendment or Repeal of Legislation impeding free political activity and Discriminatory Legislation:

It was agreed to recommend to this Technical Committee (via the Sub-Committee) to use the direct route as recommended in the first report (Option 1.1 of the first report). The Technical Committee would be assisted in this regard by the seconded members from the relevant justice departments, i.e. from the South African and TBVC States Department of Justice.

PLANCOMM/MINUTES/MIN 1405

J 21 May 1993

5.1.6 Technical Committee on Constitutional Issues:

5.1.6.1 It was agreed that with regard to the report on the advisability of a regional committee/commission, the Sub-Committee submit a recommendation to the next meeting of the Planning Committee on Monday 17 May 1993. The possible composition of such a committee/commission should be included within the proposed recommendation. This report would facilitate the Planning Committee to make a recommendation to the meeting of the Negotiating Council on 18 May 1993. This issue should be dealt with in the Negotiating Council after the report from the Technical Committee on Constitutional Issues.

3.1.62 It was suggested that the Sub-Committee or the Technical Committee on Constitutional Issues present to the Planning Committee an overall picture of the differing scenarios with regard to the Phases of the Transition/Negotiation Process emerging from the reports of the Technical Committees.

5.1.7 Other issues with regard to the Technical Committees:

Sukilal It was agreed that on the issue of gender in the Technical Committees, the Sub-Committee is to submit a recommendation with regard to the Technical Committees which do not have women in their composition (i.e. Constitutional Issues and IEC) to the next meeting of the Planning Committee on Monday 17 May 1993.

5:1.7.2 It was agreed that if, for any reason, it was necessary to add further members to any Technical Committees, it should be stressed that the addition of another member must not delay the work of the Technical Committee. New members should be allowed to express their views within the Technical Committee, but when reporting to the Negotiating Council, the Technical Committee should present a united view.

3.1.%.3 The Technical Committees should identify all the views and issues contained in submissions from participants that should be debated in the Negotiating Council. All Technical Committees should be mindful of the fact that they are not negotiating fora and that their reports are the basis for discussion in the Negotiating Council.

5.1.7.5

It was noted that due to time constraints, not all submissions had been considered for the initial reports, but would be considered for the second reports.

It was agreed that after this meeting, the Planning Committee meet with the Technical Committee members to thank them for their work so far and inform them of the process for structuring the presentation and discussion of the reports in the meeting of the Negotiating Council.

5.2 Structuring of the discussion of Reports from the Technical Committees in the meeting of the Negotiating Council:

5.2.1 The following process was agreed to:

32.2

5.2

It was

The reports and submissions will be couriered to all participants to reach them not later than the evening of 15 May 1993;

The reports will be tabled in the meeting of the Negotiating Council and taken as read;

Each Technical Committee will have one spokesperson who would highlight issues and/or present an overview of the report; the entire Technical Committee and the Secretary would be present when the report was presented and discussed in the Negotiating Council,

The other Technical Committee members would be able to view the proceedings of the Negotiating Council from the media overflow room;

Inputs and questions of clarity would be invited from the floor. Technical Committee members would not be required to participate in the general debate.

agreed that the Sub-Committee be mandated to prepare a document highlighting issues that require decision or guidance from the Negotiating Council as arising from the reports of the Technical Committees.

It was agreed that for all subsequent reports of the Technical Committees, an executive summary of the report should be attached.

Procedural Issues

6.1

6.2

6.3

New Participants:

6.1.1 It was agreed that only International Organisations and Embassies be granted observer status to meetings of the Negotiating Forum.

6.1.2 It was noted that letters had been sent to all new applicants. It was agreed that the responses to these letters should be processed by the Administration, forwarded to the Sub-Committee, who in turn would submit recommendations to the Planning Committee.

6.1.3 It was agreed to defer the issue of Administrations/Governments to a future meeting of the Planning Committee.

Media Arrangements:

6.2.1 The report as presented was agreed to and would be presented to the Negotiating Council.

6.2.2 It was agreed that media representatives should pay for copies of the official papers of this process. The Administration was mandated to work out the cost of the relevant documentation and make the necessary arrangements.

6.2.3 It was noted that if media representatives require copies of submissions by participants, they should contact the relevant participant.

