Black artists' mural adorns Fuba School

11 Bh 16 right

Charcoal by Johannes Phokela.

There is lots of current activity at the Fuba School of Fine Arts, writes Samantha James.

The students have just completed a mural, designed by Johannes Phokela, on the exterior of the building which is enjoying its facelift alongside the Market complex renovations.

The director Sipho Sepamla, artist and curator David Koloane and head of fine arts Durant Sithlali have all made recent trips to Paris or Nice for promotion, exhibition or study.

A book is being written by Mr Koloane and Mrs Barbara Lindopp about artist Gerard Sekota who lives in Paris and has long been a figurehead and inspiration for others in exile.

And the gallery has on view an end-of-year student exhibition. There are artworks in acrylic, mixed media, collage, silk-screen, pen and ink, and various forms of sculpture including some wonderfully manufactured wire work.

The fresh approach of all the artists is interesting and in particular some of the work of Johannes Phokela, Samuel Malitoane, Gibbs Thwala, Archie Mbuli, Osiah Masekwameng and Richard Ngubane.
