EVOLUTION 15 A CONFIRMED PRINCIPLE AND THE BASIS OF MODERN SCIENCE

â\200\234... the overwhelming significance of the cheory of natural selection has been swe ment,

and the fact that it is relevant to every aspect of human life is rarely made clear.â\200

WHY THE RIGHT TO AUTONOMY IN REPRODUCTION SHOULD BE A PRIME RIGHT IN ANY BILL OF RIGHTS

It is not popular knowledge unfortunately that the evolution of human life i{s a confirmed scientific principle, like gravity or the quantum, Evolution is the very basis of science and the only confirmed explanation of all life's davelopment, i

This fact of evolution explaing why human conception is independent of will;
the procesas is in thrsl1 to {ts animal origins. Mating is an im-built directive.

Thus we cannot be effectively human until we as imdividuals have control of our own veproduction, Abertionm vights ave the hused {mpecative,

This evidence was submitted by me to the all-male parliamentary committee of 1975 set up to consider needs and meke recommendations, The Abortion & Sterilisation Act of 1975 became our present law, with e subsequent minor emendment,

That committeeâ\200\231s determinad defense of cultural prejudice built on ignorance and chauvinism resulted in twenty years of misery, ill-health, even deaths, among some four million women.# The two decades slsu had the parallel effect of allowing population growth to gain strength through the birth of untold numbers of children unwanted from conception,.....at Âç time when people like Dr. Gerald Machanick were already warning about the population explosion.

Control over reproduction should be the first enablement forged for themselves by humans on st last acquiring the scientific insight of what it really means to be different from snimals,

THIS PROJECT SUPPORTS THE RECOMMENDATIONS ALRFADY SUBMITTED TO YOU FOR ABORTION RIGHTS IN ANY BILL OF RIGHTS BY THE BLACK SASH AND ARAG NATIONAL.

% At a congservative estimate of 200 000 backstreet aboztions per year,

Statements in wy possession from some twelve winners of Nobel sciance prices and other world-known scientists attest that evolution is central 4to science.