Events surrounding J Slovo - the attempt upon his life and subsequent events:

6.3.1 It was agreed that PJ Gordhan draft a resolution for discussion at the next meeting of the Planning Committee on Monday 17 May 1993, encompassing the following issues:

- * Political Tolerance;

- " Discouraging assassinations in any way;

- * Specifically expressing solidarity with J Slovo and others in this regard;

To call on the authorities to do whatever is necessary to protect the lives of political leaders;

- * To have those known to have this intention acted against within the legal framework of South Africa;

PLANCOMM/MINUTES/MIN140S

6.3.2 With regard to the dispute about J Slovo not having been informed by the SAP about the plot to take his life, it was noted that R Meyer will make contact with the Minister of Law and Order and this issue should remain in abeyance until a meeting had been held between Mr Kriel and Mr Slovo.

Administrative and Financial Matters

7.1 Report on the meeting with the SAP:
The report as presented was agreed to.
The correspondence was noted.

It was agreed that documents for delegates and advisers be couriered to the delegates, and that delegates be requested to forward the documentation to their advisers.

It was agreed that all documentation for the meeting of the Negotiating Council be embargoed until 12h00 on Tuesday 18 May 1993.

Report to and Agenda of Negotiating Council

8.1 The agenda as amended was agreed to (see Addendum A).

8.2 It was agreed that the current Chairperson report back to the Negotiating Council on behalf of the Planning Committee where necessary.

proposals for consideration by the Planning Committee (one written proposal and two verbal).

After discussion it was agreed to submit the written report and accompanying resolution with amendments to the Negotiating Council as the recommendation from the Planning Committee. It was agreed that the Planning Committee would meet on Tuesday morning at 09h30 before the meeting of the Negotiating Council to approve the amended report and resolution.

It was agreed that participants should submit proposals with regard to the possible composition of the Commission on Regions by Thursday 17h00. The Sub-Committee would process the proposals and report back to the Planning Committee at its meeting on Monday 24 May 1993.

Recommendations with regard to the composition of the Technical Committees on Constitutional Issues and the IEC with regard to gender:

It was agreed to recommend to the Negotiating Council that Adv M Olivier be added to the Technical Committee on Constitutional Issues and that Dr F Ginwala be added to the Technical Committee on the Independent Electoral Commission.

Recommendation with regard to the possible substitution of B de Villiers by C Noffke:

It was agreed to replace B de Villiers with C Noffke in the Technical Committee on the Independent Media Commission.

New Members for Technical Committees:

It was reiterated that if, for any reason, it was necessary to add further members to any Technical Committees, it should be stressed that the addition of another member must not delay the work of the Technical Committee. New members should be allowed to express their views within the Technical Committee, but when reporting to the Negotiating Council, the Technical Committee should present a united view. Furthermore, new members in Technical Committees are not able to revisit issues in the reports of Technical Committees that have been decided upon in the Negotiating Council.

Issues arising out of the Technical Committee reports that require decisions, guidelines or referrals by the Negotiating Council:

4.5.1 A report on the issues arising out of the Technical Committee reports requiring decision, guidelines or referrals by the Negotiating Council was presented by the Sub-Committee.

4.5.2 It was suggested that the second reports of the Technical Committees be received by Friday 21 May at 09h00 .

4.5.3 It was agreed that the Technical Committee on Constitutional Issues, as a priority, look at the different scenarios emerging from submissions of participants on the constitution-making process.

4.6 Draft Resolution on Death Threats:

Due to time constraints it was agreed that the Planning Committee meet on Tuesday 18 May 1993 at 09h30 before the meeting of the Negotiating Council to deal with this issue.

3: Possible Meeting - Tuesday 18 May 1993

It was agreed that the Planning Committee meet on Tuesday 18 May 1993 at 09h30 before the meeting of the Negotiating Council to deal with any unfinished business.

PLANNING COMMITTEE REPORT ON REGIONS
TO THE MEETING OF THE NEGOTIATING COUNCIL ON 18 MAY 1993

On 7 May 1993 the Negotiating Council agreed that the Planning Committee would submit to it recommendations on the appointment, terms of reference and time frames of either a commission or a committee on regions (boundaries and functions of regions/states). The Planning Committee asked the Technical Committee on Constitutional Issues for recommendations in this regard. The recommendations of the Technical Committee were received on 14 May 1993. A copy is attached.

The Technical Committee, in its Interim Report based on submissions received to date, reported that there appeared to be broad agreement that the most suitable form of state for the future will be one which involves an allocation of powers to a central government and regional governments. The differences that exist relate essentially to the boundaries, powers and functions of the regions and the process whereby such differences may be resolved. Boundaries will be relevant to the electoral process, as well as to the structures of the Constitution. The powers and functions of regions are crucial to issues such as the form of state and self determination, and will be a fundamental part of the constitution.

The Technical Committee considered that as far as demarcation of boundaries is concerned, there seems to be a clear role for a commission, because the task is one which appropriately should be performed by a broadly based body of suitably qualified people, who will hear representations and possibly conduct public hearings. As far as powers and functions of regions are concerned, the issue could be dealt with by the Technical Committee itself, or another committee, but because of the centrality of the issue, it felt that there may be an advantage in having this issue allocated to the Commission as well.

From a broad overall perspective, three distinguishable alternative approaches to the process that will lead to a new democratic constitutional dispensation, seem to have emerged from the constitution making process:

- a) The election, as soon as possible, of a constituent assembly that will write and enact a new constitution.
- b) The seeking of agreements within the MPNP on a new constitution and the enactment of that constitution by the present Parliament.

That seeking of agreement within the MPNP on a transitional/interim constitution, the enactment by the present Parliament of that constitution, the election of a legislature under that constitution, and the formulation and enactment of a new constitution by that legislature according to predetermined constitutional principles.

PLANCOMM/DOCUMENT/COMMISS. RES
18 May 1993

Having considered and discussed the recommendations of the Technical Committee; having taken into account the way in which the negotiating process has progressed up to now and the needs of the negotiating process on the way forward; and being aware of the need for any new constitutional dispensation to be accepted as legitimate by the broadest possible spectrum of the population; the Planning Committee is of the opinion that a Commission can be of invaluable assistance to the negotiating process, irrespective of which of the three roads to a new constitution is taken. It is however recommended that at this stage of the process, a commission will be of maximum help as far as the boundaries of regions are concerned, while the more technical aspects, like powers and functions are attended to by the Technical Committee on Constitutional Matters.

P et A S

REGIONAL DEMARCATION AND RELATED ISSUES

Report to the Planning Committee: 13 May 1993

| Instructions

The Planning Committee has requested this Technical Committee to give priority to considering to the best way of addressing the issue of the demarcation of borders, functions and powers of Regions, the following alternatives being suggested as possible mechanisms for handling the matter:

o~

[\V]

the Technical Committee on Constitutional Issues;

an additional technical committee specially appointed for the purpose;
a special commission on regional government.

Introductory considerations

There appears to be broad agreement that the most suitable form of government for the future will be one which involves an allocation of powers to a central government and regional governments. The differences that exist relate essentially to the boundaries, powers and functions of the regions and the process whereby such differences may be resolved. Boundaries will be relevant to the electoral process, as well as the structures of the Constitution. The powers and functions of the regions are crucial to issues such as the form of state and selfdetermination, and will be a fundamental part of the Constitution.

As far as demarcation of boundaries is concerned, there seems to us to be a clear role for a commission. The task: is one which appropriately should be performed by a body of suitably qualified people, who will hear representations and possibly conduct public hearings. We will have our hands full in this Committee in dealing with the many issues referred to us. But apart from that, we are of the opinion that demarcation issues are more appropriately dealt with by a broadly based commission than a small technical committee.

TECHNICAL COMMITTEE ON CONSTITUTIONAL ISSUES

As far as powers and functions of regions are concerned, the issues could be dealt with by ourselves or another technical committee, but because of the centrality of the issue, there may be an advantage in having this issue allocated to the Commission as well.

The precise terms of reference of the Commission will be influenced by the views of the Negotiating Council in regard to the process of constitution making, the constitutional principle on regions, and the electoral system.

A constitutional principle on regions was developed at Codesa, but it has not yet been adopted by the Negotiating Council, and it seems to us that the principle could usefully be expanded to accord greater security to all involved, and in particular to those that have regional interests at heart. We suggest that consideration be given to whether the Codesa principle could therefore be elaborated to include the following:

The idea of a special role for regions in the formal amendment procedure of the Constitution, especially on matters affecting regions;

The concept of regional representation possibly in a Senate in the central legislature; and

A list of justiciable criteria conditioning conflicts between central and regional governments to guard against the possibility that the party or parties at the centre might exercise governmental powers for the purpose of penalising regional opponents.

It is clear from the Codesa documents that there is substantial support for an electoral system based on proportional representation, with a regional component. This, however, has not yet been debated in the Negotiating Council.

We suggest that the issues that we have raised be debated in the Negotiating Council as a matter of urgency so that the terms of reference of the Commission in so far as demarcation is concerned can be formulated, and a final decision be taken in regard to the desirability of including the issue of powers and functions of regions in the terms of reference of the Commission.

TECHNICAL COMMITTEE ON CONSTITUTIONAL (SSUES

If decisions are taken on these issues we would be able to formulate terms of reference of a Commission for consideration by the Negotiation Council. Because of the urgency of the matter, we have addressed some of the considerations that may have to be taken into account in the appointment and functioning of the Commission. These are set out below.

A Commission on Regional Government

3.1 Appointment

The Negotiating Council should seek agreement on the membership and the terms of reference of a Commission for Regional Government. Regarding the establishment of the Commission, the following alternatives may be considered:

formal appointment and instruction by proclamation in the Government Gazette; or appointment and instruction by the Negotiating Council.

3.2 Composition of the Commission

The Commission should in our view consist of ten members. The members should be persons suitably qualified for the various tasks of the Commission and be persons whose personal integrity is generally acknowledged.

The Negotiating Council could either appoint from among the members of the Commission a chairperson and vice-chairperson or such appointments could be left to the members of the Commission itself.

The Commission may, within its discretion, divide into committees for the purposes of performing its functions regarding the various elements of its terms of reference.

3.3 The Commission's Suggested Terms of Reference

3.3.1 The Commission should be required, as a matter of urgency, to make recommendations to the Negotiating Council on the delimitation of regions

developmental potential

cultural and language realities

The Commission should be required to invite all interested parties and persons to submit their views and recommendations regarding the delimitation of regions either in writing or orally on or before a date determined by the Commission.

The Commission should be instructed to submit its recommendations regarding the delimitation of regions to the Negotiating Council not later than one month after its appointment.

Depending upon the progress made in the Negotiating Council on reaching agreements regarding the structures, procedures, functions and powers of regional governments under the Constitution replacing the present constitutional dispensation, the Commission might be required, within a specified period, to submit recommendations to the Negotiating Council on such matters.

In the performance of all of its functions the Commission should be required to take cognizance of the progress made in the Negotiating Council in the formulation of agreements on constitutional matters.

The Constitution replacing the present constitutional dispensation should make special provision for the continuation, appointment, composition and terms of reference of the Commission or a similar commission, as well as for the procedures regarding the acceptance, rejection or referral of its recommendations by a constitution making body.

The terms of reference of the Commission should in terms of the Constitution replacing the present constitutional dispensation include inquiry into and the making of recommendations to a constitution making body regarding the final boundaries, powers, functions and constitutional structures of regions in the future constitutional dispensation.

4 Functioning of the Commission

4.1,

The Commission should be allowed to determine its own procedures for gathering and considering evidence, provided that evidence and representations must be gathered from all parts of the country, and that cognizance must be taken of ongoing negotiations in the Negotiating Council, which should continue notwithstanding the appointment of the Commission.

The Commission should be provided with sufficient and suitably qualified staff and resources to perform its task as expeditiously and impartially as possible.

Whereas there appears to be broad agreement that the most suitable form of government for the future will be one which involves an allocation of powers to central and regional governments, while the differences that exist relate essentially to the boundaries, powers and functions of the regions and the process whereby such differences may be resolved;

Realising that regional boundaries will be relevant to the electoral process, as well as to the structures of the Constitution;

Accepting that the powers and functions of the regions are crucial to issues such as the form of state and self-determination, and will be a fundamental part of the constitution;

Convinced that while the demarcation of boundaries is a task which appropriately should be performed by a broadly based body of suitably qualified people, who will hear representatives from the public at large and from different areas of the country, issues regarding the functions and powers of regions can at this stage of the negotiations best be dealt with by a smaller technical committee; and

Determined to ensure that we achieve a peaceful and negotiated agreement on the democratic transformation of our country within the time frames we have set for ourselves.

Hereby resolve:

That the Technical Committee on Constitutional Issues be charged with formulating as a matter of urgent priority, recommendations on the structures, powers and functions of regions, on constitutional principles and on the constitution making process.

That a Commission be appointed to make recommendations to the Negotiating Council within six weeks of its appointment, on the delimitation of regions.

That for the purpose of its recommendation the Commission should be charged to take into consideration, inter alia, the following criteria:

PLANCOMM/DOCUMENT/COMMISS. RES
18 May 1993

Historical boundaries, including provincial, magisterial and district boundaries and infrastructures.

Administrative considerations including the availability or non-availability of infrastructures and nodal points for services.

The need or otherwise to rationalise existing structures (including the TBVC States, self-governing territories and regional government).

3.4 The necessity of limiting financial and other costs as much as is reasonably possible.

3.5 The need to minimise inconvenience to the people.

3.6 The need to minimise the dislocation of services.

3.7 Demographic considerations.

3.8 Economic viability.

3.9 Developmental potential.

3.10 Cultural and language realities.

That the Commission should be required to allow interested parties and persons to submit their views and recommendations within a specified period which should not be less than one month after an invitation in this regard has been published; and that the Commission should take these into account for the purposes of formulating its recommendations.

That the Commission should also be free to take cognisance of any other material it might wish to collect for the purposes of its recommendations.

That the Commission should also for the purposes of its recommendations take cognisance of any progress made in the Negotiating Council by way of agreements on constitutional matters.

That this Council shall from time to time review the progress made towards the reaching of agreements regarding the structures, functions and powers of regional governments under the Constitution replacing the present Constitution, and consider the advisability of a Commission also being required to submit recommendations on such matters.

PLANCOMM/DOCUMENT/COMMISS.RES

18 May 1993

That the Commission should be composed of ten members agreed upon in this Council: that the members should be persons of acknowledged personal integrity and suitably qualified specifically or in general for the task assigned to the Commission; that participants be called upon to submit names of candidates to the Administration before 12h00 Friday 21 May 1993 and that the Planning Committee make a recommendation in this regard to this Council.

That the Planning Committee, with the assistance of the Technical Committee on Constitutional Issues, prepare draft Terms of Reference for the Commission for consideration by this Council.

SECOND DRAFT

PROPOSED RESOLUTION ON INTOLERANCE AND ASSASSINATIONS

This Negotiating Council, meeting at the World Trade Centre on 18 May 1993:

Notes with outrage:

1.1 The rising tide of political intolerance in South Africa;

1.2 The recent increase in actual and threatened political assassinations and violence; and is

Profoundly disturbed:

By the threats to the lives of certain political leaders taking part in the Negotiating Process, including the recently uncovered plan to assassinate the leader of a delegation in the Negotiating Council;

Believing:

That a political climate in which there is no violence, assassinations and intolerance is essential to the success of the negotiation process;

Therefore resolves to:

4.1 Express our sincere solidarity with and concern for the safety of all members of delegations;

42 Condemn the use of assassinations and other forms of political violence to resolve political differences;

Call on all to create the conditions which discourage violent attacks on political opponents and to ensure suitable legal action is taken against those contemplating assassination and similar violent acts.

NAME OF PERSON TO SERVE ON COMMISSION ON BORDERS OF REGIONS

we forward herewith the name of the person we nominate to serve on the proposed Commission on regions. She is MISS S.A. SIGCAU, a former Minister of State in Transkei.

Miss Sigcau is a seasoned former politician. She has an in-depth knowledge on the history of Transkei and of its geographic situation.
She has an interest in investigative work and has the interest of the people of the Transkei region at heart. She is very active and has an interest on matters pertaining to development generally. As a Minister of Interior, at one stage, she had to supervise elections.
She is widely read and has served on Codesa's working Group 4, It is our view that she possesses all the expertise required of a person who is to serve on the Commission.

We tender our apologies for the late submission of this name. we had to consult a number of persons before we could finalise our nomina= tion.

Individuals in our company and our Board of Directors have reacted to events in our country in the past few weeks, notably since the untimely death of a petition which states as follows:

Chris Hani by, inter alia, signing

(The words used below summarise the essence of the petition with slight variations around the specific theme.)

We, the undersigned, staff members of the Seeff Organisation condemn the murder of all innocent civilians in South Africa in the strongest possible terms.

We appeal to all involved in the political process to commit themselves to a very rapid conclusion of negotiations leading to 2 peaceful South Africa.

We, as a young, private company rededicate ourselves to the cause of peace and democracy in South Africa. We seek a climate conducive to economic growth and the creation of jobs for all.

We join our fellow countrymen in this time of mourning.

The petition was signed by over 125 staff members and we would ask that the content of this letter be conveyed to the appropriate people.

Yours faithfully

PRESENTATION TO THE MULTI-PARTY
NEGOTIATIONS COUNCIL FORUM

we, ! Rights Committee an umbrella orga i i rust to promote and ensure the protection of i South Africaâ\200\231s children , call on the multi-party negotiations participants to put the needs and rights of children first in all your deliberations and decisions because the countryâ\200\231s future depends on our children.

The National Childrenâ\200\231s Rights Committee operates in fourteen regions in South Africa and representation at regional level is from various sectors that deal with children. We believe therefore that children are easily forgotten while their plight is extremely serious to deserve special attention during this period of negotiations.

The National Childrenâ\200\231s Rights Committee has been formed to encourage programmes that assist with the SURVIVAL, PROTECTION from harm and exploitation, DEVELOPMENT of every child to his or her full potential and CHILDRENS PARTICIPATION in promoting their rights. We are in the process of completing a national multi-sectoral research into the situation of children and women which will assist in the jdentification of priority areas for intervention where children and their mothers are concerned.

The children of South Africa, under the auspices of the NCRC, wish to invite all participants at the multi-party negotiations council and forum to join them on the day the research report will be launched, June 16th, which is a significant day for South Africaâ\200\231s children, especially in SOWETO and has been declared the pay of the African child by the OAU.

The launch will take place at the Johannesburg Civic Theatre starting at 1100 am on June 16th 1993.

The launch of the report will be followed by a two day conference to disseminate information contained in the report, to begin the consensus building process on priorities and to get a commitment from all South African key players to put children FIRST in the national agenda.

The NCRC notes with interest that the South African government has signed the convention on the Rights of the Child without informing relevant role players. We also want to caution that children should not be used for party political gain while we would support the ratification of the convention by a democratic government. This will bring to fruition the beginning of a commitment which was called for by the 1987 Harare Conference on childrens rights in South Africa. i education opportunities for all children irrespective of their packground OTF gender and that prepare children for productive employment and life learning opportunities; promote the values of peace, understanding and dialogue in the community and in the education of children, so as to give children a peaceful and secure future; work for common measures for the protection of the environment at all levels, SO that all children can enjoy a safer and healthier future;

work for an economic policy that promotes economic growth while ensuringd the well-being of the most'vulnerable sectors of the population, especially children.

CONSIDERING that our children are innocent, vulnerable and dependent put also curious, active and full of hope, their time should be one of joy and peace, of playing, learning and growing.
Their future should be shaped lin harmony and gain new experiences.

HOWEVER, for the majority of children in our land the reality is very different. There is in fact a silent catastrophe among the children in South Africa with regard to:

- o 157 children in 1 000 - more first year of life, and of the fore they turn five.

DEVELOPMENT - Of the survivors, thousands drag out their lives, handicapped by disease and malnutrition, without the stable family life that is needed for emotional growth stability, and without the stimulation and basic education that are needed for their intellectual potential to be fully developed.

PROTECTION - Neither in law nor by common practice is the protection of children adequately provided for. In South Africa children are IN THE FRONT LINE in the conflict and violence. They are the most vulnerable victims of the poverty of almost half our citizens. They are often subjected to abuse through child labour neglect and prostitution (about 10 000 of them are on the streets).

We therefore reiterate our call on all participants of the multy party negotiations to put children first by giving priority on the national agenda to the right of the child to survival, protection and development.

ACCORDINGLY, we make this approach to the Multiparty negotiators to invite input from key specialist networks working with children's issues to make submissions for consideration of special needs of children. While we recognize that human rights are receiving attention we recommend that children's rights be accorded an important place in negotiations as they tend to be put on the back burner.
